Treaty Okays Sought

Documents Sent To U. S. Senate

Washington, Nov. 15 (AP)—President Eisenhower asked the Senate today to approve treaties freeing and rearming West Germany on the side of the western powers. He said the treaties "are founded upon the profound yearning for peace" shared by peoples of the free world.

He sent the treaty documents, signed in London and Paris, to the Senate with a letter saying they represented years of work to bring independence to Germany and integration of that divided country into the western defense.

THE MEASURES would restore sovereignty to West Germany, ending the U. S.-British-French occupation. Germany also would become a member of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) and together with Italy join the 1948 Brussels Pact.

These steps, Eisenhower told the Senate, could be accomplished under the agreements "in a manner which will insure freedom and equality for the people of Germany and at the same time will avoid the danger of a revival of German militarism."

Eisenhower, apparently aiming at Russia's often expressed fears of a rearmed Germany declared:

"THE AGREEMENTS endanger no nation. On the contrary they represent one of history's first great practicable experiments in the international control of armaments."

Adding Germany and its resources to western defense will be a principal consequence, Eisenhower said. But he said he wanted to emphasize that "these agreements are founded on the profound yearning for peace which is shared by all the Atlantic peoples."

On the subject of ratification, the President declared:

"I URGE the Senate to signify its approval of this great endeavor by giving its advice and consent to ratification . . . I hope these instruments may be studied with a view to enable the Senate to act promptly on these matters when it meets for its new session in January."

The White House statement appeared almost like a reply to Russia's proposal for a great European security conference to be held in Moscow on Paris on Nov. 29. In western capitals, the

Chinese Press Calls For Retaliation in Attack on Destroyer

Taiping Is SunkbyRed PT Vessels

28 of 180 Crewmen Missing in Fight

Taipeh, Formosa, Nov. 15 (AP)—Nationalist China's press today demanded prompt retaliation for the sinking of the 1,800-ton Nationalist destroyer escort Taiping by four Red Chinese torpedo boats.

The Taiping, a former U. S. warship transferred to the Nationalists in 1946, sank with guns blazing 215 miles north of Formosa at dawn Sunday.

Twenty-eight of her 180-man crew were missing. A rescue ship picked up the others.

No Americans were believed to have been aboard.

THE SINKING, Red China's biggest naval victory in the long battle with Chiang Kai-shek's forces, marked the Communists' first use of torpedo boats and was interpreted here as a stark warning of stronger Red measures to come.

In Taipeh, top Nationalist officers conferred for hours on the incident. But there was nothing to confirm an afternoon newspaper report that "momentous decisions" had been made.

The same newspaper said flatly, but without confirmation, that plans are shaping up for massive retaliation.

AN OFFICIAL newspaper, the Chung Hau Daily News, asserted that Soviet Russia is to blame for the sinking.

Russia, the newspaper said, turned over more than 40 torpedo boats to the Chinese Reds at Tsingtao, a north China port, several months ago.

Reports on the sinking of the Taiping, formerly the USS Decker, were fragmentary. Pieced together they gave this picture:

The Taiping was on patrol, convoying a supply junk from the Nationalist-held Tachen Islands, 30 miles off the coast of Chekiang Province, to nearby Yushan Island.

Suddenly at 1:45 a. m., four torpedo boats appeared. One fired. The torpedo missed. So did several others. Later one hit the Taiping amidships, well below the water line.

Even so, the ship appears to have conducted a running battle until six hours later when she want down 12 miles out of a Tachen port she had sought to reach. Chinese press reports said she sank "with guns blazing."

RESCUE EFFORTS continued today for five officers and 23 naval rating still missing. A sister destroyer escort, the Taiho, picked up the rest of the Taiping

Manila, Nov. 15 (AP)—A vicious late-season typhoon bore down on the Philippines tonight, just a week after another lashed central Luzon killing eight, leaving thousands homeless and causing millions of dollars in property damage.

The Manila Weather Bureau said the latest typhoon, Sally, had increased in intensity to 170 miles an hour and was moving west-northwest at eight miles an hour on a 400-mile front.

Tampering With Votes Is Charged

Checkers Make Charge on Ballots

Albany, Nov. 15 (AP)—Albany county vote investigators, charging there was a broad scale "conspiracy to steal absentee ballots," demanded today that 1,412 ballots in the Nov. 2 election be disregarded in the official canvass.

Ernest B. Morris, special deputy attorney general heading the vote investigation here, said that in at least eight out of 137 election districts all absentee ballots had been counted as votes for the straight Democratic ticket.

At least 21 voters scattered through the eight districts have said they voted for Republican candidates, he added.

MORRIS ALSO obtained a State Supreme Court order placing all absentee ballots in the county under the joint guard of the city and state police. The order reinforces similar instructions from Gov. Dewey.

An official protest against counting the 1,412 absentee ballots was lodged with the Albany County Board of Elections by Robert W. Bush, an assistant attorney general in the vote investigation and the unsuccessful Republican candidate for the Assembly in Albany county's first election district.

In his protest, Bush said:

"It is believed that a thorough investigation will demonstrate that the conspiracy to steal absentee ballots and substitute spurious ballots was carried out on a broad scale."

HE SAID that "no civilian absentee and military service

Washington, Nov. 15 (AP)—Sen. McCarthy accused Sen. Watkins (R.-Utah) today of being "derelict in his duty" in saying he didn't know if anyone was at fault in the Peress case. Watkins fired back: "I don't believe you can ever be satisfied unless you can find somebody who could be shot or hung."

The two big figures in the McCarthy censure row confronted one another at a suddenly called hearing of McCarthy's investigations subcommittee.

McCARTHY SAID he scheduled it to find out whether Watkins could throw any light on who was responsible for the promotion and honorable discharge of Maj. Irving Peress, an army dentist who had refused to say whether he had Communist connections.

Budget Work Is Begun at Albany

Albany, Nov. 15 (AP)—Fiscal experts from both sides of the political fence began today to hammer out a billion-plus state budget for the 1955-56 fiscal year.

The closed hearings are to run through Nov. 24.

For the first time since 1943, Republican monetary planners are assigning to the Democrats a major role in preparation of the annual fiscal plan.

UNLESS DEMOCRAT Averell Harriman's election as governor is upset by the official vote recanvass, the major planning decisions ultimately will be made by Dean Paul Appleby of Syracuse University, whom Harriman selected yesterday to be the new state budget director.

Appleby was to represent the governor-elect throughout the hearings.

Besides the incumbent state budget director, T. Norman Hurd, and his aides, designated to attend the hearings were the majority leaders of the Republican-controlled Legislature and ranking GOP and Democratic members of the Assembly Ways and Means Committee and the Senate Finance Committee.

Reports were that they face requests from state departments that would run the 1955-56

GOP Strengthens State Defenses

Albany, Nov. 15 (AP)—Although publicly unwilling to concede the election of Democrat Averell Harriman as governor, the state's Republican forces are moving to shore up their defenses against possible assaults from the Executive Mansion next year.

Stirrings in the GOP camp over the weekend produced both fresh refusals to acknowledge Republican Sen. Irving M. Ives' Nov. 2 defeat and preparations for Harriman's inaugural.

Assembly Speaker Oswald D. Heck and Walter J. Mahoney, Senate majority leader, declared after a policy huddle yesterday that they would offer their own program, if necessary, to carry out the GOP campaign platform.

Gov. Dewey on Saturday:

1. Invited Harriman to send a special representative to the annual budget hearings, which started today.

2. Revealed he was undecided on whether to call a special session of the GOP-controlled legislature and said "nobody proposed" action to freeze Republicans in high salaried jobs.

3. Assigned an aide to dis-

Petition Is Sent About Viaduct

Corporation Counsel James J. Abernethy today forwarded to the Public Service Commission in Albany a petition for elimination of the Washington avenue viaduct.

The petition stresses that the structure, which overpasses two railroads, is obsolete, and as a hazard to modern travel, jeopardizes public safety. It proposes the re-establishment of the street at grade after elimination of the viaduct.

REDUCED TRAIN schedules on the two railroads is also noted, and the petition proposes control of traffic by safety devices at the grade crossings.

The New York Central railroad's mountain branch now operates only one train one way daily and the New York Ontario & Western branch has a schedule of a train both ways every other day, the petition notes.

THE PETITION originated through action of Mayor Frederick H. Stang and the Common

Key West, Fla., Nov. 15 — Key West, although it rapidly "shed water over the side" of the island, was still in the middle of a huge cleanup today after record-shattering weekend rains.

Thanksgiving Game at 11

Kingston High has agreed to play the traditional Thanksgiving Day football game with Newburgh Academy at 11 a. m. at Newburgh this year.

Principal Theron L. Culver said Kingston had accepted the Newburgh invitation on an "experimental basis." In the past the game was played at 2 o'clock.

Port Jervis and Middletown switched to 11 a. m. last year and public response was so enthusiastic there is little likelihood the schools will return to the 2 p. m. starting time.

MineSealed To Put Out Deep Blaze

Fifteen Presumed Dead in Tunnels

Farmington, W. Va., Nov. 15 (AP)—Beaten by deadly gas in their attempts to rescue 15 miners, or recover their bodies, somber mining men last night completed their grim task of walling up entrances of mine No. 9.

One man was dead. Fifteen were missing and presumed dead.

The Jamison Coal Co. pit was rocked by a violent explosion at 1:45 p. m. Saturday. A second about 10:45 Saturday night sent flames roaring more than 100 feet into the sky from the ventilation shaft.

A third, a sort of pouf, shook the tiny valley holding the mine about 6 o'clock Sunday evening.

THE JOB of sealing No. 9, in an effort to cut off the flow of air and smother a fire burning deep underground, was completed late last night. It will not be reopened until tests show the air inside is safe enough for rescue teams to enter.

Also closed today was James Fork Elementary School, only a few hundred yards down the valley from the mine entrance. Officials feared another explosion in the gas-filled mine or escaping gas might endanger the children.

Many of the youngsters were fatherless, or presumed so, as a result of the tragedy. A check of the official list of dead and missing showed 18 children under 18 years of age among the survivors.

ONLY THREE of the miners were not married.

Specially trained rescue crews worked their way almost a mile down the slope and into the passageways of No. 9 late Saturday. But deadly carbon monoxide fumes, the product of the fire burning somewhere deeper in the bowels of the mine, forced them back.

After three hours of conferences between company, state and federal mine bureau officials, the decision to seal was announced at 2 a. m. Sunday.

State mines chief Frank B. King, visibly moved, explained "there is just nothing else we can do." He said the action would remove any slender hope that some of the men might still be alive.

MINERS BEGAN walling up the five openings with the approval of their gruff-spoken leader, United Mine Workers chief John L. Lewis.

Lewis, who spent two hours at the scene of the tragedy Sunday, said the sealing action appeared to be the only one left. He commended officials directing the operation.

Periodically, the air in the mine will be tested through boreholes to determine when it is safe to reopen. That might take days or months.

King said: "The extent of the fire still can't be determined. Smothering of the blaze might take several days, possibly longer. But there was just no possible way to get to those men."

$100,000 Raised for Hospital Drive; Appeal Starts Today

More than $100,000 has been raised toward the Kingston Hospital Development Fund goal of $450,000, Bev. Anderson, general chairman, reported at a meeting Sunday afternoon marking the kick-off of the public appeal portion of the fund campaign.

Addressing 100 campaign leaders and workers gathered at the Nurses' Home, Anderson revealed that the industry and special gifts committees, already at work, have turned in that amount. The public appeal, beginning today, will extend over a three-week period and includes the canvassing by the men's and women's committees, the county committee and the business and professional committee.

In the principal address of the meeting, the Rev. J. Dean Dykstra, president of The Kingston Hospital Association, stressed the fact that three requisites of a good community are "good schools," "good houses of worship" and "good hospitals."

Referring to an adage among salesmen that "a good product is harder to sell," Mr. Dykstra said, "We can be thankful we have a good product." He noted the challenge that exists in the task of selling expanded hospital facilities to those who are not at the present time ill or in need of hospitalization.

THE PUBLIC RELATIONS aspect of the public appeal was emphasized in a brief talk by Allan L. Hanstein, vice president of the hospital's board of trustees. While large gifts such as those turned in by the industry and special gifts committees are needed and greatly appreciated, it is through the public appeal that the community becomes aware of the hospital and its services, and it is through the public appeal that

Appleby Is Budget Boss; Two-State Planning Cited

Harriman, Nov. 15 (AP)—Gov.-elect Averell Harriman has picked Paul H. Appleby, 63, dean of the Maxwell Graduate School of Citizenship and Public Affairs at Syracuse University, to be state budget director in the new administrator.

Selection of Appleby, who served in the New Deal and Fair Deal administrations in Washington, was announced by the Democratic-Liberal party governor-elect at a news conference yesterday at his Arden Farms estate near here.

Appleby was designated to represent Harriman at the 1955 state budget hearings starting today at Albany. His appointment as budget director is to be made when the new administration takes over Jan. 1.

Harriman announced his choice of Appleby following a luncheon at which Appleby and Gov. Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey were guests. Also at the luncheon were Mrs. Harriman, Mrs. Appleby and Robert Burkhart, executive assistant to Meyner.

Harriman and Meyner told newsmen after a closed conference that they intend to work together on mutual problems of

Transpolar Way Opens, Los Angeles to Europe

By HUBBARD KEAVY

Los Angeles, Nov. 15 (AP) — The airliner Royal Viking took off early today to inaugurate the first commercial transpolar passenger service between Los Angeles and Copenhagen, Denmark.

The Scandinavian airlines system's DC6B taxied to the International Airport runway on schedule at 12:05 a. m., PST, and became airborne at 12:22 a. m. It was the first plane to take off from the fogbound field in six hours.

Aboard are film actors Jean Hersholt and Walter Pidgeon, public officials and two dozen newsmen, including this writer.

A RECEPTION and dinner honored the passengers earlier in the evening.

At 8:10 p. m. today, a similar plane—and likewise loaded with newsmen and dignitaries — will leave Copenhagen headed west. The eastbound plane's flying time, for the 5,800-mile "short course," is 22 hours. But the westbound craft, due to prevailing westerly winds, will be in the air about 25 hours. It is due in Los Angeles at 2:20 p. m. (PST) Tuesday. There is, incidentally, a nine-hour time differential between Denmark and the Pacific coast.

Six exploratory flights by SAS established the practicability of the flight, which stops only at Winnipeg, Manitoba, in Canada

Naguib Is Under Charge Of Plot Against Nasser

Cairo, Egypt, Nov. 15 (AP)—Maj. Gen. Mohamed Naguib was in the political ashcan today following his ouster as Egypt's president by the ruling military junta. Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser, taking over as acting president yesterday, held undisputed power.

Naguib, popular hero of the 1952 revolution against ex-King Farouk, was charged with being implicated in a recent unsuccessful plot by the fanatic Moslem Brotherhood to assassinate Nasser.

A long rivalry between the two-soldier-politicians had flared into an open struggle for power last spring. Nasser emerged then as the nation's strong-man ruler. Naguib became a figurehead president.

He was unseated yesterday and placed under house arrest in a government house outside Cairo without any major outbreak of violence.

The capital remained calm today, but the atmosphere was tense.

Two civilians were killed and

Taiping Is SunkbyRed PT Vessels

28 of 180 Crewmen Missing in Fight

Taipeh, Formosa, Nov. 15 (AP)—Nationalist China's press today demanded prompt retaliation for the sinking of the 1,800-ton Nationalist destroyer escort Taiping by four Red Chinese torpedo boats.

The Taiping, a former U. S. warship transferred to the Nationalists in 1946, sank with guns blazing 215 miles north of Formosa at dawn Sunday.

Twenty-eight of her 180-man crew were missing. A rescue ship picked up the others.

No Americans were believed to have been aboard.

THE SINKING, Red China's biggest naval victory in the long battle with Chiang Kai-shek's forces, marked the Communists' first use of torpedo boats and was interpreted here as a stark warning of stronger Red measures to come.

In Taipeh, top Nationalist officers conferred for hours on the incident. But there was nothing to confirm an afternoon newspaper report that "momentous decisions" had been made.

The same newspaper said flatly, but without confirmation, that plans are shaping up for massive retaliation.

AN OFFICIAL newspaper, the Chung Hau Daily News, asserted that Soviet Russia is to blame for the sinking.

Russia, the newspaper said, turned over more than 40 torpedo boats to the Chinese Reds at Tsingtao, a north China port, several months ago.

Reports on the sinking of the Taiping, formerly the USS Decker, were fragmentary. Pieced together they gave this picture:

The Taiping was on patrol, convoying a supply junk from the Nationalist-held Tachen Islands, 30 miles off the coast of Chekiang Province, to nearby Yushan Island.

Suddenly at 1:45 a. m., four torpedo boats appeared. One fired. The torpedo missed. So did several others. Later one hit the Taiping amidships, well below the water line.

Even so, the ship appears to have conducted a running battle until six hours later when she went down 12 miles out of a Tachen port she had sought to reach. Chinese press reports said she sank "with guns blazing."

RESCUE EFFORTS continued today for five officers and 23 naval rating still missing. A sister destroyer escort, the Taiho, picked up the rest of the Taiping

$100,000 Raised for Hospital Drive; Appeal Starts Today

More than $100,000 has been raised toward the Kingston Hospital Development Fund goal of $450,000, Bev. Anderson, general chairman, reported at a meeting Sunday afternoon marking the kick-off of the public appeal portion of the fund campaign.

Addressing 100 campaign leaders and workers gathered at the Nurses' Home, Anderson revealed that the industry and special gifts committees, already at work, have turned in that amount. The public appeal, beginning today, will extend over a three-week period and includes the canvassing by the men's and women's committees, the county committee and the business and professional committee.

In the principal address of the meeting, the Rev. J. Dean Dykstra, president of The Kingston Hospital Association, stressed the fact that three requisites of a good community are "good schools," "good houses of worship" and "good hospitals."

Referring to an adage among salesmen that "a good product is harder to sell," Mr. Dykstra said, "We can be thankful we have a good product." He noted the challenge that exists in the task of selling expanded hospital facilities to those who are not at the present time ill or in need of hospitalization.

THE PUBLIC RELATIONS aspect of the public appeal was emphasized in a brief talk by Allan L. Hanstein, vice president of the hospital's board of trustees. While large gifts such as those turned in by the industry and special gifts committees are needed and greatly appreciated, it is through the public appeal that the community becomes aware of the hospital and its services, and it is through the public appeal that

By HUBBARD KEAVY

Los Angeles, Nov. 15 (AP) — The airliner Royal Viking took off early today to inaugurate the first commercial transpolar passenger service between Los Angeles and Copenhagen, Denmark.

The Scandinavian airlines system's DC6B taxied to the International Airport runway on schedule at 12:05 a. m., PST, and became airborne at 12:22 a. m. It was the first plane to take off from the fogbound field in six hours.

Aboard are film actors Jean Hersholt and Walter Pidgeon, public officials and two dozen newsmen, including this writer.

A RECEPTION and dinner honored the passengers earlier in the evening.

At 8:10 p. m. today, a similar plane—and likewise loaded with newsmen and dignitaries — will leave Copenhagen headed west. The eastbound plane's flying time, for the 5,800-mile "short course," is 22 hours. But the westbound craft, due to prevailing westerly winds, will be in the air about 25 hours. It is due in Los Angeles at 2:20 p. m. (PST) Tuesday. There is, incidentally, a nine-hour time differential between Denmark and the Pacific coast.

Six exploratory flights by SAS established the practicability of the flight, which stops only at Winnipeg, Manitoba, in Canada

Appleby Is Budget Boss; Two-State Planning Cited

Harriman, Nov. 15 (AP)—Gov.-elect Averell Harriman has picked Paul H. Appleby, 63, dean of the Maxwell Graduate School of Citizenship and Public Affairs at Syracuse University, to be state budget director in the new administrator.

Selection of Appleby, who served in the New Deal and Fair Deal administrations in Washington, was announced by the Democratic-Liberal party governor-elect at a news conference yesterday at his Arden Farms estate near here.

Appleby was designated to represent Harriman at the 1955 state budget hearings starting today at Albany. His appointment as budget director is to be made when the new administration takes over Jan. 1.

Harriman announced his choice of Appleby following a luncheon at which Appleby and Gov. Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey were guests. Also at the luncheon were Mrs. Harriman, Mrs. Appleby and Robert Burkhart, executive assistant to Meyner.

Harriman and Meyner told newsmen after a closed conference that they intend to work together on mutual problems of

Naguib Is Under Charge Of Plot Against Nasser

Cairo, Egypt, Nov. 15 (AP)—Maj. Gen. Mohamed Naguib was in the political ashcan today following his ouster as Egypt's president by the ruling military junta. Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser, taking over as acting president yesterday, held undisputed power.

Naguib, popular hero of the 1952 revolution against ex-King Farouk, was charged with being implicated in a recent unsuccessful plot by the fanatic Moslem Brotherhood to assassinate Nasser.

A long rivalry between the two-soldier-politicians had flared into an open struggle for power last spring. Nasser emerged then as the nation's strong-man ruler. Naguib became a figurehead president.

He was unseated yesterday and placed under house arrest in a government house outside Cairo without any major outbreak of violence.

The capital remained calm today, but the atmosphere was tense.

Two civilians were killed and

John McCabe, 66, Restaurant Man, Dies Here Sunday

John James McCabe, 66, who for 45 years had been identified with the grill and restaurant business of Kingston, died suddenly Sunday. Born in New York he came to Kingston 45 years ago and since had been engaged in the grill and restaurant business, first on Main street where he operated the City Hotel and later on Wall street where he conducted a bar and grill for several years prior to opening a restaurant in connection with the bar and grill about 30 years ago.

He was well-known throughout the area and had a wide circle of friends who for years had been patrons of his business. He was a member of Twaalfskjll Golf Club and was an ardent golfer, having played golf only last week. During World War 1, "Jack" as he was familiarly known to his friends, served in the United States Navy. He was a member of Kingston Post 150, American Legion; Kingston Lodge 550, BPOE, and a member of St. Joseph's Church.

Surviving is his wife, Olga McCabe; a daughter, Mrs. Patricia Gotelli, both of Kingston; a step-son, Harry Gilman of Islip, L. I., and two grandchildren. Friends may call at the W. N. Conner Funeral Home, Inc., 296 Fair street, between 3 and 5 and 7 and 9 p. m., where funeral services will be held Thursday at 8:45 a. m., and from St. Joseph's Church at 9:30 a. m., where a high Mass of requiem will be offered. Burial will be in Calvary Cemetery, Long Island City.

John T. Loughran Portrait Is Given To District Group

During the 25th annual meeting of the Federation of the Bar Associations of the Third Judicial District at the Hendrick Hudson Hotel in Troy Saturday, Judge Robert Johnson, county judge of Schoharie county, was elected president; William G. Costa of Monticello, vice-president, and Judge Eugene O'Gorman of Wurtsboro, treasurer. The next meeting will be held in Schoharie county.

The meeting was opened with an address of welcome by President Koplovitz, president of the Rensselaer County Bar Association, and Dean Clements of the Albany Law School also was a speaker. At the business session Justice Francis Bergan, associate judge of the Appellate Division, spoke of the work of the late Judge John T. Loughran, chief judge of the Court of Appeals. A portrait of Judge Loughran was presented to the State Bar Association and will be hung in the state bar association building at Albany. The portrait was accepted by Hunter L. Delatour, president of the State Bar Association.

Federal Judge James T. Foley of the U. S. District Court, Northern District, spoke on Federal Practice and Supreme Court Justice Andrew Ryan of Plattsburg spoke on Administrative Law during the session. Justices Bookstein and Taylor of the Third Judicial District, also spoke during the session.

Unpaid Hotel Bill Leads to Arrest Of Four Guests

Investigation of a report that four men left Williams Lake Hotel without paying a $5 check late Saturday night led to four arrests.

State police, furnished with a description of the automobile in which the men left, apprehended the vehicle at Boiceville and placed the driver, Roy August Spangler of Staten Island, under arrest on a petit larceny charge.

Troopers said the other three men created a disturbance while they were making the arrest, and pressed disorderly conduct charges.

Arraigned before Justice of the Peace Edward Brodsky, Spangler was fined $25 on the petit larceny charge. Fines of $10 each were imposed on Reid Biggs, Staten Island; Robert Premblay, Middlesex, Conn., and Alfred Trentalange of Staten Island, on disorderly conduct charges, troopers said.

Local CD Officials Attend Albany Test

John G. M. Hilton, assistant director of Civil Defense for the Ulster-Kingston Civil Defense area, accompanied by Roland Greene, visited Albany Friday afternoon when a "go-home" Civil Defense test was made in the downtown area of that city. After observing the test along with officials of other counties in the area, they were deeply impressed with the test.

The test "Operation Go Home" under the direction of Col. Alfred H. Jacobson of the Albany county CD, presented facts and ideas which may be incorporated in Ulster county CD programs in future tests.

Review Is Granted

Washington, Nov. 15 (AP)—Dr. John P. Peters, professor of medicine at Yale, today was granted a Supreme Court review of his dismissal from a government job on loyalty grounds. Peters was dismissed June 12, 1953 as consultant to the U. S. surgeon general after a hearing before the Civil Service Commission Loyalty Review Board. The board said there was reasonable doubt as to Peters' loyalty.

Heitz Purchases House On Main Street

Paul F. Heitz of Poughkeepsie, who has recently been appointed quality control manager of the new Kingston plant of IBM by Gavin A. Culien, general manager of the plant, has purchased a home in Kingston.

Title was passed today to Mr. and Mrs. Heitz for the property owned by E. A. Ransom of Main street for the newly constructed brick house on Sharon Lane. The sale was negotiated through the Reuter Realty Agency of Poughkeepsie, Edward Dingeldey, Kingston agent. James Matthews represented the purchaser at the closing and Roger H. Loughran the seller. N. Jansen Fowler was attorney for the Savings and Loan Association of Kingston.

Two Are Hurt In Sunday Crash

Two persons were injured about 9:45 a. m. Sunday when the automobile in which they were riding crashed through a fence and rolled over three times at Ashokan, state police reported.

Sanford Malings, 30, of 1870 Pitkin avenue, Brooklyn, listed by troopers as the driver, suffered severe lacerations in the rear of his head and on the shoulders, and a passenger, Cheryl Gelfand, 10, of 128 Junius street, Brooklyn, suffered a deep laceration of the forehead and lacerations and contusions of the scalp, troopers said.

THEY WERE TREATED at the scene by Dr. Paul LePaige of Ashokan and sent to Kingston Hospital, where they were given further treatment and released.

Malings was arrested on a charge of driving at a dangerous speed and given a summons to appear before Justice of the Peace Frank C. Carle next weekend.

Trooper William Shurter reported the automobile, owned by Julius Gelfand of Brooklyn, was proceeding west on the Onteora Trail, ran off the right shoulder for a distance of about 100 feet, then crossed the highway, broke through a fence on the property of Peter Mastrota and came to rest in a field 40 feet from the road.

A bystander told the trooper he saw the car roll over three times.

Driver Arrested By Motorist After Two-Car Accident

A driver was arrested on a public intoxication charge after a two-car collision at Broadway and McEntee street Sunday afternoon, and two other vehicles were involved in a mishap on O'Neil street early today.

Charles H. Stout of 101 South Long Beach avenue, Freeport, L. I., was arrested by Dominic Cioni, of 82 Wilson avenue, after their vehicles collided at Broadway and McEntee at about 2:14 p. m., Sunday.

Stout forfeited $10 bail through failure to appear before City Judge Mino today.

A police report said both the Cioni sedan and Stout's suburban were headed north on Broadway when they collided.

The other mishap at 6:22 a. m., today near 139 O'Neil street, was reported by Officers Thomas Tomshaw and John Frash, who said the car of William Kilmer, of 69 South Manor avenue, had been in collision with the sedan of Steve Szymanski, of 139 O'Neil street, while the latter car was parked in front of that address. Both vehicles were damaged.

Three Are Injured As Car Leaves Road

Three persons were injured when the automobile they were riding in ran off Route 9W in the town of Lloyd about 4:15 a. m. Sunday, state police of the Highland station reported.

Taken to Vassar Brothers Hospital in Poughkeepsie were Lyle Marquardt, 20, of Neenah, Wisc., Robert Mirkes, 21 of Appleton, Wisc., and Gloria D. Robinson, 20, of Arlington, troopers said. State police reported that Marquardt suffered bruises and lacerations, and that Mirkes had a fractured nose. Both of them are sailors, according to the report. Miss Robinson's injuries included a fractured leg, the troopers said.

Shed Is Damaged

The roof of a small shed in the Island Dock boatyard was damaged by fire this morning. Men and equipment from Cornell and Central stations responded to a call at 9:19 a. m. The shed is used for the storage of empty cable reels. Damage was confined largely to the roof. A call at 7:45 p. m., yesterday was for a brush fire along North street near the Dwyer brickyard.

Beating Is Reported

Police were notified Saturday that Kenneth Carlson, 6, of 57 Newkirk avenue was beaten by three other boys while on his way home from school at 11:35 a. m., Friday. The boy's mother reported that he had been beaten so badly that he was unable to return to school in the afternoon, and that he was treated by a doctor. An investigation is being made.

Hot Talk: . . .

committee last June by Secretary of the Army Stevens.

Watkins said Stevens had advised that the list included all officers involved in the Peress case.

In a hearing spattered with sharp words and caustic phrases, Watkins refused to be budged from his position that perhaps no one was "criminally culpable" for the Peress matter.

WATKINS SAID the Senate Internal Security subcommittee of which he is a member could undertake to nail down those "responsible" for the honorable discharge.

But if it did, he said, "I never could find out to satisfy you unless you could find some one who could be shot and hung."

McCarthy snapped back that "many young men will die" because of traitors. He said traitors should be "shot and hung."

McCarthy said it was "no laughing matter" when "secret masters in the military" cover up for Communists.

Watkins said: "I was not laughing and the record and the picture will so show."

..."I SHOULD PERHAPS be censured for what I am about to say," McCarthy told Watkins in stern, lecturing tones. "But a senator who represents the great state of Utah who comes here and says he does not know if some one ought to be blamed for promoting a man . . . who owes allegiance to a foreign country, a traitor to his country . . . such a senator certainly is dedelict in his duty and that is putting it very mildly."

Watkins said repeatedly that only a "jury of his peers" could convict a spy. Accusations, he said, could not convict.

He said the Peress matter "could have happened purely as a matter of mistake" and criticized what he called "a lot of charges" without the proof.

SEN. McCLELLAN of Arkansas, ranking Democrat on the investigations subcommittee, asked Watkins if he would put a motion before the internal security subcommittee to call all the 30-odd officers listed in the army report.

Watkins said he would. And McClellan said he would be glad to second that motion.

McCarthy kept repeating he was "sorry" that Watkins had "wasted our time" by testifying.

Watkins replied he had given the committee the best answer he could.

THE HEARING WAS called, McCarthy said, because the report of the censure committee, headed by Watkins, had said that Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker was not responsible for the promotion and honorable discharge of Peress and the blame should be placed "on those who are culpable."

McCarthy said the 30-odd names supplied by Stevens would not reveal the "secret master" he said is behind the handling of the Peress case. He said Watkins in effect had told McCarthy, in the censure report, that McCarthy should discover the person who was "culpable" in the Peress matter.

McCarthy said at the outset he was calling Watkins only because of the reference of Peress in the report of the censure committee, and not because "of your activities as chairman of the select committee."

He said it would be "improper" for him to ask about such activities.

Petition Is Sent

Council. The council acted upon it earlier in the year after the mayor had proposed that the corporation counsel be authorized to petition the Public Service Commission for an elimination order.

The state public works department did not include elimination of the viaduct in the city's arterial route plan, which was announced at the start of the year, but demands for its removal have been received from several sources during the past several years. The structure is more than 40 years old.

THE PETITION notes that traffic on the viaduct has "increased tremendously," through the years, that the structure is narrow, "is constructed with a turn in it," and is built in such a manner that "it affords very limited angles of sight for motorists."

The document concluded: "Your petitioner prays for an order directing that said viaduct be eliminated, and further directing that the rights of way of said railroads shall be crossed at grade by Washington avenue in said city, and further directing the share of the respective parties in the cost of the elimination, and for such other and further order as may be deemed proper."

Abernethy, some time ago, obtained assurance from O & W Railroad officials that the railroad would not oppose the application, but the other line, to date, has been noncommital.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Nov. 15 (AP)—The stock market declined today following five advances to new 25-year peaks.

The selloff in the early afternoon went to between 1 and 3 points with most losses small. There were many moderate gains, some running well past a point.

Business was quite heavy and maintained a pace right around Friday's big total of 3,720,000 shares, which was the best in nearly four years.

Volume was boosted along a great rush of trading right after the opening that caused a lag in the tape of three minutes. The congestion lasted 10 minutes.

each resident has an opportunity to participate in this project for the betterment of the community, he indicated.

Hanstein also mentioned several questions that may be asked of canvassers, including one to the effect that since it only costs $5 a day to stay in a hotel, why does it cost so much more to stay in a hospital. Hanstein pointed out that hospital rates include food—in many cases special diets; they include the cost of maintaining staff and equipment for all eventualities; highly specialized nursing care, and other items which make it "impossible" to compare the two institutions.

Frank B. Matthews, president of the Board of Trustees, expressed the board's appreciation for the work that has gone into planning and setting up the campaign, the work of the special gifts committee and industry committee, and for the willingness to work displayed by those in the public appeal.

IN REVIEWING the needs for increased facilities at the hospital, Matthews said that the area's population is certain to expand due to the Thruway, the Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge project, and the coming of new industry including the large IBM plant now under construction.

House of Mercy, a 15-minute film, sponsored by the American Hospital Association, was shown to the group. The film, taken in Princeton, N. J., but applicable to any community the size of Kingston or smaller, was obtained for use in connection with the Kingston Hospital drive through the courtesy of Dr. Elbert F. MacFadden, Jr., of the Ulster County Medical Society.

Instructions for canvassers were outlined by Harper Moulton, director, who also exhibited and explained some of the campaign literature available for workers.

THE SIX-PAYMENT pledge plan was stressed as a convenience to the contributor. Payments, which are deductible from income for tax purposes, may be made at any dates specified by the donor.

Among those introduced to the group were Morgan Ryan, chairman of the public appeal; Mrs. Thomas Reynolds, women's committee chairman; Howard C. Shurter, men's committee chairman, and co-chairman of public relations; and Robert M. Schnitzer, hospital administrator.

Other leaders in the public appeal include Abram Molyneaux, county committee chairman; Mrs. Vincent G. Connelly and John B. Wilkie, co-chairmen of the business and professional committee and George E. Yerry, Jr., labor union chairman.

The invocation for Sunday afternoon's meeting was given by the Rev. Donald Ebel, pastor of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church.

Following the business meeting, a buffet supper was served.

Drenkhan Gives Trial Testimony

Cleveland, Nov. 15 (AP) — Experimenting policemen found that a "very general description" of a man standing near murdered Marilyn Sheppard's bed could be obtained from the stairway of her home, her husband's murder trial was told today.

Village Patrolman Fred Drenkhan testified that one week after the slaying he and another policeman checked out Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard's story that he saw only a "white form" near his wife's body the night she was murdered in her bed.

DRENKHAN SAID he turned on a lamp near the bed and watched from where Sheppard said he stood. Then he had Police Sgt. Jay Hubach stand in the place of the "white form," while Drenkhan ran upstairs. He was able, he said, to distinguish the sergeant's sex and general size.

Hubach wore a white shirt in the July 11 reaenactment, he said.

The Bay Village patrolman was led throught the questioning by Thomas Parrino.

DEFENSE LAWYER William J. Corrigan immediately came back and said, "You were in an entirely different situation from Dr. Sheppard, and you knew that Sgt. Hubach was in the room and what his appearance was."

The witness admitted that this was correct.

Drenkhan also said he once heard a rumor that Sheppard, an osteopath and his personal friend, was sterile.

But he said he could not recall any policeman ever saying that Sheppard's seven-year-old son, Chip, was illegitimate.

Drenkhan finally was excused at the noon recess.

Triplets Born

the Benedictine Hospital were born July 4, 1926 to Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Schrowang, who then lived at Broadway and Cedar street. They were Joseph, Hugo and William.

Hospital statistics indicate that the birth of triplets occurs about once in every 7,000 births.

Dr. John B. Krom was the attendant at the birth of the Ryan children, and they are now under the care of Dr. Herbert B. Johnson. Reports today indicated that children and mother were "doing nicely" at the hospital.

The Ryans have two other children, Stephen Michael, who will be five years old December 8, and Sandra Jeanne, who was three years old Oct. 18.

John McCabe, 66, Restaurant Man, Dies Here Sunday

John James McCabe, 66, who for 45 years had been identified with the grill and restaurant business of Kingston, died suddenly Sunday. Born in New York he came to Kingston 45 years ago and since had been engaged in the grill and restaurant business, first on Main street where he operated the City Hotel and later on Wall street where he conducted a bar and grill for several years prior to opening a restaurant in connection with the bar and grill about 30 years ago.

He was well-known throughout the area and had a wide circle of friends who for years had been patrons of his business. He was a member of Twaalfskill Golf Club and was an ardent golfer, having played golf only last week. During World War 1, "Jack" as he was familiarly known to his friends, served in the United States Navy. He was a member of Kingston Post 150, American Legion; Kingston Lodge 550, BPOE, and a member of St. Joseph's Church.

Surviving is his wife, Olga McCabe; a daughter, Mrs. Patricia Gotelli, both of Kingston; a step-son, Harry Gilman of Islip, L. I., and two grandchildren. Friends may call at the W. N. Conner Funeral Home, Inc., 296 Fair street, between 3 and 5 and 7 and 9 p. m., where funeral services will be held Thursday at 8:45 a. m., and from St. Joseph's Church at 9:30 a. m., where a high Mass of requiem will be offered. Burial will be in Calvary Cemetery, Long Island City.

John T. Loughran Portrait Is Given To District Group

During the 25th annual meeting of the Federation of the Bar Associations of the Third Judicial District at the Hendrick Hudson Hotel in Troy Saturday, Judge Robert Johnson, county judge of Schoharie county, was elected president; William G. Costa of Monticello, vice-president, and Judge Eugene O'Gorman of Wurtsboro, treasurer. The next meeting will be held in Schoharie county.

The meeting was opened with an address of welcome by President Koplovitz, president of the Rensselaer County Bar Association, and Dean Clements of the Albany Law School also was a speaker. At the business session Justice Francis Bergan, associate judge of the Appellate Division, spoke of the work of the late Judge John T. Loughran, chief judge of the Court of Appeals. A portrait of Judge Loughran was presented to the State Bar Association and will be hung in the state bar association building at Albany. The portrait was accepted by Hunter L. Delatour, president of the State Bar Association.

Federal Judge James T. Foley of the U. S. District Court, Northern District, spoke on Federal Practice and Supreme Court Justice Andrew Ryan of Plattsburg spoke on Administrative Law during the session. Justices Bookstein and Taylor of the Third Judicial District, also spoke during the session.

Unpaid Hotel Bill Leads to Arrest Of Four Guests

Investigation of a report that four men left Williams Lake Hotel without paying a $5 check late Saturday night led to four arrests.

State police, furnished with a description of the automobile in which the men left, apprehended the vehicle at Boiceville and placed the driver, Roy August Spangler of Staten Island, under arrest on a petit larceny charge.

Troopers said the other three men created a disturbance while they were making the arrest, and pressed disorderly conduct charges.

Arraigned before Justice of the Peace Edward Brodsky, Spangler was fined $25 on the petit larceny charge. Fines of $10 each were imposed on Reid Biggs, Staten Island; Robert Premblay, Middlesex, Conn., and Alfred Trentalange of Staten Island, on disorderly conduct charges, troopers said.

Local CD Officials Attend Albany Test

John G. M. Hilton, assistant director of Civil Defense for the Ulster-Kingston Civil Defense area, accompanied by Roland Greene, visited Albany Friday afternoon when a "go-home" Civil Defense test was made in the downtown area of that city. After observing the test along with officials of other counties in the area, they were deeply impressed with the test.

The test "Operation Go Home" under the direction of Col. Alfred H. Jacobson of the Albany county CD, presented facts and ideas which may be incorporated in Ulster county CD programs in future tests.

Review Is Granted

Washington, Nov. 15 (AP)—Dr. John P. Peters, professor of medicine at Yale, today was granted a Supreme Court review of his dismissal from a government job on loyalty grounds. Peters was dismissed June 12, 1953 as consultant to the U. S. surgeon general after a hearing before the Civil Service Commission Loyalty Review Board. The board said there was reasonable doubt as to Peters' loyalty.

Heitz Purchases House On Main Street

Paul F. Heitz of Poughkeepsie, who has recently been appointed quality control manager of the new Kingston plant of IBM by Gavin A. Culien, general manager of the plant, has purchased a home in Kingston.

Title was passed today to Mr. and Mrs. Heitz for the property owned by E. A. Ransom of Main street for the newly constructed brick house on Sharon Lane. The sale was negotiated through the Reuter Realty Agency of Poughkeepsie, Edward Dingeldey, Kingston agent. James Matthews represented the purchaser at the closing and Roger H. Loughran the seller. N. Jansen Fowler was attorney for the Savings and Loan Association of Kingston.

Two Are Hurt In Sunday Crash

Two persons were injured about 9:45 a. m. Sunday when the automobile in which they were riding crashed through a fence and rolled over three times at Ashokan, state police reported.

Sanford Malings, 30, of 1870 Pitkin avenue, Brooklyn, listed by troopers as the driver, suffered severe lacerations in the rear of his head and on the shoulders, and a passenger, Cheryl Gelfand, 10, of 128 Junius street, Brooklyn, suffered a deep laceration of the forehead and lacerations and contusions of the scalp, troopers said.

THEY WERE TREATED at the scene by Dr. Paul LePaige of Ashokan and sent to Kingston Hospital, where they were given further treatment and released.

Malings was arrested on a charge of driving at a dangerous speed and given a summons to appear before Justice of the Peace Frank C. Carle next weekend.

Trooper William Shurter reported the automobile, owned by Julius Gelfand of Brooklyn, was proceeding west on the Onteora Trail, ran off the right shoulder for a distance of about 100 feet, then crossed the highway, broke through a fence on the property of Peter Mastrota and came to rest in a field 40 feet from the road.

A bystander told the trooper he saw the car roll over three times.

Driver Arrested By Motorist After Two-Car Accident

A driver was arrested on a public intoxication charge after a two-car collision at Broadway and McEntee street Sunday afternoon, and two other vehicles were involved in a mishap on O'Neil street early today.

Charles H. Stout of 101 South Long Beach avenue, Freeport, L. I., was arrested by Dominic Cioni, of 82 Wilson avenue, after their vehicles collided at Broadway and McEntee at about 2:14 p. m., Sunday.

Stout forfeited $10 bail through failure to appear before City Judge Mino today.

A police report said both the Cioni sedan and Stout's suburban were headed north on Broadway when they collided.

The other mishap at 6:22 a. m., today near 139 O'Neil street, was reported by Officers Thomas Tomshaw and John Frash, who said the car of William Kilmer, of 69 South Manor avenue, had been in collision with the sedan of Steve Szymanski, of 139 O'Neil street, while the latter car was parked in front of that address. Both vehicles were damaged.

Three Are Injured As Car Leaves Road

Three persons were injured when the automobile they were riding in ran off Route 9W in the town of Lloyd about 4:15 a. m. Sunday, state police of the Highland station reported.

Taken to Vassar Brothers Hospital in Poughkeepsie were Lyle Marquardt, 20, of Neenah, Wisc., Robert Mirkes, 21 of Appleton, Wisc., and Gloria D. Robinson, 20, of Arlington, troopers said. State police reported that Marquardt suffered bruises and lacerations, and that Mirkes had a fractured nose. Both of them are sailors, according to the report. Miss Robinson's injuries included a fractured leg, the troopers said.

Shed Is Damaged

The roof of a small shed in the Island Dock boatyard was damaged by fire this morning. Men and equipment from Cornell and Central stations responded to a call at 9:19 a. m. The shed is used for the storage of empty cable reels. Damage was confined largely to the roof. A call at 7:45 p. m., yesterday was for a brush fire along North street near the Dwyer brickyard.

Beating Is Reported

Police were notified Saturday that Kenneth Carlson, 6, of 57 Newkirk avenue was beaten by three other boys while on his way home from school at 11:35 a. m., Friday. The boy's mother reported that he had been beaten so badly that he was unable to return to school in the afternoon, and that he was treated by a doctor. An investigation is being made.

Hot Talk: . . .

committee last June by Secretary of the Army Stevens.

Watkins said Stevens had advised that the list included all officers involved in the Peress case.

In a hearing spattered with sharp words and caustic phrases, Watkins refused to be budged from his position that perhaps no one was "criminally culpable" for the Peress matter.

WATKINS SAID the Senate Internal Security subcommittee of which he is a member could undertake to nail down those "responsible" for the honorable discharge.

But if it did, he said, "I never could find out to satisfy you unless you could find some one who could be shot and hung."

McCarthy snapped back that "many young men will die" because of traitors. He said traitors should be "shot and hung."

McCarthy said it was "no laughing matter" when "secret masters in the military" cover up for Communists.

Watkins said: "I was not laughing and the record and the picture will so show."

..."I SHOULD PERHAPS be censured for what I am about to say," McCarthy told Watkins in stern, lecturing tones. "But a senator who represents the great state of Utah who comes here and says he does not know if some one ought to be blamed for promoting a man . . . who owes allegiance to a foreign country, a traitor to his country . . . such a senator certainly is dedelict in his duty and that is putting it very mildly."

Watkins said repeatedly that only a "jury of his peers" could convict a spy. Accusations, he said, could not convict.

He said the Peress matter "could have happened purely as a matter of mistake" and criticized what he called "a lot of charges" without the proof.

SEN. McCLELLAN of Arkansas, ranking Democrat on the investigations subcommittee, asked Watkins if he would put a motion before the internal security subcommittee to call all the 30-odd officers listed in the army report.

Watkins said he would. And McClellan said he would be glad to second that motion.

McCarthy kept repeating he was "sorry" that Watkins had "wasted our time" by testifying.

Watkins replied he had given the committee the best answer he could.

THE HEARING WAS called, McCarthy said, because the report of the censure committee, headed by Watkins, had said that Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker was not responsible for the promotion and honorable discharge of Peress and the blame should be placed "on those who are culpable."

McCarthy said the 30-odd names supplied by Stevens would not reveal the "secret master" he said is behind the handling of the Peress case. He said Watkins in effect had told McCarthy, in the censure report, that McCarthy should discover the person who was "culpable" in the Peress matter.

McCarthy said at the outset he was calling Watkins only because of the reference of Peress in the report of the censure committee, and not because "of your activities as chairman of the select committee."

He said it would be "improper" for him to ask about such activities.

Petition Is Sent

Council. The council acted upon it earlier in the year after the mayor had proposed that the corporation counsel be authorized to petition the Public Service Commission for an elimination order.

The state public works department did not include elimination of the viaduct in the city's arterial route plan, which was announced at the start of the year, but demands for its removal have been received from several sources during the past several years. The structure is more than 40 years old.

THE PETITION notes that traffic on the viaduct has "increased tremendously," through the years, that the structure is narrow, "is constructed with a turn in it," and is built in such a manner that "it affords very limited angles of sight for motorists."

The document concluded: "Your petitioner prays for an order directing that said viaduct be eliminated, and further directing that the rights of way of said railroads shall be crossed at grade by Washington avenue in said city, and further directing the share of the respective parties in the cost of the elimination, and for such other and further order as may be deemed proper."

Abernethy, some time ago, obtained assurance from O & W Railroad officials that the railroad would not oppose the application, but the other line, to date, has been noncommital.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Nov. 15 (AP)—The stock market declined today following five advances to new 25-year peaks.

The selloff in the early afternoon went to between 1 and 3 points with most losses small. There were many moderate gains, some running well past a point.

Volume was quite heavy and maintained a pace right around Friday's big total of 3,720,000 shares, which was the best in nearly four years.

each resident has an opportunity to participate in this project for the betterment of the community, he indicated.

Hanstein also mentioned several questions that may be asked of canvassers, including one to the effect that since it only costs $5 a day to stay in a hotel, why does it cost so much more to stay in a hospital. Hanstein pointed out that hospital rates include food—in many cases special diets; they include the cost of maintaining staff and equipment for all eventualities; highly specialized nursing care, and other items which make it "impossible" to compare the two institutions.

Frank B. Matthews, president of the Board of Trustees, expressed the board's appreciation for the work that has gone into planning and setting up the campaign, the work of the special gifts committee and industry committee, and for the willingness to work displayed by those in the public appeal.

IN REVIEWING the needs for increased facilities at the hospital, Matthews said that the area's population is certain to expand due to the Thruway, the Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge project, and the coming of new industry including the large IBM plant now under construction.

House of Mercy, a 15-minute film, sponsored by the American Hospital Association, was shown to the group. The film, taken in Princeton, N. J., but applicable to any community the size of Kingston or smaller, was obtained for use in connection with the Kingston Hospital drive through the courtesy of Dr. Elbert F. MacFadden, Jr., of the Ulster County Medical Society.

Instructions for canvassers were outlined by Harper Moulton, director, who also exhibited and explained some of the campaign literature available for workers.

THE SIX-PAYMENT pledge plan was stressed as a convenience to the contributor. Payments, which are deductible from income for tax purposes, may be made at any dates specified by the donor.

Among those introduced to the group were Morgan Ryan, chairman of the public appeal; Mrs. Thomas Reynolds, women's committee chairman; Howard C. Shurter, men's committee chairman, and co-chairman of public relations; and Robert M. Schnitzer, hospital administrator.

Other leaders in the public appeal include Abram Molyneaux, county committee chairman; Mrs. Vincent G. Connelly and John B. Wilkie, co-chairmen of the business and professional committee and George E. Yerry, Jr., labor union chairman.

The invocation for Sunday afternoon's meeting was given by the Rev. Donald Ebel, pastor of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church.

Following the business meeting, a buffet supper was served.

Drenkhan Gives Trial Testimony

Cleveland, Nov. 15 (AP) — Experimenting policemen found that a "very general description" of a man standing near murdered Marilyn Sheppard's bed could be obtained from the stairway of her home, her husband's murder trial was told today.

Village Patrolman Fred Drenkhan testified that one week after the slaying he and another policeman checked out Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard's story that he saw only a "white form" near his wife's body the night she was murdered in her bed.

DRENKHAN SAID he turned on a lamp near the bed and watched from where Sheppard said he stood. Then he had Police Sgt. Jay Hubach stand in the place of the "white form," while Drenkhan ran upstairs. He was able, he said, to distinguish the sergeant's sex and general size.

Hubach wore a white shirt in the July 11 reaenactment, he said.

The Bay Village patrolman was led throught the questioning by Thomas Parrino.

DEFENSE LAWYER William J. Corrigan immediately came back and said, "You were in an entirely different situation from Dr. Sheppard, and you knew that Sgt. Hubach was in the room and what his appearance was."

The witness admitted that this was correct.

Drenkhan also said he once heard a rumor that Sheppard, an osteopath and his personal friend, was sterile.

But he said he could not recall any policeman ever saying that Sheppard's seven-year-old son, Chip, was illegitimate.

Drenkhan finally was excused at the noon recess.

Triplets Born

the Benedictine Hospital were born July 4, 1926 to Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Schrowang, who then lived at Broadway and Cedar street. They were Joseph, Hugo and William.

Hospital statistics indicate that the birth of triplets occurs about once in every 7,000 births.

Dr. John B. Krom was the attendant at the birth of the Ryan children, and they are now under the care of Dr. Herbert B. Johnson. Reports today indicated that children and mother were "doing nicely" at the hospital.

The Ryans have two other children, Stephen Michael, who will be five years old December 8, and Sandra Jeanne, who was three years old Oct. 18.

Power Exchange Is Instituted

A high voltage switch was to permit the exchange of electric power between the systems of Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation and Rockland Light & Power Company. The new interconnection brings the Rockland Company into an existing network linking the transmission systems of Central Hudson, Niagara Mohawk Power Corporation and Consolidated Edison Company of New York.

Ernest R. Acker, president of Central Hudson, and Charles L. Hulswit, Rockland president, closed the switch while officials of both companies participated in the ceremony.

THE NEW POINT of connection is located on Sugarloaf Mountain Road in the Town of Chester where Central Hudson's 110,000 volt power line from East Walden crosses Rockland's 66,000 volt line from Middletown to Hilburn. Prior to this connection, the Rockland Company's system was integrated with the Pennsylvania-New Jersey power network. In addition, Rockland now becomes another link in the New York-New England System.

Central Hudson, in addition to the new Rockland tie-in, is interconnected at various points in its system with Niagara Mohawk, Consolidated Edison, Connecticut Power Company, New York State Electric & Gas and New Jersey Power & Light.

The Rockland company operates in Rockland county and parts of Orange and Sullivan counties.

Specifically, the transmission systems interconnection, having a capacity of 50,000 kilowatts, will provide for the interchange of power on an economy or emergency basis and will permit both companies to sell generating capacity to one another whenever it is required and available.

Acker said the tie-in is a further step in the cooperative efforts of state utility companies to provide their customers with electric power from the most economical sources. He noted that the anticipated growth of this region will demand a corresponding increase in electric power plants and transmission facilities.

"THE TIE-IN with the Rockland company," he said, "will put the utility companies in a better position to more efficiently and economically provide for this increased demand for electric power."

Representing the Central Hudson Company at the ceremony, in addition to Acker, were: John Wilkie, vice president and treasurer; Ernest E. Althouse, vice president; George H. Landis, vice president; Harris E. Dexter, vice president; J. Ernest Doolittle, assistant vice president; John Gardner, assistant vice president; and Lelan F. Sillin, Jr., assistant general manager and secretary.

Coffee Grower Tells Housewives of Plight

Washington, Nov. 15 (AP)—The coffee producing nations of Latin America are trying to convince the American housewife she should pay more for coffee.

A campaign aimed at halting a current price drop was launched yesterday by Ambassador Eduardo Zuleta Angel of Colombia.

Zuleta, himself a coffee grower, suggested housewives consider the social, political and economic aspects of coffee prices —not just the affect on the family budget.

In a press statement, Zuleta said lower coffee prices mean misery in producing nations and a corresponding boost for Communism. Also, he said, lower prices give Latin Americans less money to spend in the United States.

Announces Elks' Plan to Grant New Scholarships

Plans to increase state scholarships, both in number and cash value, by the New York State Elks Association, were outlined during a recent talk in Kingston by Daniel Becker of Newburgh, state vice-president, during his official visit to Kingston Lodge of Elks, 550.

Becker said "The Order of Elks recognizes the fact that the future of America depends upon its youth and a result we cannot and must not rest on our laurels."

He added that the State Association intends to increase the number of scholarships to be awarded to needy and worthy young men and women and to increase the cash value of these scholarships so that these boys and girls can be certain to obtain a valuable education.

BECKER POINTED OUT that during the past year of 22 scholarship awards, the East Central District sponsored three winners. Brian L. Fennelly, sponsored by Kingston Lodge, was one of the winners.

"With the help of the membership of each subordinate lodge the record of this year in the scholarship field for the coming year will be more outstanding than ever before," the state vice-president said.

Prior to his talk here, Becker was entertained at dinner by the officers and members of Kingston Lodge.

Oyster Bay Youths Shoots Self in Arm

Daniel Purcell, 19, of 50 McCoombs Lane, Oyster Bay, L. I., accidentally shot himself in the left forearm when he tripped while hunting in the woods north of Saugerties on Saturday afternoon, according to a sheriff's office report.

Purcell was taken to Kingston Hospital, where his condition today was reported as "apparently fair." He told sheriff's men that he tripped on a wire while hunting birds, and extended his left arm in an attempt to break the fall. The shotgun he was carrying accidentally discharged, according to the report. With Purcell at the time were Albert Davis, 24, and Daniel Lambertson, 18, both of East Norwich, L. I.

Mitchell Says Blacklist Made Of 20 Contractors

Cincinnati, Nov. 15 (AP)—The Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell disclosed today the government has "blacklisted" in the last fiscal year 20 building contracts who "break down hard-earned labor standards, cheat their own workers and place fair bidders at a competitive disadvantage."

He said the number of cases was five times as large as for the whole 17-year period from 1935-52.

Contractors employed on government financed jobs may be barred from federal projects for three years if they violate federal wage laws.

Mitchell told the 27th general convention of the AFL United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America in a prepared speech that his department is taking "vigorous action" against violaters.

He did not identify the blacklisted companies.

Gangster Is Slain; Linked to Narcotics

New York, Nov. 15 (AP)—Frank Callace, 54, linked with narcotics operations here and in Italy, was found shot to death, apparently the victim of a gangland slaying.

Callace's body was discovered early yesterday, slumped over the steering wheel of a car parked in the lonely Throggs Neck section of the Bronx. He had been shot twice in the head and neck from the rear seat of the auto.

From his family police learned that Callace had returned illegally to this country about 16 months ago after spending 9 years in Italy.

Police said that while in Italy he lived in Palermo and Rome. Rome, they pointed out, is the residence of Charles (Lucky) Luciano, deported vice king and alleged head of an international dope ring.

Callace was arrested numerous times before he fled to Italy and was twice convicted of bootlegging and narcotics violations. He vanished while on parole after serving 19 months for a 1943 drug conviction. At the time the Immigration Service was seeking to deport him.

The man who discovered the body told police he had heard what might have been three shots around 11 p. m., the night before. At the time, he said, he thought it was the slamming of car doors.

Javits Has No Fear of Future

New York, Nov. 15 (AP)—Rep. Jacob K. Javits, Republican attorney general-elect, says he expects no trouble in working with the new Democratic administration.

But he says that if he runs into trouble, he will go over Gov.-Elect Averell Harriman's head and appeal to the public for support.

Javits' remarks — similar to Harriman's recent comment on his relations with the Republican-controlled legislature—were made yesterday on a Citizens Union television program.

He is a member of the IBM Country Club, IBM Study Club, and the National Association of Cost Accountants.

Mr. and Mrs. Jankowski reside at 205 Downs street, Kingston. They have two children.

Civil War Veteran Marks 112th Birthday

Franklin, Tex., Nov. 15 (AP)—Walter W. Williams, the oldest of four surviving Civil War veterans, marked his 112th birthday yesterday saying he looks forward to more years in spite of failing eyesight and hearing.

The wizened little man who once foraged for Hood's Texas brigade of the Confederate Army smiled enjoyment at the party in his home and said he was glad to be starting his 113th year.

"My grandfather—in Mississippi—lived to be 119," he said, "and I might go on and top him."

Two birthday cakes, one topped with a Confederate flag, flanked the wheel chair to which he is confined. His 12 living children and others of his four generations of descendants were on hand. Williams lives quietly wth 80-year-old Ella, his wife for 60 years, a son Gene and the remnants of a once-fine pack of fox hounds on his 20-acre farm near here.

Airman Critical After Accident Near Middletown

Middletown, Nov. 15 (AP)—One of five airmen from Sampson Air Force Base, Geneva, injured Saturday night when their car plunged down a 25-foot embankment, was still in critical condition today.

Officials at Horton Memorial Hospital said Henry White, 18 of Brooklyn, was paralyzed from the chest down by a spinal injury.

Reported in fair condition were the driver, James Johnson, 23, of New York city, with a possible fractured pelvis, dislocated leg and severe cuts; Tony Curtis, 17, of Gary, Ind., multiple contusions; Bertram Harrison, 18, of Cleveland, Ohio, fractured leg and lacerations; and Louis Lickette, 18, of New York city, possible head injury.

State police said the car, headed south on a four-lane stretch of Route 17, swerved onto a grass-covered mall, and travelled some 300 feet before shooting across the highway and crashing down the embankment.

CONCRETE STREETS
...An Extra Measure of Protection!

Pedestrians and motorists both have an extra measure of protection on concrete streets. Concrete's gritty texture is uniformly skid-resistant, wet or dry, so drivers can stop quicker and more safely in emergencies, without swerving or skidding.

Concrete streets offer an extra measure of protection at night. Their light-colored surface reflects more light than other pavements. You can see farther and better on concrete whether you're walking or driving. If you can't see, you can't be safe!

So put safety first—for yourself, your family, your friends and your neighbors. Insist on concrete for your streets. You'll get an extra measure of protection, night and day, rain and shine.

"With the help of the membership of each subordinate lodge the record of this year in the scholarship field for the coming year will be more outstanding than ever before," the state vice-president said.

Prior to his talk here, Becker was entertained at dinner by the officers and members of Kingston Lodge.

Oyster Bay Youths Shoots Self in Arm

Daniel Purcell, 19, of 50 McCoombs Lane, Oyster Bay, L. I., accidentally shot himself in the left forearm when he tripped while hunting in the woods north of Saugerties on Saturday afternoon, according to a sheriff's office report.

Purcell was taken to Kingston Hospital, where his condition today was reported as "apparently fair." He told sheriff's men that he tripped on a wire while hunting birds, and extended his left arm in an attempt to break the fall. The shotgun he was carrying accidentally discharged, according to the report. With Purcell at the time were Albert Davis, 24, and Daniel Lambertson, 18, both of East Norwich, L. I.

Mitchell Says Blacklist Made Of 20 Contractors

Cincinnati, Nov. 15 (AP)—The Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell disclosed today the government has "blacklisted" in the last fiscal year 20 building contracts who "break down hard-earned labor standards, cheat their own workers and place fair bidders at a competitive disadvantage."

He said the number of cases was five times as large as for the whole 17-year period from 1935-52.

Contractors employed on government financed jobs may be barred from federal projects for three years if they violate federal wage laws.

Mitchell told the 27th general convention of the AFL United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America in a prepared speech that his department is taking "vigorous action" against violaters.

He did not identify the blacklisted companies.

Gangster Is Slain; Linked to Narcotics

New York, Nov. 15 (AP)—Frank Callace, 54, linked with narcotics operations here and in Italy, was found shot to death, apparently the victim of a gangland slaying.

Callace's body was discovered early yesterday, slumped over the steering wheel of a car parked in the lonely Throggs Neck section of the Bronx. He had been shot twice in the head and neck from the rear seat of the auto.

From his family police learned that Callace had returned illegally to this country about 16 months ago after spending 9 years in Italy.

Police said that while in Italy he lived in Palermo and Rome. Rome, they pointed out, is the residence of Charles (Lucky) Luciano, deported vice king and alleged head of an international dope ring.

Callace was arrested numerous times before he fled to Italy and was twice convicted of bootlegging and narcotics violations. He vanished while on parole after serving 19 months for a 1943 drug conviction. At the time the Immigration Service was seeking to deport him.

The man who discovered the body told police he had heard what might have been three shots around 11 p. m., the night before. At the time, he said, he thought it was the slamming of car doors.

Javits Has No Fear of Future

New York, Nov. 15 (AP)—Rep. Jacob K. Javits, Republican attorney general-elect, says he expects no trouble in working with the new Democratic administration.

But he says that if he runs into trouble, he will go over Gov.-Elect Averell Harriman's head and appeal to the public for support.

Javits' remarks — similar to Harriman's recent comment on his relations with the Republican-controlled legislature—were made yesterday on a Citizens Union television program.

Civil War Veteran Marks 112th Birthday

Franklin, Tex., Nov. 15 (AP)—Walter W. Williams, the oldest of four surviving Civil War veterans, marked his 112th birthday yesterday saying he looks forward to more years in spite of failing eyesight and hearing.

The wizened little man who once foraged for Hood's Texas brigade of the Confederate Army smiled enjoyment at the party in his home and said he was glad to be starting his 113th year.

"My grandfather—in Mississippi—lived to be 119," he said, "and I might go on and top him."

Two birthday cakes, one topped with a Confederate flag, flanked the wheel chair to which he is confined. His 12 living children and others of his four generations of descendants were on hand. Williams lives quietly wth 80-year-old Ella, his wife for 60 years, a son Gene and the remnants of a once-fine pack of fox hounds on his 20-acre farm near here.

Airman Critical After Accident Near Middletown

Middletown, Nov. 15 (AP)—One of five airmen from Sampson Air Force Base, Geneva, injured Saturday night when their car plunged down a 25-foot embankment, was still in critical condition today.

Officials at Horton Memorial Hospital said Henry White, 18 of Brooklyn, was paralyzed from the chest down by a spinal injury.

Reported in fair condition were the driver, James Johnson, 23, of New York city, with a possible fractured pelvis, dislocated leg and severe cuts; Tony Curtis, 17, of Gary, Ind., multiple contusions; Bertram Harrison, 18, of Cleveland, Ohio, fractured leg and lacerations; and Louis Lickette, 18, of New York city, possible head injury.

State police said the car, headed south on a four-lane stretch of Route 17, swerved onto a grass-covered mall, and travelled some 300 feet before shooting across the highway and crashing down the embankment.

...An Extra Measure of Protection!

Pedestrians and motorists both have an extra measure of protection on concrete streets. Concrete's gritty texture is uniformly skid-resistant, wet or dry, so drivers can stop quicker and more safely in emergencies, without swerving or skidding.

Concrete streets offer an extra measure of protection at night. Their light-colored surface reflects more light than other pavements. You can see farther and better on concrete whether you're walking or driving. If you can't see, you can't be safe!

So put safety first—for yourself, your family, your friends and your neighbors. Insist on concrete for your streets. You'll get an extra measure of protection, night and day, rain and shine.

NEW GOVERNORS AND 1956

While public attention naturally focuses on the immediate national effects of the election, the fact is that developments at the state and district level may have a very substantial impact on the events of 1956, the next presidential year.

Most important would appear to be the capture by Democrats of eight governorships formerly held by Republicans. Democrats now hold 27 governorships against 21 in GOP hands.

Thirteen of these 27 are in the solid or border South, and for the most part would not likely figure in the presidential politics of 1956. But the other 14, including the eight just picked up this fall, are held in territory which is usually the real presidential battleground.

Control of the statehouse normally means control of the state's political machinery. Lubricated by the often smooth-textured oils of patronage, this machinery can play a significant part in the nomination and election of a President.

Barring a reversal in New York through a recount, the Democrats now number among their statehouse prizes such politically potent states as New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan and Minnesota. Last year they picked off populous New Jersey.

Most of these states will go to the next Democratic convention with a fat block of delegates in their grasp. There seems little doubt they will call the turn on the party's presidential nominee. Significantly, Governor-elect Harriman of New York already has plumped for Adlai Stevenson, the 1952 choice.

Moreover, the organizational strength these statehouses may be expected to give the Democrats could prove a key factor in the 1956 fall combat against the GOP.

This does not mean that Democratic success this time at the state level presages Democratic capture of the White House next time. It just means that on paper the Democrats are better fixed for a fight.

Winning eight GOP-held governorships also will bring a good deal of new blood into Democratic ranks. Some of the winners may make reputations for themselves which will mark them as prospects for higher things. In the past, governorships many times have served as recruiting grounds both for the Senate and White House.

Conversely, the Republicans will have less of this material to pick from than they had after the 1952 elections, when they held 30 of the 48 statehouses.

But the GOP can find partial comfort in another direction: their surprising success in holding three of the four House seats they had won in 1952 in Virginia and North Carolina, and taking one in Florida and another in Texas.

This is a very small bipartisan beachhead in the solid South, but it could be the first true sign of a change toward the two-party system there. The general feeling among many observers has been that President Eisenhower's huge southern vote in 1952 was a freakish storm which would leave no lasting marks. But apparently a very gentle but gradually steadier Republican wind is beginning to blow down South.

These southern results, plus the turn in the governorships, helped to make this one of the most fascinating of America's modern elections.

POLITICAL PROMISES

The cold water of reality has begun to cool off some of the exaggerated arguments of the late political campaign.

Up and down the land the Democrats lambasted the Republicans for passing a tax bill allegedly beneficial to the rich and neglectful of the poor. The plain import of these attacks was that if given control of Congress the Democrats would act to hand tax benefits to the lower brackets.

Now a poll of Democrats on the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee shows, however, that only one of nine holdover members responding to the query believes the outlook for tax reduction is bright.

Oddly enough, that's what responsible Republicans were saying all during the campaign season. Further tax cuts, they said, would have to wait until the federal budget was nearer to balance. And that in turn would depend upon additional government savings.

The Democrats would seem to have been guilty of some rather empty campaign oratory. But then they have no monopoly on that particular sin.

NOT A BAD IDEA

It has been suggested that NATO form divisions of Polish, Czech, Hungarian and White Russian troops, men available in Europe and in this country, dedicated to opposition to Soviet Russia. The argument is that in the satellite countries of the Soviet Universal State, the people still fear the Germans who will prevail in the new European Army. They still remember Hitler. Therefore if a balance could be made by employing an army of men who by race and nationality are the same as those in the border countries, it would mean, first of all, good fighters and secondly, it might inspire continued underground guerrilla activities.

It is a good idea because these refugee people will never compromise in their hatred for Soviet Russia. Were it otherwise, they would be inside the Iron Curtain, not outside it. They might even be as successful as Vishinsky who started as an opponent of the Bolsheviks and ended as Stalin's purger and private insulter. They might have become Soviet bureaucrats instead of headwaiters and hotel managers. Their sincerity cannot be questioned because they have made sacrifices for their faith.

On the other hand, their timing is very bad. We are now moving into the period of co-existence. It is to be live and let live, so that the Soviet Universal State might have time to consolidate its recent gains and prepare for further gains by military or other less conventional means. Therefore, it would be astonishing if the British and French and even our own country would agree to do anything which would outrage the sensibilities of the Russians at this time.

In fact, there is a possibility that some steps will be taken to find a compromise over the admission of Red China into the United Nations while keeping the Republic of Formosa (a state which does not exist anywhere on this Earth) in the same United Nations. Thus China would have double representation, if that is a compromise.

One might ask what can be achieved by such tricky business. One of the advantages would be that the Republicans would go into the 1956 campaign with the truthful boast that the United States had enjoyed four years, more or less, without Americans being killed in war. That will be an excellent argument for winning an election no matter what else is lost.

The Poles, Czechs, Hungarians and White Russians who want to be mobilized in the European Army are not altogether without the possibility of solving their problem. They might find a way of being incorporated in the German divisions. Some of them could call themselves ex-Germans, as their countries had been conquered by Germany before they were conquered by Russia. This may sound facetious, but the man who wants to fight will find a way to fight, particularly if he has hatred for a conqueror in his heart and love for his own country. This is surely true of the Poles, who, no matter what mistakes of their own made Poland a conquered and partitioned country, always somehow reunite for a short historic period of freedom and self-government.

It ought to be popular in the United States if a formula were made available to use Poles, Czechs, Hungarians and White Russians instead of Americans to defend Europe. However, when the new treaty creating the European Army comes up for ratification, we shall probably discover that we have pledged more than we now know and that Americans will be stationed in Europe for a prolonged period to guarantee the French that the Germans will not gobble them up.

It is a pity that we are not ready to utilize these various peoples, who want to be fighting soldiers, instead of using conscripted troops who do not want to be soldiers at all. The mercenary is no longer popular, although in the long history of war, he proved himself to be a fairly good soldier. The French Foreign Legion, an army of contracted soldiers who fight for pay and to forget, has done extraordinarily well, even displaying heroism in the Indochina War. Many of these Legionnaires were Germans and of other nationalities but they fought for France courageously until they were betrayed at the Geneva Conference. NATO could well use them if it would not prove too displeasing to the enemy.

That Body of Yours

ANOTHER TREATMENT IN ALCOHOLISM

Now that alcoholism is recognized as being a disease, it is being treated by various methods such as Alcoholics Anonymous, which employs group psychology and which many physicians feel gives the best results. I have also mentioned from time to time that Antibuse and Benzadrine Sulphate are of help in many cases as they give the patient a boost physically and mentally during a critical time in his disease.

Now we hear of a new drug, chlorpromazine, which was used in the management of 64 patients admitted to the alcoholic ward of the District of Columbia General Hospital; acute alcoholism was complicated by delirium tremens in 21 and by psychomotor agitation (agitation of mind and body) in the remainder. The only form of treatment given in these cases was liquids and the chlorpromazine. The use of vitamins, sedatives and anticonvulsants (drugs to prevent convulsions) was purposely omitted so the value of this particular drug could be fully evaluated. Three methods of giving the drug were tried, injected into veins, injected into muscles and by mouth and although all three proved effective, the injection into the veins was given up because of the difficulty in giving it to disturbed patients.

The first noticeable effect of the drug is a quickened heartbeat and this is followed by mental and muscular relaxation leading to a sleep-like state from which the patients were easily aroused to take nourishment and fluids. The effects of the drug last for from three to five hours and can be repeated as required by the patient's condition. The course of treatment required by the patients in this series varied from one to four days. The opinions expressed concerning the drug were very favorable. It is thought that this drug acts with a blocking effect on the brain.

Another group of acute or chronic alcoholics, 60 in number, were treated by a combination of chlorpromazine and disulfiram (Antibuse) by mouth with similar good results. Within 24 hours, patients could take solid foods and restful sleep could be secured even with the entire withdrawal of alcohol. Some of the chronic alcoholics treated were able to return to work in 72 hours without having the usual tremulousness and upsetment of the "hangover."

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington — (NEA) — The first of six million Christmas food packages—the gift of the U. S. government to poor families in some 40 foreign countries—will start moving out of Philadelphia about Nov. 15. Shipment will be completed by Dec. 1, in order that distribution abroad may be completed before Christmas.

This will be the second year of this Christmas gift from the American people to the needy in non-Communist countries. The plan was inaugurated last year by President Eisenhower in an effort to make some of the American foreign aid program reach down directly to the most deserving of the poor and hungry common people. Most foreign aid goes to military assistance or to public works projects which benefit the people only indirectly.

This year's Uncle Santa Claus program has become known as "Operation Poinsettia." It will distribute a million more packages than last year and it will be handled somewhat differently.

Twenty U. S. private charity and church agencies working overseas will handle the distribution this year. They will be responsible for selecting the families to receive the packages. The U. S. government's share of the program will be confined to furnishing the food supplies, packaging them and paying the costs of transportation to overseas ports.

THE TOTAL COST TO the government will be close to $30 million, or about $5 per package. This will include over $21 million worth of food which will come from Commodity Credit Corporation's surplus food stocks of cereals, dairy products and fats.

In addition to this, Foreign Operations Administration is buying a one-pound can of beef and gravy which will go into each package. FOA will then pay all packaging and transportation costs to foreign ports. These costs are expected to total $8 million.

The cost of the food itself will average around $3.50 a package. Its retail value would be $4.50 in U. S. stores.

What each family gets, in a brown paper bag or a carton will be from 13 to nearly 15 pounds of food, varying from country to country according to customary diets.

THE BASIC PACKAGE for northern Europe will be one pound each of butter, shortening, dry beans, beef and gravy plus three pounds of rice and five pounds of wheat flour.

Southern Europe and Latin America will get nearly five pounds of nonfat dry milk powder in place of the shortening, and the rice will be cut from three pounds to two.

Near East and Africa will get cheese and cottonseed oil in place of the butter and shortening. The Far East will get the fats and oils, but no wheat flour.

Shipments to the Far East will be in bulk, with the packaging done abroad. All other packaging will be done in America.

Each bag will bear a big red emblem of clasped hands over an American shield with the message "Donated by the People of the United States of America."

The 20 American relief agencies distributing the packages this year are affiliated through the American Council of Voluntary Agencies for Foreign Service, Inc. It has acted as clearing-house for planning Operation Poinsettia with FOA and CCC.

THE AGENCIES were first asked to submit estimates on the number of food packages they could distribute. Their initial requests totaled over 12 million packages. This was cut in half by the government, to fit food supplies and funds available.

The 20 organizations in the program this year are: American Fund for Czechoslovak Refugees, American Jewish Joint Distribution Committee, American Relief for Poland, American Friends of Russian Freedom, American Middle East Relief, Church World Service, Cooperative for American Relief to Everywhere (CARE), Congregational Christian Service Committee, General Council of the Assemblies of God, International Rescue Committee, Lutheran World Relief, Iranian Foundation, Mennonite Central Committee, Salvation Army, Selfhelp of Emigrees from Central Europe, Tolstoy Foundation, Unitarian Service Committee, United Lithuanian Relief Fund of America, World University Service and War Relief Services of the National Catholic Welfare Council.

War Relief Services will distribute about two million packages, mostly in Europe. CARE will distribute a million and a half in nearly all countries and Church World Services about 750,000.

Europe will get about half of the 6,000,000 packages.

The Far East will get 1,400,000.

The Near East will get 1,260,000.

Latin America will get 700,000.

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Nov. 15—While there is no parallel and no relationship whatsoever between the cases of J. Robert Oppenheimer and John Paton Davies, both of whom have recently been declared to be "security risks," there is a deliberate campaign of misrepresentation about both cases going on in Europe which cannot but damage American prestige and undermine the confidence that American foreign service officers abroad have in their own government.

The attempt is being made to attribute responsibility for both cases to "McCarthyism," and this ignores the fact that the Wisconsin senator never had either Oppenheimer or Davies before his committees, and that the proceedings in the cases against both men were initiated without any connection with the acts or speeches of Senator McCarthy.

Why are some American writers as well as certain British newspapers trying to make it appear that Dr. Opennheimer was punished for his views as a scientists and that Mr. Davies is being punished for his expression of views on foreign policy? Neither statement is true, and there is ample evidence in the published record to show both are false.

Dr. Oppenheimer was declared a security risk primarily because he lied to a security officer in the United States Army in wartime and failed for several months to come clean on the subject of a contact which the Soviet government tried to make with him through a friend. Dr. Oppenheimer refused for a long time to reveal the identity of his friend and protected him, and thus threw the security officers off the track. All this has been published and Dr. Oppenheimer has since confessed it was "idiotic" on his part. The board which handled his case did not accuse Oppenheimer of disloyalty, and specifically said his views on scientific matters had nothing to do with the case and that he was declared a security risk because of faulty judgment in the matter of security.

Now the case of John Paton Davies has brought forth some of the same distorted criticisms. A special board of five has unanimously declared him to be loyal, but has said that "his lack of judgment, discretion and reliability raises a reasonable doubt that his continued employment . . . is clearly consistent with the interests of national security."

Yet a Washington dispatch last week to the "London Times," which is influential in moulding European opinion of America, said:

"Meanwhile anxious eyes were being turned to the State Department because of what many regard as the latest example of McCarthyist 'lynching,' the case of Mr. John Paton Davies, who, though repeatedly cleared of the senator's insinuations, has been summarily dismissed from the foreign service for "indiscretion.' As a parallel to the McCarthy debate this unhappy affair is illuminating as a further instance of the price that can be exacted for bygone disagreements with the United States policy in China—and others have paid it before Mr. Davies."

Now the facts in the case are that Mr. Davies was not "cleared" on a security basis by the Truman loyalty review board, for it had no authority to do so. When it did clear him of any charge of disloyalty, the board took plains in its letter to the State Department to point out it was not passing judgment on the security question.

It was the late Senator Pat McCarran, Democrat, of Nevada who, acting for the Internal Security Committee before which Mr. Davies had appeared, transmitted on three separate occasions in 1952, to the Department of Justice charges alleging that Davies had committed perjury in his testimony. These charges were followed up in 1953 by a unanimous vote of the Republican and Democratic members of the Senate Internal Security Committee. Senator McCarthy was not a member of this or the previous committee. All the charges were examined for several months in the Department of Justice under the Eisenhower administration, and the State Department felt it had to wait for a decision on this before it could take up the Davies case to determine his status under security regulations. When the Department of Justice finally decided against filing a perjury case, the Department of State promptly appointed a special board to deal with the security question. Included on the board was a lieutenant general about to retire, who could be depended upon to be objective. The board reviewed all the testimony and all previous hearings and unanimously came to the conclusion that Davies was loyal but had used faulty judgment.

It was immediately asserted by defenders of Davies that his indiscretion was related to conversations with the press on news and views. Thereupon a campaign designed to vilify Secretary Dulles was begun, with citations of his own private conversations with correspondents in the past. But there is no parallel here. Actually the indiscretions of Davies were more than talks with the press. They had to do with faulty judgment in relation to his superiors. Thus Ambassador Hurley found that without consulting him Davies had visited Mao, the Communist leader, in North China, though Davies was part of Mr. Hurley's staff in China at the time. There were other "indiscretions" on the part of Davies which had to do with faulty judgment in his relations with other agencies of the government. This had nothing to do with his views on our policy toward China as such.

General Walter Bedell Smith, who until recently was undersecretary of state, and who had known Davies when the latter was with him at the American Embassy in Moscow, told the Senate Committee on Foreign relations on February 4, 1953 that he was convinced Davies was loyal, but that he had doubts about his "judgment." The word "judgment" in relation to security came up several times in the testimony. It's all in a public document.

Now it is known that General Smith all along has been very friendly and sympathetic toward Davies. When the special board—which was chosen by the general as undersecretary of state—reached a unanimous conclusion he felt there was nothing else for Secretary Dulles to do but to approve the findings. Now the "left wing" press is carrying on a smear campaign against Mr. Dulles for something which it was his duty to do under the law and under the executive order concerning security matters. The impression is being conveyed, nevertheless, that it is freedom to express opinions in the foreign service which is the issue, when this is simply not the truth.

There is a just basis for criticism of the penalty meted out to Davies, but there again it's the law which operates against him. It is unlike the situation in the army where an officer who is removed for bad judgment can still collect a pension for the years in which he rendered good service. In the case of Mr. Davies he loses pension rights because he now is unable to complete the necessary period of time as a foreign service officer to be eligible for retirement pay. This should be corrected by Congress, for it is an injustice.

NEW GOVERNORS AND 1956

While public attention naturally focuses on the immediate national effects of the election, the fact is that developments at the state and district level may have a very substantial impact on the events of 1956, the next presidential year.

Most important would appear to be the capture by Democrats of eight governorships formerly held by Republicans. Democrats now hold 27 governorships against 21 in GOP hands.

Thirteen of these 27 are in the solid or border South, and for the most part would not likely figure in the presidential politics of 1956. But the other 14, including the eight just picked up this fall, are held in territory which is usually the real presidential battleground.

Control of the statehouse normally means control of the state's political machinery. Lubricated by the often smooth-textured oils of patronage, this machinery can play a significant part in the nomination and election of a President.

Barring a reversal in New York through a recount, the Democrats now number among their statehouse prizes such politically potent states as New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan and Minnesota. Last year they picked off populous New Jersey.

Most of these states will go to the next Democratic convention with a fat block of delegates in their grasp. There seems little doubt they will call the turn on the party's presidential nominee. Significantly, Governor-elect Harriman of New York already has plumped for Adlai Stevenson, the 1952 choice.

Moreover, the organizational strength these statehouses may be expected to give the Democrats could prove a key factor in the 1956 fall combat against the GOP.

This does not mean that Democratic success this time at the state level presages Democratic capture of the White House next time. It just means that on paper the Democrats are better fixed for a fight.

Winning eight GOP-held governorships also will bring a good deal of new blood into Democratic ranks. Some of the winners may make reputations for themselves which will mark them as prospects for higher things. In the past, governorships many times have served as recruiting grounds both for the Senate and White House.

Conversely, the Republicans will have less of this material to pick from than they had after the 1952 elections, when they held 30 of the 48 statehouses.

But the GOP can find partial comfort in another direction: their surprising success in holding three of the four House seats they had won in 1952 in Virginia and North Carolina, and taking one in Florida and another in Texas.

This is a very small bipartisan beachhead in the solid South, but it could be the first true sign of a change toward the two-party system there. The general feeling among many observers has been that President Eisenhower's huge southern vote in 1952 was a freakish storm which would leave no lasting marks. But apparently a very gentle but gradually steadier Republican wind is beginning to blow down South.

These southern results, plus the turn in the governorships, helped to make this one of the most fascinating of America's modern elections.

POLITICAL PROMISES

The cold water of reality has begun to cool off some of the exaggerated arguments of the late political campaign.

Up and down the land the Democrats lambasted the Republicans for passing a tax bill allegedly beneficial to the rich and neglectful of the poor. The plain import of these attacks was that if given control of Congress the Democrats would act to hand tax benefits to the lower brackets.

Now a poll of Democrats on the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee shows, however, that only one of nine holdover members responding to the query believes the outlook for tax reduction is bright.

Oddly enough, that's what responsible Republicans were saying all during the campaign season. Further tax cuts, they said, would have to wait until the federal budget was nearer to balance. And that in turn would depend upon additional government savings.

The Democrats would seem to have been guilty of some rather empty campaign oratory. But then they have no monopoly on that particular sin.

'These Days'

NOT A BAD IDEA

It has been suggested that NATO form divisions of Polish, Czech, Hungarian and White Russian troops, men available in Europe and in this country, dedicated to opposition to Soviet Russia. The argument is that in the satellite countries of the Soviet Universal State, the people still fear the Germans who will prevail in the new European Army. They still remember Hitler. Therefore if a balance could be made by employing an army of men who by race and nationality are the same as those in the border countries, it would mean, first of all, good fighters and secondly, it might inspire continued underground guerrilla activities.

It is a good idea because these refugee people will never compromise in their hatred for Soviet Russia. Were it otherwise, they would be inside the Iron Curtain, not outside it. They might even be as successful as Vishinsky who started as an opponent of the Bolsheviks and ended as Stalin's purger and private insulter. They might have become Soviet bureaucrats instead of headwaiters and hotel managers. Their sincerity cannot be questioned because they have made sacrifices for their faith.

On the other hand, their timing is very bad. We are now moving into the period of co-existence. It is to be live and let live, so that the Soviet Universal State might have time to consolidate its recent gains and prepare for further gains by military or other less conventional means. Therefore, it would be astonishing if the British and French and even our own country would agree to do anything which would outrage the sensibilities of the Russians at this time.

In fact, there is a possibility that some steps will be taken to find a compromise over the admission of Red China into the United Nations while keeping the Republic of Formosa (a state which does not exist anywhere on this Earth) in the same United Nations. Thus China would have double representation, if that is a compromise.

One might ask what can be achieved by such tricky business. One of the advantages would be that the Republicans would go into the 1956 campaign with the truthful boast that the United States had enjoyed four years, more or less, without Americans being killed in war. That will be an excellent argument for winning an election no matter what else is lost.

The Poles, Czechs, Hungarians and White Russians who want to be mobilized in the European Army are not altogether without the possibility of solving their problem. They might find a way of being incorporated in the German divisions. Some of them could call themselves ex-Germans, as their countries had been conquered by Germany before they were conquered by Russia. This may sound facetious, but the man who wants to fight will find a way to fight, particularly if he has hatred for a conqueror in his heart and love for his own country. This is surely true of the Poles, who, no matter what mistakes of their own made Poland a conquered and partitioned country, always somehow reunite for a short historic period of freedom and self-government.

It ought to be popular in the United States if a formula were made available to use Poles, Czechs, Hungarians and White Russians instead of Americans to defend Europe. However, when the new treaty creating the European Army comes up for ratification, we shall probably discover that we have pledged more than we now know and that Americans will be stationed in Europe for a prolonged period to guarantee the French that the Germans will not gobble them up.

It is a pity that we are not ready to utilize these various peoples, who want to be fighting soldiers, instead of using conscripted troops who do not want to be soldiers at all. The mercenary is no longer popular, although in the long history of war, he proved himself to be a fairly good soldier. The French Foreign Legion, an army of contracted soldiers who fight for pay and to forget, has done extraordinarily well, even despite heroism in the Indochina War. Many of these Legionnaires were Germans and of other nationalities but they fought for France courageously until they were betrayed at the Geneva Conference. NATO could well use them if it would not prove too displeasing to the enemy.

ANOTHER TREATMENT IN ALCOHOLISM

Now that alcoholism is recognized as being a disease, it is being treated by various methods such as Alcoholics Anonymous, which employs group psychology and which many physicians feel gives the best results. I have also mentioned from time to time that Antibuse and Benzadrine Sulphate are of help in many cases as they give the patient a boost physically and mentally during a critical time in his disease.

Now we hear of a new drug, chlorpromazine, which was used in the management of 64 patients admitted to the alcoholic ward of the District of Columbia General Hospital; acute alcoholism was complicated by delirium tremens in 21 and by psychomotor agitation (agitation of mind and body) in the remainder. The only form of treatment given in these cases was liquids and the chlorpromazine. The use of vitamins, sedatives and anticonvulsants (drugs to prevent convulsions) was purposely omitted so the value of this particular drug could be fully evaluated. Three methods of giving the drug were tried, injected into veins, injected into muscles and by mouth and although all three proved effective, the injection into the veins was given up because of the difficulty in giving it to disturbed patients.

The first noticeable effect of the drug is a quickened heartbeat and this is followed by mental and muscular relaxation leading to a sleep-like state from which the patients were easily aroused to take nourishment and fluids. The effects of the drug last for from three to five hours and can be repeated as required by the patient's condition. The course of treatment required by the patients in this series varied from one to four days. The opinions expressed concerning the drug were very favorable. It is thought that this drug acts with a blocking effect on the brain.

Another group of acute or chronic alcoholics, 60 in number, were treated by a combination of chlorpromazine and disulfiram (Antibuse) by mouth with similar good results. Within 24 hours, patients could take solid foods and restful sleep could be secured even with the entire withdrawal of alcohol. Some of the chronic alcoholics treated were able to return to work in 72 hours without having the usual tremulousness and upsetment of the "hangover."

There'll Probably Be a Slight Delay, Folks

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington — (NEA) — The first of six million Christmas food packages—the gift of the U. S. government to poor families in some 40 foreign countries—will start moving out of Philadelphia about Nov. 15. Shipment will be completed by Dec. 1, in order that distribution abroad may be completed before Christmas.

This will be the second year of this Christmas gift from the American people to the needy in non-Communist countries. The plan was inaugurated last year by President Eisenhower in an effort to make some of the American foreign aid program reach down directly to the most deserving of the poor and hungry common people. Most foreign aid goes to military assistance or to public works projects which benefit the people only indirectly.

This year's Uncle Santa Claus program has become known as "Operation Poinsettia." It will distribute a million more packages than last year and it will be handled somewhat differently.

Twenty U. S. private charity and church agencies working overseas will handle the distribution this year. They will be responsible for selecting the families to receive the packages. The U. S. government's share of the program will be confined to furnishing the food supplies, packaging them and paying the costs of transportation to overseas ports.

THE TOTAL COST TO the government will be close to $30 million, or about $5 per package. This will include over $21 million worth of food which will come from Commodity Credit Corporation's surplus food stocks of cereals, dairy products and fats.

In addition to this, Foreign Operations Administration is buying a one-pound can of beef and gravy which will go into each package. FOA will then pay all packaging and transportation costs to foreign ports. These costs are expected to total $8 million.

The cost of the food itself will average around $3.50 a package. Its retail value would be $4.50 in U. S. stores.

What each family gets, in a brown paper bag or a carton will be from 13 to nearly 15 pounds of food, varying from country to country according to customary diets.

THE BASIC PACKAGE for northern Europe will be one pound each of butter, shortening, dry beans, beef and gravy plus three pounds of rice and five pounds of wheat flour.

Southern Europe and Latin America will get nearly five pounds of nonfat dry milk powder in place of the shortening, and the rice will be cut from three pounds to two.

Near East and Africa will get cheese and cottonseed oil in place of the butter and shortening. The Far East will get the fats and oils, but no wheat flour.

Shipments to the Far East will be in bulk, with the packaging done abroad. All other packaging will be done in America.

Each bag will bear a big red emblem of clasped hands over an American shield with the message "Donated by the People of the United States of America."

The 20 American relief agencies distributing the packages this year are affiliated through the American Council of Voluntary Agencies for Foreign Service, Inc. It has acted as clearing-house for planning Operation Poinsettia with FOA and CCC.

THE AGENCIES were first asked to submit estimates on the number of food packages they could distribute. Their initial requests totaled over 12 million packages. This was cut in half by the government, to fit food supplies and funds available.

The 20 organizations in the program this year are: American Fund for Czechoslovak Refugees, American Jewish Joint Distribution Committee, American Relief for Poland, American Friends of Russian Freedom, American Middle East Relief, Church World Service, Cooperative for American Relief to Everywhere (CARE), Congregational Christian Service Committee, General Council of the Assemblies of God, International Rescue Committee, Lutheran World Relief, Iranian Foundation, Mennonite Central Committee, Salvation Army, Selfhelp of Emigrees from Central Europe, Tolstoy Foundation, Unitarian Service Committee, United Lithuanian Relief Fund of America, World University Service and War Relief Services of the National Catholic Welfare Council.

War Relief Services will distribute about two million packages, mostly in Europe. CARE will distribute a million and a half in nearly all countries and Church World Services about 750,000.

Europe will get about half of the 6,000,000 packages.

The Far East will get 1,400,000.

The Near East will get 1,260,000.

Latin America will get 700,000.

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Nov. 15 — While there is no parallel and no relationship whatsoever between the cases of J. Robert Oppenheimer and John Paton Davies, both of whom have recently been declared to be "security risks," there is a deliberate campaign of misrepresentation about both cases going on in Europe which cannot but damage American prestige and undermine the confidence that American foreign service officers abroad have in their own government.

The attempt is being made to attribute responsibility for both cases to "McCarthyism," and this ignores the fact that the Wisconsin senator never had either Oppenheimer or Davies before his committees, and that the proceedings in the cases against both men were initiated without any connection with the acts or speeches of Senator McCarthy.

Why are some American writers as well as certain British newspapers trying to make it appear that Dr. Opennheimer was punished for his views as a scientists and that Mr. Davies is being punished for his expression of views on foreign policy? Neither statement is true, and there is ample evidence in the published record to show both are false.

Dr. Oppenheimer was declared a security risk primarily because he lied to a security officer in the United States Army in wartime and failed for several months to come clean on the subject of a contact which the Soviet government tried to make with him through a friend. Dr. Oppenheimer refused for a long time to reveal the identity of his friend and protected him, and thus threw the security officers off the track. All this has been published and Dr. Oppenheimer has since confessed it was "idiotic" on his part. The board which handled his case did not accuse Oppenheimer of disloyalty, and specifically said his views on scientific matters had nothing to do with the case and that he was declared a security risk because of faulty judgment in the matter of security.

Now the case of John Paton Davies has brought forth some of the same distorted criticisms. A special board of five has unanimously declared him to be loyal, but has said that "his lack of judgment, discretion and reliability raises a reasonable doubt that his continued employment . . . is clearly consistent with the interests of national security."

Yet a Washington dispatch last week to the "London Times," which is influential in moulding European opinion of America, said:

Frank Murphy was sent to the Supreme Court in reward for an act of treason and cowardice. As governor of Michigan this poltroon curled up before John L. Clothing Crusade Here Tomorrow

Tomorrow the local school children will go on a crusade—a full-fledged children's crusade. Their weapons will be bundles of clothing. Their goal: To help provide 3,000 pounds of sturdy, warm, clean clothing for needy children in America and overseas.

ACCORDING TO Superintendent of Schools Arthur J Laidlaw, the local drive is part of Save the Children Federation's Twelfth Annual Nationwide "Children's Clothing Crusade," which is conducted in public schools throughout the United States under the auspices of the Federation's National Advisory Committee of School Superintendents.

The clothing collected will be used to aid children and families in Korea, six war-depleted countries of Europe, in Lebanon, and in disadvantaged rural areas of the United States, including the Navajo Indian Reservation.

"IN EUROPE, the children are still suffering from the ravages of war," Superintendent Laidlaw said. "The need in Korea is even more urgent. Nine million victims of Communist aggression in Korea have been torn from their homes. They have only rags in which to clothe themselves. We must help them," he continued.

Superintendent Laidlaw pointed out a second objective of the drive. "Not only are we helping to alleviate the suffering of many thousands of needy children," he said, "but we are also teaching our own children a valuable lesson in the importance of thinking of others."

FEDERATION officials present these pointers for clothing givers who want to be sure their clothing will do the most good:

Most needed is warm clothing —heavy underwear, wool skirts, suits, sweaters and coats. Bundle Day clothing goes to people whose first need is warmth—not style. If the clothing is warm, even adult sizes can be cut down and gratefully used.

CHILDREN'S SHOES are next in importance. Even though scuffed, America's outgrown shoes still have miles of use left in them. Here again adult sizes can be used. However, high-heeled women's shoes are of no use either to mothers or children in areas served by the Federation, and should not be included.

Superintendent Laidlaw stressed the importance of having all clothing gifts clean and in good repair as possible "because these gifts will be symbols of new hope to many needy children."

Sandwich Filling

Like to have friends for Sunday tea? For a delicious sandwich filling, mix cream cheese with well-drained crushed pineapple. Make the sandwiches of thinly sliced bread, the cream-cheese mixture and sprays of water cress. A bowl of salted almonds goes well with these sandwiches.

The average school has nearly as much area devoted to corridors, gymnasiums, auditoriums and service areas as to classrooms.

Think It Through

By EDWARD F. HUTTON

Hon. Harold Stassen is a man who, if millions of voters begged him to run for President, would say "I cannot refuse my country's call." His minor ambition, on the way to the White House, is to rise to magnificent heights on the mountains of our money he scatters around the globe.

Mr. Hutton

Hon. Wallace once made a great name for himself by proposing that you give a quart of your milk every day to every Hottentot. Hank never dreamed that anyone would top that. But Hon. Stassen has gone way beyond. He wants you and me to give every Iranian a daily bath, including Weepy Mossadegh.

This includes our sending bathing "technicians" over there — who know what soap is; how to fill the tub; and how to make cold water warm and hot water cool. As these are difficult operations, requiring civil engineering degrees and the highest skills, the salaries must be adequate. Those who receive them, and their relatives in the States, will no doubt get on Hon. Stassen's presidential wagon.

But there are other compensations for our technicians as they bathe Iranians. Some of them are reported to be very pretty; and as has been so well said, "you never know whether you like bathing beauties until you have bathed one!"

What say, neighbor?

Social Security Law Provisions

George J. Johnson, district manager Social Security Administration here, submits another article on provisions of the Social Security Law:

I met one of my best friends in town not long ago. I was glad to see him. For years he has been kidding me about his social security. He is an accountant. He has his own offices not far from the social security office. And as a self-employed professional man he hasn't been eligible for old-age and survivors insurance protection.

I can remember his jesting one time, "Here I am—one of the socal security's representative's best friends. But can I earn social security credits? No! I must say that I feel left out. About four fifths of the people in this town are covered under the law, but I'm not!"

I KNEW HE was only joking then, but behind his smile there was a more serious thought. We had been talking one day and the discussion got around to the future. I remember my accountant friend saying something to this effect: "You know we accountants and most other professional people who work for themselves make pretty good money. A lot of folks think that we have no worries about the future. But things that a person never expects have a way of happening. Suppose I had died when I was just starting out in my business. I didn't have many savings in those days. What would have happened to my family? Or suppose I should die a few years from now. I've saved quite a bit, but if my wife had any big expenses, those savings wouldn't last long. I'm not joking when I say that I wish I were eligible for the social security program. A lot of my older clients and friends and some of my young ones too are getting their benefits now. And I am a little envious of them."

AS I SAID earlier, I was glad to see my old friend again, because now he is one of about 6½ million more working men and women who will begin earning social security credits automatically on January 1, 1955. To be more specific, he is one of about 100,000 professional people in this country who will have future protection for himself and his family.

Other professional workers covered by social security as of January 1, 1955, are self-employed achitects, engineers, and funeral directors.

I thought I'd better mention the fact to him that he will pay his social security taxes on his net earnings from his business just as all self-employed men and women do. It is a three per cent tax which he will pay with his 1955 income tax which is due on April 15, 1956. He is to report net yearly earnings of not less than $400 or more than $4,200 on the special social security supplement, which will be a part of his regular income tax form 1040.

THIS WILL BE his first step toward future old-age and survivors insurance benefits for him and his family. But my friend had many questions to ask me. He had read my earlier articles about becoming insured, figuring benefits, the four-year "drop-out,"." but he wanted even more detailed explanations about these things, how the new law has changed the Social Security Act, and the effect the 1954 amendments will have on self-employed people. So I told him about our free information leaflets explaning the recent changes in the social security law. Our office has a supply of these leaflets for all employed and self-employed people whose earnings will start counting toward old-age and survivors insurance on January 1, 1955. They will want to learn like my accountant friend, all about their duties and rights under the new law.

SAUGERTIES NEWS

Memorial Services Note Veterans' Day

Saugerties, Nov. 15—Memorial services by both local veteran's organizations in Saugerties were held at 11 a. m. Thursday.

The Saugerties Memorial Post 5034, VFW conducted services at the monument in front of the VFW Hall on Livingston street.

Commander Bernard E. McCutchen in charge of the ceremony spoke briefly to the gathering. Chaplain Emil De Long offered a prayer and Mrs. John J. Prendergast, auxiliary president, placed a tri-colored wreath at the base of the monument.

The ceremony closed with taps by Richard Gardner. Also participating were John Utter, Richard Gundersen and Lester Eckert both members of the Dads of of Foreign Service Veterans.

Two sons of Past Commander Le Roy Lewis, both members of the U. S. Navy home on leave, participated in the ceremonies. They are AM Le Roy Lewis based at Norfolk, Va., and SA Lawrence Lewis based at Bainbridge, Md.

Firemen Will Join County Vol Group

Saugerties, Nov. 15—At the regular monthly meeting of the Malden-West Camp Fire Company Thursday night the membership voted to join the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association. Delegates for the company will be Representative Charles Daley, Roger Ackerman, alternate, Chief Valmore Carpenter and Charles Teetsel, assistant chief.

Fire Chief Carpenter reported that a 300 gallon septic tank had been donated to the West Camp fire station by Robert G. Adams.

Albert Hrdlicka was voted associate honorary membership in the company.

Building Fund receipts to date of $2,287.50 was reported by Albert J. Cawein, financial secretary of the Building-Planning Committee. He also recommended adoption of the suggestion at a previous meeting that a publicity committee be appointed to handle press releases for the purpose of stimulating building fund donations.

President Jerry A. Smith acted on the recommendation and appointed M. Lawrence Carroll, Oscar Schlenker, Warren H. Knaust, Edgar Smith, and Mr. Cawein to that committee.

New Pastor Named For Local Parish

Saugerties, Nov. 15—The Rev. Charles Burke has been named as the new pastor of St. Mary's Church to fill the vacancy left by the death of the Rev. Edmond T. Harty who served the local church for nearly a quarter of a century.

Father Burke, who comes from Nyack, assumed his duties as pastor of St. Mary's following a reception given in his honor Sunday afternoon in the recently remodeled basement of St. Mary's School.

Father Burke served at the Church of St. Anne for two years as first assistant pastor to Right Rev. Monsignor Charles Giblon. He is a graduate of St. Joseph's Seminary at Dunwoodie, June 1925 and served as chaplain in the U. S. Navy during World War 2. Following the war he was affiliated with the Veterans' Administration for eight years.

The open house reception was tendered by the Rosary Guild and the Holy Name Society of the church.

The Rev. Matthew F. Mulloy will continue as assistant pastor of St. Mary's under Father Burke.

Yule Party Planned By Bureau Members

Saugerties, Nov. 15—Plans for a Christmas luncheon party were formulated at the regular meeting of the Saugerties Home Bureau Thursday at the VFW Hall. Mrs. Kenneth Beadle, vice-chairman, presided at the gathering of 18 members.

The Christmas event will be held at Leherb's Restaurant in Kingston at 1:30 p. m. Thursday, Dec. 2. The members will go to Kingston in a group with all cars meeting at the Mt. View Bus Terminal at 1 p. m. A small gift will be exchanged by the members.

Reservations may be made by contacting Mrs. James Abbott or Mrs. Floyd Winchell.

The group voted to send two leaders to the Saxton Home Bureau for instruction in candle decorating.

Following the meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. Edwin Van Wort and Mrs. Lloyd Whitaker.

Vote Newspaper Ads Top Promotion Awards

Representatives of America's grocery trade have voted Clorox bleach and house hold disinfectant a Top Promotion Award for its consistent selling support in the form of local newspaper advertising, according to Harrison S. Fraker, president of Food Topics and Food Field Reporter, grocery trade publications which conducted the balloting to determine the country's most effective grocery sales promotions.

IN THE PRESENTATION statement to W. J. Roth, president of Clorox Chemical Co., Mr. Fraker pointed out that the selection was made by a jury of 2,500 members of the chain, wholesale, supermarket and independent grocery trade representing all 48 States. The voting personnel represented organizations accounting for more than half of U. S. food sales.

In accepting the award, Mr. Roth expressed appreciation for "this tribute to our consumer advertising, particularly since it comes from food operators who evaluated its effectiveness in terms of Clorox sales."

MR. ROTH ALSO pointed out that Clorox has been a consistent newspaper advertiser for more than 25 years, with its schedule currently appearing in The Freeman and in more than 700 other leading daily newspapers from coast to coast.

His Tonsorial Highness

By FRANK TRIPP

The barbershop once was a forum of consequence, a clearing house for news, gossip and tall stories; a stag club without dues, and nothing to sell but dime shaves and quarter haircuts.

The phenomenon prevailed from Broadway to Skowhegan. If the barber didn't know about it, it hadn't happened. If it had, he knew all of the answers with embellishments.

Barbershops and saloons were prime news sources for those palsied reporters now gone to pasture or turned columnists. Nobody ever was "in conference" and nobody ever sent out word, "no comment."

WITH SHAVES a dime, plus all of this entertainment, the early safety razors had a tough time crashing through at five bucks apiece. That's what they first cost, until makers got wise that the razor was only the come-on to sell blades and dropped them to three, finally to a dollar.

I bought my first safety razor in 1909, when I was a ragged impresario. I remember how I justified the investment.

Five dollars was 50 shaves those days—or 20 honings of your straight razor. The ads proved that you could afford one of the new safety razors. So I fell—and haven't been shaved by a barber a dozen times since.

BARBERS DIDN'T exactly laugh off the new gadget, neither did they meet the competition by lowering prices, although some did sell tickets giving 12 shaves for a dollar, even in leading shops, and a few lesser shops shaved for a nickel, but not for long.

Soon men began to value their time more highly, the one to three hours they regularly spent in barbershops, many men daily.

Gradually shaving became sort of a nuisance barbering service, until today swank shops sell more manicures than shaves; given by snappy gals, in shops where once the only female to cross the threshold was a Salvation Army lassie, with her tambourine.

BARBERS DIDN'T get hurt any, what with quarter haircuts up to $1.25, and dime shaves 75 cents. But barbers are scarce, they say, though 40 bucks a day is said to be a possible take for a good man in a busy shop.

A far cry from days when a man who asked for a haircut on Saturday was jeered out of the shop by waiting shave customers. Shaving was on a production basis.

Boys and apprentices prepared and lathered the customers; the barbers moved from chair to chair, did only the shaving. Then the boy applied hot towels, the bay rum and powder, combed the hair, and the dime job was finished. A tipper was a drunk, or a sucker.

SHOPS WERE open seven days a week, Saturday nights till midnight, and forenoons on Sufday; until Al Smith drawled, "If I can shave myself on Sunday morning, the rest of 'em can" and New York State shops were closed on Sundays.

YOU'D HAVE TO see this to believe it. A young barber entered a shop with his kit of tools in a bag and asked the old-timer cutting my hair if he would go to Room 515 and shave a man.

"Why didn't he shave him?" I asked.

"Oh, he only cuts hair, he can't shave," replied the older man.

That was one for the book, I thought, as the old fellow added, "Some of 'em can't, some of 'em won't. Some who can, can't hone or even strop a razor. There's about 20 smooth shaves between honings and it's as important to know how to hone and strop a razor as to use it."

But if you're planning a tonsorial career nowadays you'll have to know how to wield the old straight razor to get a license in many states or hold a job in the others.

YOUR SHARE OF $500 BILLIONS

Two significant statements were recently made on the same day. One was by President Eisenhower, who predicted national income would soon hit 500 billion dollars a year. The other was by the president of General Electric, who said his company faced the most favorable decade in its history.

One statement complements the other. Unless something that the economists can't see now happens, America is going to experience an unprecedented prosperity. If national income does reach the half a trillion mark, we will have seen a growth in income of more than 1,000 per cent within 25 years. National income in the depression thirties was around 50 billion dollars.

This overall picture can mean much to the business and financial institutions of our land. Such prosperity would seep down through every vital segment of our economy. When the General Electric president is speaking of his own company, he could as well be speaking for the chief executives of scores of leading enterprises that make possible our high standard of living.

The question arises: "What will your share in this 500-billion-dollar-a-year prosperity be?"

In a dynamic economy such as we have, what grows? The dollars and fixed dollar values? Oh, a little. $100 out at 2½ per cent interest earns $2.50 a year. Is this growth if compounded? Strictly speaking, yes.

Did Henry Ford and George F. Baker and George Eastman and Walter Chrysler accumulate their wealth by putting their money out at interest? No. How did they do it? By buying values that carry both risk and growth.

As all readers of this column know, I favor savings accounts, insurance policies and dollar reserves. But there simply is no dynamic growth in such situations. And there comes a time when every thrifty person should buy (despite all the risk) values that carry growth.

It has been my privilege to watch the expansion of economic America. When I entered the banking business after the First World War, occasionally I would hear in Wall Street that some day in this city there would be a billion dollar bank. Most people in those days poohpoohed the idea. Yet today, we have five billion, four billion, three billion dollar banks.

Likewise, when our largest corporations started doing a billion dollars worth of business a year, it looked as if they had reached the zenith of their productive and sales capacities. But in the second half of this century, the business volume of a score of corporations runs to 10 billions of dollars a year.

My fan mail carries letters like this, week after week: "Are (naming leading American enterprise common stocks) too high? Would you buy them here or would you wait for a sell-off?"

No person in his right mind will predict what stock prices will do. The big idea for all investors to grasp is that America is a dynamic country with a steadily rising standard of living, with a growing population, with a citizenry of extraordinary talent, whether it be in the inventive, productive, financial or merchandising fields.

In 1955, more than five million automobiles will be made. There are about 160 million people in America. In 1965, there will probably be 175 million here, and more cars will be sold. What enterprises will be furnishing the cars, the oil, the gas? Those already here. And these enterprises represent only two industries.

Fifty industries make economic America go. What should the average investor do?

Thus, regardless of the prices he may pay for his shares, he will be able to participate in the coming 500-million-dollar-a-year prosperity.

THE FORUM—(Q) "What do you think of margin accounts?" (A) For those who fully understand risk, who have the capital, the temperament and the patience, margin accounts are all right. But please note all the conditions of intelligent speculation. Far too many investors run margin accounts, in my opinion.

Harry C. France will answer one letter each week through this column. If you have any investment questions, write in care of this newspaper.

Shokan

Shokan, Nov. 15—Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Fitzsimmons of Yonkers were callers here Sunday. The couple, exhibitors at the White Plains and other nationally known antique shows, have been visiting their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Kiernan, of Phoenicia.

William Scully, formerly of Woodstock, is employed on county road work at Rose Mountain in the Highmount area where a concrete bridge is being built over the brook there. Bill boards with his son Bob, who works for a Glenford manufacturing concern.

Town Clerk Delia Lewis and daughter, June, of Olive Bridge suburbs were in Shokan Saturday. They came over to meet Virginia Lewis.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Low and small daughter were numbered among the visitors here Sunday. The Low home, Orchard Close, is in the Kerhonkson area.

Howard Brooks of Boston came here Sunday to stay a while and assist his mother, Mrs. Earl Elmendorf, who was injured in a fall at her home last week.

Alva Buley, Jr., of the Tonche neighborhood is working for R. M. Holsapple of Woodstock.

One of the new Thruway signs has been erected on Route 28 near Winchell's store.

Kingston people in town Monday included Mrs. John Doran and daughter, Mrs. Campbell, who formerly resided between West Hurley and Kingston.

Members of the local fire company and their new truck made a run to the Boiceville area Tuesday afternoon to put out a grass fire. Firemen Fred Adsit and Henry Gebelein directed traffic in the village center with their usual promptness and efficiency.

Leonard Ruckert is reported improved following a sudden attack of illness shortly after casting his vote Election Day.

LeRoy O'Brien and Bob Gaye, two of Glenford's enterprising young men, were recent callers in the hub of the reservoir country.

Farm scientists say that hogs can be fattened more rapidly if they spend most of their time in the dark.

Dodge Introduces AdvancedConcept In Body Design

Detroit—The 1955 Dodge passenger car line, an advanced concept in automotive body design, will be introduced this week in dealers' showrooms across the nation.

William C. Newberg, Dodge president, explained that car stylists have blended aircraft sleekness and power into a "design of refreshing beauty."

He revealed that Dodge engineers have incorporated over 100 structural and mechanical innovations in the longer, lower and wider 1955 line. He said all four-door sedans have a distinct touch of hardtop styling.

THE FLAIR-STYLED 1955 DODGE FEATURES A DASHING HOOD ornament, projected headlight hoods, "New Horizon" swept-around windshield, cut back doors, flared wheel openings and streamlined rear deck. This four-door sedan in the Custom Royal Series has a Super Red Ram V-8 engine of 183 horsepower. Two-tone paint treatment accents the lowered roof line, sloping hood, and twi-jet taillight section.

OFFERING THREE SERIES—the new and luxurious Custom Royal, the richly appointed Royal and the classic Coronet—the '55 Dodge has a built-in look of action, resulting from its swept-back design.

Performance to bear out the air-slicing swiftness in styling is provided by a wide choice of engines—the "Get-Away Six" developing 123 horsepower, the all-new Red Ram V-8 rated at 175 horsepower, the Super Red Ram V-8 at 183 horsepower, and the super-powered Super Red Ram V-8 at 193 horsepower.

NEWBERG ANNOUNCED another automotive first for Dodge in the introduction of three-tone combinations on Dodge Lancer hardtop and convertible models. These multiple-tone paints accent the flair styling and permit exciting new combinations in exterior color design.

FROM FRONT to rear the 1955 Dodge conveys an impression of classic, clean-lined simplicity. A feeling of streamlined flight is embodied in the car from the twin-opening grille to the twin-jet taillights.

All 14 models have an increased wheelbase of 120 inches. Overall length is increased by as much as 16 inches on some models, but the cars appear even more lengthy due to Dodge's flair styling.

Moving from the massive chrome grille is a dashing V-type hood ornament, accenting the low, sweeping hood and fast line of the front fenders. Chrome hoods over headlights further emphasize the impression of forward motion.

"NEW HORIZON" windshields wrap around at both top and bottom of the glass for improved and safer vision. The windshield provides cockpit-like visibility for driver and front seat passengers.

The "tumble home," or inboard slant of the car's sides above the belt line, creates an appearance of low, road-hugging massiveness. Doors, too, are new and different—pertly cut back, but wider for easy entry.

Novel treatment of flared rear wheel openings provides a speed-enhancing style feature. The rear deck continues the theme of motion, while increasing usable trunk space by two cubic feet to 37.6 cubic feet with spare tire installed.

Inside, the 1955 Dodge control panel can be compared to an airplane pilot's flight control panel. Dials are placed in a row before the driver and clustered under an "eyebrow" to reduce glare.

THE WIDER INTERIOR is flair-fashioned in harmonious color blends. Easily-cleaned Cordagrain is combined with exclusive double-patterned Jacquard seat cloths. Door panels are dramatically decorated with two-tone color designs and chrome, complimenting the new Dodge upholstery and trim.

R. C. Somerville, Dodge vice president in charge of sales, pointed out that along with the new Dodge engines, the gear selector lever for PowerFlite transmission will share the spotlight as a major mechanical innovation.

HIGHLAND NEWS

Highland, Nov. 15—Attending the Bouton-Burke wedding in Kingston last week were Mr. and Mrs. Allan Hasbrouck, Miss Joan Hasbrouck, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Brown. The bride, Miss Ruth Marilyn Burke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Burke, was several years a resident here while her father was coach in the Central School.

John Graham, who had been a patient at Vassar Hospital, returned home Sunday.

Mrs. James Byers of Litchfield, Conn., has been spending this week at the home of her sisters, the Misses Edith and Hattie Dickinson. The former is a patient at Vassar Hospital where she had undergone surgery Monday.

Mrs. James Dowd has returned from a visit in New York.

The Thursday Bridge Club was entertained by Mrs. Charles Whittaker.

Mrs. Emil Reifert, Valley Stream, L. I., has been a guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Coy.

Miron Mihuka, vocational agriculture in the Central School, is spending the weekend at Cornell of which he is a graduate.

Mrs. Peter Roumelis came home Saturday from Vassar Hospital where she had been a patient and underwent an operation.

Mrs. Thomas Sears attended the meeting of her bridge club in Marlborough Thursday.

Peter Roumelis, William Haviland, Harvey Seaman of Mechanicsville have been at the Richard Haviland camp in the Adirondacks on a hunting trip.

Lloyd Post American Legion met ast week and was presided over by Commander Nicholas Marrone. Reports by Joseph Martorana on his part for the Legion in the Halloween party and Joseph Lyons on the progress of the band rehearsals were given. Commander Marrone appointed Benjamin Bragg chairman of the annual children's Christmas party. Walter A. Clark told the members that Lloyd Post had exceeded its quota of members. Peter Roumelis and Benjamin Bragg were asked to be in charge of the firing squad in the village square Thursday. The next meeting will take place Nov. 17. The Veterans Day dance Saturday night at Hotel DiPrima was attended by 175.

The roll call supper in the Presbyterian Church hall Wednesday night was attended by 82 who enjoyed a roast pork meal with Mrs. C. W. Rathgeb, chairman. This was followed by the picture, All That I Have, being shown.

Patty Schaffer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Schaffer, Leonta Court, celebrated her seventh birthday Thursday afternoon by entertaining a group of her friends including Leslie Kerpen, Susan Marrone, Peter Stellar, Cheryl Stellar, Daryl Kerpen, Joe Noe, Teddy Roumelis, Stephen Burnett, Mary Jane Marrone, Anne Francine Stellevato. The little folks had games and refreshments and the hostess received many gifts.

The Ganse Church School will meet Thursday night, Nov. 18, with Mrs. Harry B. Cotant, Jr.

A total of 150 more children attending the Central School have been insured in the Schooltime Accident Insurance for children at $1 a year. Added to the number who joined the program last June, this totals nearly 700 pupils who now have this protection against accidents. This plan, in which participation is entirely voluntary, protects the student during the policy term, which is written for a 12-month period for injuries received while attending school during the hours and on the days when school is in session, including coverage for sports, gym, physical education activities, shop, field trips; while traveling directly to and from school, while participating in school sponsored and supervised activities either away from school premises or after school hours.

The meeting of the Mission Circle will be held at the Presbyterian manse Wednesday at 2 p. m. Owing to the roll call supper the meeting date was changed.

Dodge Introduces Advanced Concept In Body Design

Detroit—The 1955 Dodge passenger car line, an advanced concept in automotive body design, will be introduced this week in dealers' showrooms across the nation.

William C. Newberg, Dodge president, explained that car stylists have blended aircraft sleekness and power into a "design of refreshing beauty."

He revealed that Dodge engineers have incorporated over 100 structural and mechanical innovations in the longer, lower and wider 1955 line. He said all four-door sedans have a distinct touch of hardtop styling.

OFFERING THREE SERIES—the new and luxurious Custom Royal, the richly appointed Royal and the classic Coronet—the '55 Dodge has a built-in look of action, resulting from its swept-back design.

Performance to bear out the air-slicing swiftness in styling is provided by a wide choice of engines—the "Get-Away Six" developing 123 horsepower, the all-new Red Ram V-8 rated at 175 horsepower, the Super Red Ram V-8 at 183 horsepower, and the super-powered Super Red Ram V-8 at 193 horsepower.

NEWBERG ANNOUNCED another automotive first for Dodge in the introduction of three-tone combinations on Dodge Lancer hardtop and convertible models. These multiple-tone paints accent the flair styling and permit exciting new combinations in exterior color design.

FROM FRONT to rear the 1955 Dodge conveys an impression of classic, clean-lined simplicity. A feeling of streamlined flight is embodied in the car from the twin-opening grille to the twin-jet taillights.

All 14 models have an increased wheelbase of 120 inches. Overall length is increased by as much as 16 inches on some models, but the cars appear even more lengthy due to Dodge's flair styling.

Moving from the massive chrome grille is a dashing V-type hood ornament, accenting the low, sweeping hood and fast line of the front fenders. Chrome hoods over headlights further emphasize the impression of forward motion.

"NEW HORIZON" windshields wrap around at both top and bottom of the glass for improved and safer vision. The windshield provides cockpit-like visibility for driver and front seat passengers.

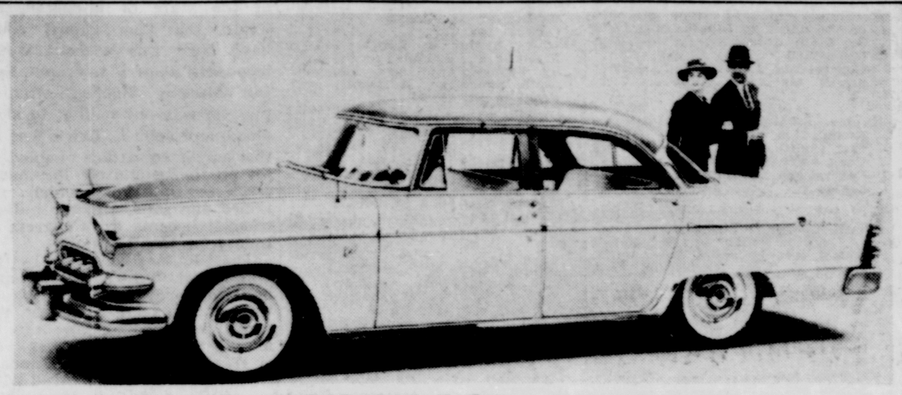
The "tumble home," or inboard slant of the car's sides above the belt line, creates an appearance of low, road-hugging massiveness. Doors, too, are new and different—pertly cut back, but wider for easy entry.

Novel treatment of flared rear wheel openings provides a speed-enhancing style feature. The rear deck continues the theme of motion, while increasing usable trunk space by two cubic feet to 37.6 cubic feet with spare tire installed.

Inside, the 1955 Dodge control panel can be compared to an airplane pilot's flight control panel. Dials are placed in a row before the driver and clustered under an "eyebrow" to reduce glare.

THE WIDER INTERIOR is flair-fashioned in harmonious color blends. Easily-cleaned Cordagrain is combined with exclusive double-patterned Jacquard seat cloths. Door panels are dramatically decorated with two-tone color designs and chrome, complimenting the new Dodge upholstery and trim.

R. C. Somerville, Dodge vice president in charge of sales, pointed out that along with the new Dodge engines, the gear selector lever for PowerFlite transmission will share the spotlight as a major mechanical innovation.



THE FLAIR-STYLED 1955 DODGE FEATURES A DASHING HOOD ornament, projected headlight hoods, "New Horizon" swept-around windshield, cut back doors, flared wheel openings and streamlined rear deck. This four-door sedan in the Custom Royal Series has a Super Red Ram V-8 engine of 183 horsepower. Two-tone paint treatment accents the lowered roof line, sloping hood, and twi-jet taillight section.

Death Rate Higher Above 10

Scientists are puzzled by the fact that the U. S. infant mortality rate is one of the lowest in the world but that among people above the age of 10, U. S. death rates are higher than those in a number of other countries.

HIGHLAND NEWS

Highland, Nov. 15—Attending the Bouton-Burke wedding in Kingston last week were Mr. and Mrs. Allan Hasbrouck, Miss Joan Hasbrouck, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Brown. The bride, Miss Ruth Marilyn Burke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Burke, was several years a resident here while her father was coach in the Central School.

John Graham, who had been a patient at Vassar Hospital, returned home Sunday.

Mrs. James Byers of Litchfield, Conn., has been spending this week at the home of her sisters, the Misses Edith and Hattie Dickinson. The former is a patient at Vassar Hospital where she had undergone surgery Monday.

Mrs. James Dowd has returned from a visit in New York.

The Thursday Bridge Club was entertained by Mrs. Charles Whittaker.

Mrs. Emil Reifert, Valley Stream, L. I., has been a guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Coy.

Miron Mihuka, vocational agriculture in the Central School, is spending the weekend at Cornell of which he is a graduate.

Mrs. Peter Roumelis came home Saturday from Vassar Hospital where she had been a patient and underwent an operation.

Mrs. Thomas Sears attended the meeting of her bridge club in Marlborough Thursday.

Peter Roumelis, William Haviland, Harvey Seaman of Mechanicsville have been at the Richard Haviland camp in the Adirondacks on a hunting trip.

Lloyd Post American Legion met ast week and was presided over by Commander Nicholas Marrone. Reports by Joseph Martorana on his part for the Legion in the Halloween party and Joseph Lyons on the progress of the band rehearsals were given. Commander Marrone appointed Benjamin Bragg chairman of the annual children's Christmas party. Walter A. Clark told the members that Lloyd Post had exceeded its quota of members. Peter Roumelis and Benjamin Bragg were asked to be in charge of the firing squad in the village square Thursday. The next meeting will take place Nov. 17. The Veterans Day dance Saturday night at Hotel DiPrima was attended by 175.

The roll call supper in the Presbyterian Church hall Wednesday night was attended by 82 who enjoyed a roast pork meal with Mrs. C. W. Rathgeb, chairman. This was followed by the picture, All That I Have, being shown.

Patty Schaffer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Schaffer, Leonta Court, celebrated her seventh birthday Thursday afternoon by entertaining a group of her friends including Leslie Kerpen, Susan Marrone, Peter Stellar, Cheryl Stellar, Daryl Kerpen, Joe Noe, Teddy Roumelis, Stephen Burnett, Mary Jane Marrone, Anne Francine Stellevato. The little folks had games and refreshments and the hostess received many gifts.

The Ganse Church School will meet Thursday night, Nov. 18, with Mrs. Harry B. Cotant, Jr.

A total of 150 more children attending the Central School have been insured in the Schooltime Accident Insurance for children at $1 a year. Added to the number who joined the program last June, this totals nearly 700 pupils who now have this protection against accidents. This plan, in which participation is entirely voluntary, protects the student during the policy term, which is written for a 12-month period for injuries received while attending school during the hours and on the days when school is in session, including coverage for sports, gym, physical education activities, shop, field trips; while traveling directly to and from school, while participating in school sponsored and supervised activities either away from school premises or after school hours.

The meeting of the Mission Circle will be held at the Presbyterian manse Wednesday at 2 p. m. Owing to the roll call supper the meeting date was changed.

Why We Say--

UMBRELLA

The unbrella is more than 2,000 years old. It has been depicted in ancient drawings on walls in the city of Nineveh as a sun shield. But the umbrella was not used as a shield from rain until it was introduced into England in 1760.

Introduce New Kaiser-Willys On TV Show

Kaiser-Willys' 1955 passenger car and utility line will be shown privately to dealers throughout the United States and Canada December 8 in the first transcontinental closed-circuit television show ever used by an automobile company to introduce its new models to its sales organization, Alex Embree, Jr., Kaiser-Willys dealer in Kingston, announced today.

THE CLOSED CIRCUIT TV show, which will originate in New York city, will be shown to more than 10,000 distributors, dealers and field sales personnel assembled in 22 cities in the U. S. and Canada, he added.

The precedent-shattering private showing of the new line will precede by a month the formal public introduction.

"In addition to moving pictures of the passenger cars, Jeeps, and other four wheel-drive utility vehicles in action, we will be given complete details of Kaiser-Willys' 1955 merchandising plans," Embree reported. "Production models of the new cars, trucks and Jeeps also will be on display at our meeting place so that we can get a close-up advance look at the great new 1955 line."

Turn Bridge Sleuth: Solve This Problem

If you fancy yourself as a bridge detective, get out your pipe and your magnifying glass, and get ready to solve the crime that took place in today's hand. You won't have much trouble spotting the crime, but you may try to put the handcuffs on the wrong player.

When the smoke of the bidding cleared away, West opened the king of spades. Declarer ruffed in dummy, took the ace of clubs, and then led out the ace and king of hearts. South next ruffed his remaining spade to get back to dummy and continued with three more rounds of hearts.

West could ruff the last heart, but South had discarded all of his diamonds by that time, and the slam could no longer be defeated.

Obviously the slam should have been defeated. It was a crime to let South make six clubs, but who was the criminal? Decide for yourself before you read on.

It's true that West could have defeated the slam by leading a diamond. Failure to open a diamond does not, however, make West the criminal. There was just no way for him to guess that the normal spade lead would be fatal.

East was the criminal because he might well have guessed that the spade opening lead would be either dangerous or fatal if the enemy went on to six clubs. East should have bid five diamonds instead of five spades in order to assure the proper opening lead.

Once East has made the jump bid of four spades he has announced that he wants to play the hand at spades no matter what else he may bid later on. If East had a real two-suiter of any kind, he would bid the hand differently.

For this reason East can feel confident that his later bid of five diamonds will be recognized as a cue-bid of some kind.

How can East tell that a diamond lead will be favorable? West's takeout double of one club showed some kind of readiness to support any suit. West cannot have much spade strength, may have very little in hearts if North's heart bid is to be believed.

West is therefore quite likely to have good diamonds. If you exchange the king and queen of diamonds, in the South and West hands, a diamond opening lead will set the contract three tricks.

The Sawkill Fire Company held its regular monthly meeting at the firehouse Monday night.

The Sawkill Home Bureau unit held a business meeting at the schoolhouse Tuesday night. Do It Yourself Kits were distributed and explained. Plans also were announced for future meetings. On Nov. 30 there will be a meeting at which time Miss Merritt, county agent, will speak on Spending to Save. All members and others interested are invited. Refreshments will be served. In October, Mrs. Paul Burton, chairman of the Sawkill unit, and several members participated in the Home Bureau housing tour.

Another thing you shouldn't take too hard is the cider season.

Wallkill Pupils Tour Local Store

The Homemaking class of the Wallkill Central School on Wednesday visited the Kaplan Furniture Company store, 68 North Front street, as a part of the program of the school. Approximately 25 students of the class under the direction of Mrs. E. Wingate made the trip. This was the second annual visit of the Homemaking class of the southern Ulster school under a program of visiting, as a part of the school work, a leading home furnishing store. This was the second time the school authorities selected the Kaplan Furniture store in Kingston.

During their visit it was pointed out by their instructor Mrs. Wingate, what to look for in selection of furniture today and the class spent an hour and a half reviewing the products carried by the local store. Furniture construction, colors and furniture placement in the home is among the things discussed by the group. Adrian Kaplan conducted the party through the store and assisted Mrs. Wingate in the program of instruction.

The name of the island of Jamaica derives from the Indian word "Xaymaca" meaning "the well-wooded land of springs and waterfalls."

Corwin to Speak

David W. Corwin, New Paltz attorney, will speak to the Adult Education Class Wednesday, Nov. 17. His topic will be Real Estate and this will include a general discussion of the problems that arise when a person buys, sells, or rents property.

MRS. ROBERT POMEROY, the former Louise Carol De Paola, whose wedding took place Saturday, Nov. 6, at Fair Street Reformed Church. (Tripod Studio)

Louise De Paola, Robert Pomeroy Wed At Fair St. Church

Miss Louise Carol De Paola, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony De Paola of Sunset Park, became the bride of Robert Lewis Pomeroy, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Pomeroy of 222 Greenkill avenue, Saturday, Nov. 6, at 2 p. m. in a double ring ceremony at Fair Street Reformed Church. The Rev. J. Dean Dykstra officiated.

The church was decorated with white pompons. Traditional wedding refrains were played on the organ.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white crystallette with pleated fischu, a Rae Barth original. Her French illusion fingertip veil was attached to a crown of tiny white flowers with pearls and rhinestones. She carried a hand bouquet of white roses and sweet peas.

Miss Gertrude Ritzhaupt of Sawkill was honor attendant. She wore a strapless gown of aquamarine crystallette with floor-length bouffant skirt and a tiny spencer jacket of matching tulle. Her headpiece was a princess crown of matching tulle. She carried a hand bouquet of pink roses and aquamarine sweetpeas.

The bridesmaids were Miss Lorene Kipp, Miss Pauline Wachtel of this city, Miss Barbara Bundy of Sunset Park, cousin of the bride, and Miss Janet Haines of Hyde Park, cousin of the bride. Their gowns and headpieces were identical to that worn by the honor attendant. They carried hand bouquets of yellow pompons with aquamarine sweet peas and yellow ribbon.

Miss Sandra De Paola, sister of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a pink crystallette gown and matching princess crown, and carried a hand bouquet of aqua pompons and pink sweet peas with aqua ribbon.

Edward Ayres, cousin of the bridegroom, served as best man. The ushers were Anthony De Paola, Jr., brother of the bride, Robert Denis, Richard Nagel and Jerald Avery.

A reception was held at the Stuyvesant Hotel for 75 guests.

The bride is a graduate of Kingston High School, and is employed by Metropolitan Insurance Company, Hall of Records.

Harriman Holds 12,148 Plurality

New York, Nov. 15 (AP)—Gov. elect Averell Harriman today held a plurality of 12,148 over his Republican opponent, U. S. Sen. Irving M. Ives.

The lead was based on official recanvass figures in 36 of the state's 62 counties and on election inspectors' reports in the others.

The latest recanvass reports came Saturday from Saratoga and Onondaga counties. The recanvassing will continue throughout the state.

Harriman, the Democratic-Liberal party candidate, had an unofficial margin of 9,657 immediately after the Nov. 2 election, and this dropped to a low of 8,405 at one time during the recanvassing of the total vote of more than 5,000,000.

IN THE CONTEST for state comptroller, Democrat - Liberal Arthur Levitt jumped Saturday to an unofficial lead of 13,849 votes over Republican Frank Del Vecchio.

This had been the closest race in the state, and immediately after the election Levitt, president of the New York city Board of Education, had an unofficial lead of only 7,855 votes over Del Vecchio, district attorney of Onondaga county.

Levitt's lead surged with discovery of a tabulating error in counting the comptroller returns in Broome county. The unofficial count in Broome county immediately after the election credited Del Vecchio with 49,078, and a recheck showed the figures should be 40,078. The recanvass in Broome gave Levitt 18,464.

Good Taste Today

By EMILY POST

(Author of Etiquette, Children Are People, etc.)

A QUESTION OF FRIENDLINESS

Today's first question concerns Christmas cards: "We have a snapshot of our two children sitting beside the Christmas tree. This picture was taken last year and it turned out so well that we are using it on our Christmas cards this year. However, my husband has many business friends whom he sends Christmas cards and we were wondering if this card may properly be sent to them as well as to intimate friends and relatives. Somehow I feel that it is much too personal a card to send to business acquaintances and that a more formal type of card should be sent them. What is your opinion?

It depends entirely on how well he knows them and how friendly they are. If he has often spoken to them about his children, it would be entirely proper to send them a card with their pictures. If they are people he hardly knows and has talked with them on business subjects only, then I think a more impersonal card would be better.

When Men Are Not Included

Dear Mrs. Post: When a bridal shower is given, is it proper for the prospective bridegroom to be present throughout the evening? Recently I was told that he should be invited too and that he helped the bride open the presents. I should think he would feel terribly out of place. Will you please advise me as I am going to give a shower for a friend and want to know what to do about inviting the bridegroom-to-be?

Answer: So far as I know the bridegroom-to-be is never present while the presents are being opened. (Certainly not at a lingerie shower). Generally he comes in later to help her take her packages home.

Asking A Favor

Dear Mrs. Post: A friend of mine is going on a trip shortly to a country that is noted for its fine woolens and they are far less expensive than they are here. Would it be an imposition to ask her to bring me back a sweater? I will pay for it of course.

Answer: If you remember to provide your friend with money to pay the customs duty as well as the purchase price, it would not be an imposition to ask her to bring you a sweater.

Should popular or classical music be played at the wedding reception? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. Her leaflet E-2, includes this and other details on formal wedding procedure. Mt. Tremper, Nov. 15—The Ladies Sewing Circle met at the home of Mrs. Vera Winne Tuesday afternoon. Fourteen members attended. They sewed rags for carpets and discussed the 100th anniversary of the Mt. Tremper Dutch Reformed Church which will be celebrated Saturday, Dec. 11. Mrs. Winne served refreshments.

Bernard Brinks spent the weekend deer hunting in the Adirondacks. He was unable to bag a buck, however.

Several local members attended the SPCA meeting in Kingston Tuesday night.

The Plattekill Grange dartball teams came here to play the Mt. Tremper Grange teams Tuesday night. Both Plattekill teams won two out of three games.

The Phoenicia Chamber of Commerce held its annual dinner at the Brookside House in Mt. Tremper Tuesday night. More than 50 people attended. John Moehle, principal of the Onteora Central School, was the main speaker.

is Mrs. Umhey's brother.

A trial bus run will be made between Pine Hill and the Onteora Central School for the P-TA meeting Tuesday evening, Nov. 16. The bus will leave Pine Hill at 7:15 p. m. and will stop along Route 28 to pick up any passengers wishing transportation to the school. At the conclusion of the evening's entertainments the bus will make the trip back to Pine Hill. The trip has been arranged by courtesy of Principal John Moehle and the board of education.

Mr. and Mrs. John Callaghan and Miss Rosalia Callaghan spent the holiday in Albany.

MRS. ROBERT POMEROY, the former Louise Carol De Paola, whose wedding took place Saturday, Nov. 6, at Fair Street Reformed Church. (Tripod Studio)

Louise De Paola, Robert Pomeroy Wed At Fair St. Church

Miss Louise Carol De Paola, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony De Paola of Sunset Park, became the bride of Robert Lewis Pomeroy, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Pomeroy of 222 Greenkill avenue, Saturday, Nov. 6, at 2 p. m. in a double ring ceremony at Fair Street Reformed Church. The Rev. J. Dean Dykstra officiated.

The church was decorated with white pompons. Traditional wedding refrains were played on the organ.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white crystallette with pleated fischu, a Rae Barth original. Her French illusion fingertip veil was attached to a crown of tiny white flowers with pearls and rhinestones. She carried a hand bouquet of white roses and sweet peas.

Miss Gertrude Ritzhaupt of Sawkill was honor attendant. She wore a strapless gown of aquamarine crystallette with floor-length bouffant skirt and a tiny spencer jacket of matching tulle. Her headpiece was a princess crown of matching tulle. She carried a hand bouquet of pink roses and aquamarine sweetpeas.

The bridesmaids were Miss Lorene Kipp, Miss Pauline Wachtel of this city, Miss Barbara Bundy of Sunset Park, cousin of the bride, and Miss Janet Haines of Hyde Park, cousin of the bride. Their gowns and headpieces were identical to that worn by the honor attendant. They carried hand bouquets of yellow pompons with aquamarine sweet peas and yellow ribbon.

Miss Sandra De Paola, sister of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a pink crystallette gown and matching princess crown, and carried a hand bouquet of aqua pompons and pink sweet peas with aqua ribbon.

Edward Ayres, cousin of the bridegroom, served as best man. The ushers were Anthony De Paola, Jr., brother of the bride, Robert Denis, Richard Nagel and Jerald Avery.

A reception was held at the Stuyvesant Hotel for 75 guests.

The bride is a graduate of Kingston High School, and is employed by Metropolitan Insurance Company, Hall of Records.

Harriman Holds 12,148 Plurality

New York, Nov. 15 (AP)—Gov. elect Averell Harriman today held a plurality of 12,148 over his Republican opponent, U. S. Sen. Irving M. Ives.

The lead was based on official recanvass figures in 36 of the state's 62 counties and on election inspectors' reports in the others.

The latest recanvass reports came Saturday from Saratoga and Onondaga counties. The recanvassing will continue throughout the state.

Harriman, the Democratic-Liberal party candidate, had an unofficial margin of 9,657 immediately after the Nov. 2 election, and this dropped to a low of 8,405 at one time during the recanvassing of the total vote of more than 5,000,000.

IN THE CONTEST for state comptroller, Democrat - Liberal Arthur Levitt jumped Saturday to an unofficial lead of 13,849 votes over Republican Frank Del Vecchio.

This had been the closest race in the state, and immediately after the election Levitt, president of the New York city Board of Education, had an unofficial lead of only 7,855 votes over Del Vecchio, district attorney of Onondaga county.

Levitt's lead surged with discovery of a tabulating error in counting the comptroller returns in Broome county. The unofficial count in Broome county immediately after the election credited Del Vecchio with 49,078, and a recheck showed the figures should be 40,078. The recanvass in Broome gave Levitt 18,464.

Good Taste Today

(Author of Etiquette, Children Are People, etc.)

A QUESTION OF FRIENDLINESS

Today's first question concerns Christmas cards: "We have a snapshot of our two children sitting beside the Christmas tree. This picture was taken last year and it turned out so well that we are using it on our Christmas cards this year. However, my husband has many business friends whom he sends Christmas cards and we were wondering if this card may properly be sent to them as well as to intimate friends and relatives. Somehow I feel that it is much too personal a card to send to business acquaintances and that a more formal type of card should be sent them. What is your opinion?

It depends entirely on how well he knows them and how friendly they are. If he has often spoken to them about his children, it would be entirely proper to send them a card with their pictures. If they are people he hardly knows and has talked with them on business subjects only, then I think a more impersonal card would be better.

When Men Are Not Included

Dear Mrs. Post: When a bridal shower is given, is it proper for the prospective bridegroom to be present throughout the evening? Recently I was told that he should be invited too and that he helped the bride open the presents. I should think he would feel terribly out of place. Will you please advise me as I am going to give a shower for a friend and want to know what to do about inviting the bridegroom-to-be?

Answer: So far as I know the bridegroom-to-be is never present while the presents are being opened. (Certainly not at a lingerie shower). Generally he comes in later to help her take her packages home.

Asking A Favor

Dear Mrs. Post: A friend of mine is going on a trip shortly to a country that is noted for its fine woolens and they are far less expensive than they are here. Would it be an imposition to ask her to bring me back a sweater? I will pay for it of course.

Answer: If you remember to provide your friend with money to pay the customs duty as well as the purchase price, it would not be an imposition to ask her to bring you a sweater.

Between each of the acts, the KHS orchestra, under the direction of Harold Weaver, will play selections.

COLLEGE SCHOLARSHIP SERVICE is the cooperative activity of 92 colleges, handling confidential statements submitted by parents for forms of financial aid, such as scholarships and loans. Colleges under this plan agree scholarships should be awarded to students requiring financial aid, if they are properly qualified. The statement, filled out entirely by the parents, give the colleges a clear picture of the family's status.

The service makes photographic copies at a small fee to cover the service's cost of the statements and forwards them to the colleges named by the parents. The service does not determine or award scholarships as each college has its own standard for measuring financial need and awarding aid.

This is a new service put into operation for the first time this year.

DAME RUMOR workers, under the supervision of Miss Agnes Scott Smith, attended the 17th annual convention of the Empire State School Press Association in Syracuse. Also making the trip were Madeline Barnovitz, Lois Brown, Myron Epstein, Barbara Schwartzberg and Helen Stevenson. There were 130 schools represented from throughout the state. Miss Smith was elected vice-president of the ESSPA. Dame Rumor received second place awards for columns writted by Donald Terry and an interview by Paula Weiner. Front page and editorial page received third place awards. Honorable mention for an article on school service also was received at the convention.

Student Council held its fall DUSO meeting Oct. 27 at Newburgh Free Academy with 35 schools on hand. Cliff Johnson, Bob Maines, Nancy Ellsworth and Louis Nardi represented KHS.

With KHS in charge of school problems, the morning was devoted to four workshops. Acting as chairmen was Robert Maines, KHS president and Nancy Ellsworth, secretary.

After having lunch in the cafeteria, the group held a general session. Miss Ellsworth gave a report on the morning workshop. The meeting then adjourned and the students toured NFA.

A speech, later in the afternoon, was delivered by Principal Fowler and the superintendent of school, Dr. Monson. They both spoke on The Value of Student Government in Schools.

FUTURE NURSES OF AMERICA, with their advisor, Miss Kinkade, attended a tea Nov. 6 at the nurses' home at Benedictine Hospital. The following senior girls, members of the club, received club pins from the Medical Association; Peggy Bruck, Esther Emerick, Sue Hook, Betty Lou Whitmore, Audrey Justis, Nancy Stengle and Barbara Zimmerman.

The club officers, consisting of Judy Keller, president; Barbara Zimmerman, vice president and Marilyn Carver, secretary, were introduced to the hostesses after which the hostesses told about the different schools they trained in and showed their caps and pins.

Mrs. Hazenbush then called on the vice president to give a report on the activities of the club. Refreshments were served.

West Hurley Vet Seeks Gifts for Korean Children

Pfc. Calvin R. Brueckner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Brueckner of West Hurley, who is serving with the 21st Station Hospital in Korea, has written a letter to The Freeman in the hopes that he may hear from some of his friends throughout Ulster county who may be interested in sending gifts for underprivileged children in Korea.

In his letter Pfc. Brueckner enclosed several pictures of Korean children, poorly clothed and evidently undernourished.

During the Christmas season last year, individuals and units throughout the Korean Communications Zone participated in welfare activities to help those Koreans in need. This demonstration of good will and generosity brought comfort and cheer to many, and helped greatly to further Korean-American friendship and understanding, writes Brueckner.

WITH THAT in view another "Operations Santa Claus" is being conducted during 1954. In order to carry out this program contributions of toys, food, clothing, blankets, etc., is being solicited.

Brueckner, whose address is 21st Station Hospital, APO 59, San Francisco, Calif., concludes, "it would be greatly appreciated by Korea's thousands of underprivileged if you could aid in this operation. If you do not wish to donate goods, monetary gifts will be acceptable. They will be applied toward the purchase of "CARE" packages. Under a special provision of the "CARE" organization, any parcel purchased by a unit in Korea will be matched, free, with an identical package or of equal value. I know you will help me in making this worthwhile operation a success. Parcels or money donated may be forwarded to me addressed to me, c/o Commanding Officer, 21st Station."

Although goose quills were most often used for pens, the quills of hawks, swans, crows, eagles, owls, peacocks and turkeys also were used.

HEALTH FOR ALL

HOLIDAY DIET

This is not a column about the frightful dangers of overeating. Of course, at Thanksgiving dinner everyone will eat more than he really needs, but no serious illness is likely to result. Go ahead and plan a menu with all your favorite dishes. It's a once-a-year feast. It's a time to enjoy.

HOW LONG HAS it been since you've had any fun? How long since you laughed right out loud? If it hasn't been very recent, if you've been too busy, or life has been too serious, you had better do something about it right away. The doctors tell us we need to have some fun in our diet of living in order to be healthy. Their advice to many housewives who come to them tired, nervous, irritable, and heading for a nervous breakdown is to practice playing.

Let's start with Thanksgiving Day. It won't be easy for some people to stick to a diet of pleasure. However, by starting slowly on November 25, you may be really able to enjoy yourself by New Year's Day.

There's no single formula for having a good time. Your pleasure may be someone else's boredom. Is a big gathering of relative a nightmare to you? You don't have to have one every holiday. Perhaps it's just preparing a huge meal that you dislike. Try dividing the production up among your guests, and save yourself some part you really enjoy. If you want to go to the football game with your family, stack the dishes just this once. If you really hate sitting in a windy stadium, stay home and enjoy yourself in your own way for a few hours.

DON'T STOP with Thanksgiving Day. Start each day by asking yourself how you can make it more fun. Add spice to your life by changing your daily routine. See more people. Go out to the movies, theatre, dances, concerts, and club meetings. Take some exercise in the form of a sport you enjoy. Discover your hobby. Choose something that comes easily to you, not something you feel you ought to enjoy. You will find that your body's machinery will run better on a balanced diet of work and play.

NOTHING TO BUY — NO STRINGS. GET FREE COUPON

12 DAY CRUISE TO SOUTH AMERICA FOR 2!

One of the most exciting contests ever held in this city got underway Friday when Union-Fern opened its new "Jolliest Christmas Contest" with 50 fabulous prizes, including a trip to Europe for 2 or $1200 in cash as the first prize.

Following on the heels of the spectacular Heart's Desire Contest that Union-Fern ran in October, the local home furnishings firm comes right back with an even bigger, more exciting contest which is open to all residents of the area (except U-F employes or their families) absolutely free.

The entry requirement is simple. Go to the nearest Union-Fern store, 328 Wall St., Kingston, N. Y., and ask for a free entry coupon. Write your name and address and then deposit the coupon in the official contest box. That's all there is to it. Nothing to buy; no obligation of any kind.

On Christmas eve the 50 lucky winners will be drawn, and on Christmas morning telegrams will go out to these 50 lucky people advising them of the prizes they won. Just imagine getting a telegram on Christmas morning telling you that you won a 17-day all expenses paid Simmons "Gateway" tour of Europe for 2 persons absolutely free, as guest of Union-Fern (or $1200 in cash instead of the trip if you prefer) or a 12-day cruise to South America, all expenses paid for 2 persons! And there are 48 other prizes including merchandise certificates good for $250, $100, $50, $25, etc., to be used in selecting anything from Union-Fern of your own selection.

This is by far the biggest contest ever run in this area. Fifty lucky winners will be selected on Christmas eve. And it costs nothing to enter . . . no obligation . . . no strings. Just go to your nearest Union-Fern store, 328 Wall St., Kingston, N. Y., and ask for a free entry coupon. Fill in your name and address and deposit it in the official contest box. That's all there is to it. Get your free entry coupon today.

KHS News

(This column is written each week by members of the Journalism Club of Kingston High School).

PRISMA'S ANNUAL MAGAZINE drive ended officially Nov. 5 with more than $9,600 subscriptions sold. This was the highest amount ever collected. Approximately 418 girls sold three or more magazine subscriptions.

Karen Trowbridge, who sold $242.30, received the first prize of $50. In second place was Nancy Silvestri who received a $40 certificate for selling $228.05. The third prize of $30 went to Norma Campbell.

Certificates worth $25 were awarded to the following girls who sold $100 or more: Judith Parker, Rose Berardi, Phyllis Kantrowitz, Joyce La Guardia, Drusilla Freer, Mary Lou Miller, Susan Haver, Carole Diehl and Marie Schellhammer.

Girls who sold $60 to $99 were given a certificate of $12.95. Those girls were Margaret Nickerson, Carol Van Derzee, Paula Abelove, Barbara Bomer, Wilhilmina Wilgert, Susan Ashley, Nancy Hutton, Kathi Haggerty, Nancy Remmert, Lorraine Etienne, Mary Whitford, Marcy Levine, Mary Cutler, Sarah Crispell, Mary Lapo, Barbara Miller, Jacqueline Burhans, Eleanor Greene, Barbara Finley, Mary Blum, Doris Ferguson, Linda Etchells, Estelle Fatum, Margaret Moore, Nancy Elsworth, Rose Rammer, Rene Van Demark, Diane Mower and A. Cates.

The following sold $30-$59.99 and received a certificate of $3: Marlene Hollenbeck, Joyce Munson, Mary Joan Palen, Patti Vendriesco, Kathleen Byrne, Barbara Weber, Anita Williams, Jacke Rethier, Lenny Styles, Mary Davis, Carol Dykes, Mary Ellsworth, Mary Eng, Sande Tremper, Susanne Finkle, Barbara Lindhurst, J. DeCicco, Mary Duffner, Pat Van Deusen, J. Peters, Lillian Webster, Shirley Ziros, Joan Raskoskie, Betsy Milliken, Jo Berardi, Pat Melville, Elaine Lowe, Norma Campbell, Doris Dunham, Donna Kittle, Florence Casperson, Mary Sos, Rosemary Bickert, Fay Kessler, Myrna Donaldson, Joan Maxwell, Phyllis Hutton, Jane Gunther, Cynthia Haver, Sheila Langley, Mary Mower, Dorothy Arnold, Gail Edwards, Beverly Davenport, Elva Shultis, Maija Avenins, Sally Garlick, Christiana Keith, Susan Hook, Betty Mautone, Nancy Torrens, and Rosemary McDonough.

Mrs. Murray, advisor, helped make the drive a success. Money from the drive, she explained, will be used to help finance an exchange student at KHS and send a Kingston High School girl to Europe next summer under the American Field Service plan.

RADIO CLUB, which produces skits for presentations on WKNY, has again reorganized under the direction of Mrs. Anne McNelis.

This year members of the club include Donald Peck, John Krusher, Joan Reis, Amy Wells, Barbara Simmons, Jack Becholdt, Angie Weiss, Edith Werner, Marjorie Davis, Lillian Garrity, Pete Steketee, Elaine Kimbark and Betty Mautone.

Other members are Paul Modjeska, Joan Landers, George Clark, Susan Hook, John Culjak, Lois Wager, Peggy VanLoan, Barbara Hornbeck, Ronald Dittus, Anne Dugan, Charles Lockwood, Peter Lutjens and Marshall Rodden.

At a later date the club plans a trip to CBS and NBC in New York.

STUDENT COUNCIL, under the leadership of Miss L. May Quimby, once again is promoting the school clothing drive. The drive ends Monday, but Miss Quimby is sure they will have reached their goal of 20 bags of clothing.

SENIOR PLAY tickets may be exchanged for reserved seats Tuesday and Wednesday, Nov. 16 and 17, at the school.

Skidding, is the title of this production being presented by the seniors under the direction of Miss Madeleine Tarrant Nov. 18, 19 and 20. The cast includes Buddy Carpinelli, Sande Galate, Christina Keith, Elaine Macholdt, James Nerone, Cynthia Haver, Carol Ann Martin, Rollin Spinner and George Dixon.

Between each of the acts, the KHS orchestra, under the direction of Harold Weaver, will play selections.

COLLEGE SCHOLARSHIP SERVICE is the cooperative activity of 92 colleges, handling confidential statements submitted by parents for forms of financial aid, such as scholarships and loans. Colleges under this plan agree scholarships should be awarded to students requiring financial aid, if they are properly qualified. The statement, filled out entirely by the parents, give the colleges a clear picture of the family's status.

The service makes photographic copies at a small fee to cover the service's cost of the statements and forwards them to the colleges named by the parents. The service does not determine or award scholarships as each college has its own standard for measuring financial need and awarding aid.

This is a new service put into operation for the first time this year.

DAME RUMOR workers, under the supervision of Miss Agnes Scott Smith, attended the 17th annual convention of the Empire State School Press Association in Syracuse. Also making the trip were Madeline Barnovitz, Lois Brown, Myron Epstein, Barbara Schwartzberg and Helen Stevenson. There were 130 schools represented from throughout the state. Miss Smith was elected vice-president of the ESSPA. Dame Rumor received second place awards for columns written by Donald Terry and an interview by Paula Weiner. Front page and editorial page received third place awards. Honorable mention for an article on school service also was received at the convention.

Student Council held its fall DUSO meeting Oct. 27 at Newburgh Free Academy with 35 schools on hand. Cliff Johnson, Bob Maines, Nancy Ellsworth and Louis Nardi represented KHS.

With KHS in charge of school problems, the morning was devoted to four workshops. Acting as chairmen was Robert Maines, KHS president and Nancy Ellsworth, secretary.

After having lunch in the cafeteria, the group held a general session. Miss Ellsworth gave a report on the morning workshop. The meeting then adjourned and the students toured NFA.

A speech, later in the afternoon, was delivered by Principal Fowler and the superintendent of school, Dr. Monson. They both spoke on The Value of Student Government in Schools.

FUTURE NURSES OF AMERICA, with their advisor, Miss Kinkade, attended a tea Nov. 6 at the nurses' home at Benedictine Hospital. The following senior girls, members of the club, received club pins from the Medical Association; Peggy Bruck, Esther Emerick, Sue Hook, Betty Lou Whitmore, Audrey Justis, Nancy Stengle and Barbara Zimmerman.

The club officers, consisting of Judy Keller, president; Barbara Zimmerman, vice president and Marilyn Carver, secretary, were introduced to the hostesses after which the hostesses told about the different schools they trained in and showed their caps and pins.

Mrs. Hazenbush then called on the vice president to give a report on the activities of the club. Refreshments were served.

THE SENIOR PROM will be held Thanksgiving night, Nov. 25 at the Kate Walton Field House. Music for the formal prom will be furnished by Wendell Scherer's band.

Ann Schwalbach is acting as general chairman. Assisting her as chairmen of the following committees are: tickets, Bob Raible; chaperones, Peg Danford; properties, Pete Cain; refreshments, Estelle Fatum; program, Jackie Foure; decorations, Barbara Schwartzberg and advertising, Kay Stein.

ALFREDO CAVALERI, violinist, will appear Nov. 18 in the first of the special assembly programs sponsored by the Student Council.

Mr. Cavaleri has studied under the great violin teachers, Ruggiero Ricci and Mildred Taylor. He has played in about 200 other schools in New York state.

He began his musical studies at nine and toured New York state at the age of 15 playing at Amateur Nights Contests. At this assemblhy he will be accompanied by George Sanborn, pianist, from the Albany Symphony Orchestra.

CITIZENSHIP education classes recently made a trip to New York where they visited the Cloisters, which is an extension of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, and the Museum of the City of New York, which shows the growth of New York city throughout the years.

Among those making the trip with Mrs. Mildred DeWitt were Marilyn Goodman, Susan Haber, John Weeks, Michael Bruno, Jacqueline Wiegert, Elaine Kearney, Douglas Stewart, Al Streger, Pat Huben, Esther Emerick, Barbara Hornbeck and Patricia Patridis.

West Hurley Vet Seeks Gifts for Korean Children

Pfc. Calvin R. Brueckner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Brueckner of West Hurley, who is serving with the 21st Station Hospital in Korea, has written a letter to The Freeman in the hopes that he may hear from some of his friends throughout Ulster county who may be interested in sending gifts for underprivileged children in Korea.

In his letter Pfc. Brueckner enclosed several pictures of Korean children, poorly clothed and evidently undernourished.

During the Christmas season last year, individuals and units throughout the Korean Communications Zone participated in welfare activities to help those Koreans in need. This demonstration of good will and generosity brought comfort and cheer to many, and helped greatly to further Korean-American friendship and understanding, writes Brueckner.

WITH THAT in view another "Operations Santa Claus" is being conducted during 1954. In order to carry out this program contributions of toys, food, clothing, blankets, etc., is being solicited.

Brueckner, whose address is 21st Station Hospital, APO 59, San Francisco, Calif., concludes, "it would be greatly appreciated by Korea's thousands of underprivileged if you could aid in this operation. If you do not wish to donate goods, monetary gifts will be acceptable. They will be applied toward the purchase of "CARE" packages. Under a special provision of the "CARE" organization, any parcel purchased by a unit in Korea will be matched, free, with an identical package or of equal value. I know you will help me in making this worthwhile operation a success. Parcels or money donated may be forwarded to me addressed to me, c/o Commanding Officer, 21st Station."

Although goose quills were most often used for pens, the quills of hawks, swans, crows, eagles, owls, peacocks and turkeys also were used.

HOLIDAY DIET

This is not a column about the frightful dangers of overeating. Of course, at Thanksgiving dinner everyone will eat more than he really needs, but no serious illness is likely to result. Go ahead and plan a menu with all your favorite dishes. It's a once-a-year feast. It's a time to enjoy.

HOW LONG HAS it been since you've had any fun? How long since you laughed right out loud? If it hasn't been very recent, if you've been too busy, or life has been too serious, you had better do something about it right away. High School Routs Poughkeepsie by Record Margin of 54-0

Score Third Highest in KHS History; Nash Scores 4 TDs, Ashdown Three

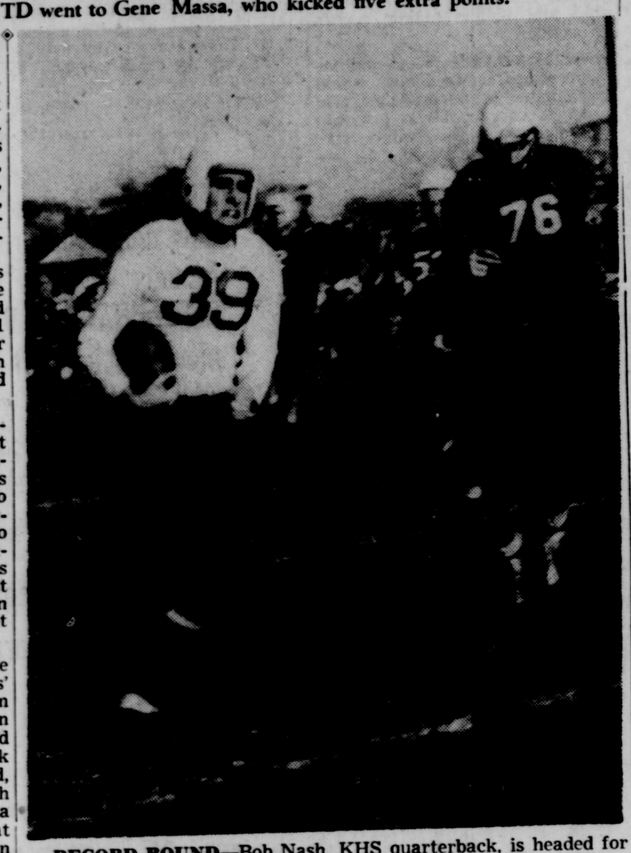
Kingston High's football team has followed a hot and cold pattern during the current campaign. But Saturday afternoon on the sun-drenched Dietz Stadium turf they fairly sizzled against Poughkeepsie High.

Not only did they reduce the ancient foe from the Bridge City to a shambles. But they set an all-time scoring record for the series by crushing Sam Kalloch's badly mangled Blues, 54-0.

A thrilling 78-yard TD gallop with an intercepted pass by quarterback Bob Nash late in the fourth quarter set the new record. By that time Coach Bill Burke had cleared the bench and the gates of mercy were wide open.

KINGSTON'S BEST PREVIOUS score against Poughkeepsie was the 48-0 crusher back in 1915. Saturday's total was the third highest in KHS history, surpassed only by the 59-0 win over Mechanicville in 1915 and the 56-0 triumph over Newburgh Academy in 1919.

Quarterback Bob Nash, with Ronnie Ashdown running in the finest form of his career, perpetrated the worst defeat in Sam Kalloch's coaching history. Nash scored four touchdowns and Ashdown got three. The eighth TD went to Gene Massa, who kicked five extra points.



RECORD BOUND—Bob Nash, KHS quarterback, is headed for the touchdown that gave the Maroon a record 54-0 victory over Poughkeepsie Saturday. In futile pursuit is Bob Stickles (76), Poughkeepsie fullback. Nash went 78 yards with an intercepted pass. (Freeman Photo)

KINGSTON STRUCK quickly in the first quarter when Monty Stickles, the Poughkeepsie booter was rushed and got only six yards on a punt. Then in succession the crisp hitting Maroons cashed in on a fumble recovery, pitchout fumble, blocked kick, Two long marches followed and, finally, a pair of TDs on a recovered kickoff and Nash's intercepted pass.

So thoroughly did Kingston's hard charging line dominate the Blues that the visitors were held to 73 yards rushing but only 21 net as they were smeared for losses of 53 yards. Kingston gained 245 yards on the ground and 75 in the air lanes.

THERE WAS NO talk of records when Kingston led 13-0 at the quarter but a 21-point second period put the Maroons ahead 34-0 and guys began to think. Midway in the third quarter Coach Bill Burke began to clear the bench without appreciably slowing up the relentless attack. There is no telling what the final count would have been had Burke stayed with his first string operators.

KINGSTON HELD ON the first kickoff and when Stickles' kick went only six yards from the Poughkeepsie 27, the Maroon made its first move. A 15 yard holding penalty set them back to the 48. Nash picked up a yard, a pass was incomplete and Nash hit Ronnie Ashdown with a beautifully executed aerial at midfield around the 12. Ashdown scampered over untouched and Massa placekicked the first of five extra points to put Kingston ahead, 7-0.

Neal Keyser swooped down on a fumble on Poughkeepsie's 32 on the next kickoff. Four plays later including a spectacular 29-year pass play from Ashdown to Fred Jackson reached the 1 and Nash bucked over. The pass for extra point failed and it was 13-0.

FRED JACKSON recovered a fumbled pitchout shortly after and it took only three plays this time. Massa, who was shuttled in and out of the lineup like a Paul Brown messenger, broke off tackle on a twisting 20-yard scoring thrust then kicked the extra point.

Kingston went 68 yards for its 4th TD, with Tex Ritter making a save with a fumble recovery on the Poughkeepsie 27. Ashdown carried from the 25 to the 14 on a pitchout, then Nash swept right end behind a cordon of blockers to hike the score to 27-0.

Shortly before the half ended, Fred Jackson blocked a Stickles kick on the Poughkeepsie 17. Nash went three and Massa reached the 3 on a cutback. Two slams by Nash and Kingston had its fifth TD. Massa placekicked and it was 34-0 at the half.

RONNIE ASHDOWN got off the prettiest run of the day with a 42-yard off tackle burst in which he eluded a half dozen tacklers early in the third period to run the score to 40-0.

The next one came fast as Nippy Mannello recovered the kickoff on the Poughkeepsie 36. A 15 yard holding penalty didn't deter the Maroons. Bob Smith ripped to the 23 and Neal Keyser made like Bronko Nagurski carrying half the Poughkeepsie team on his shoulders to the 2. Then to the 1 foot mark and Ashdown crashed over. Bob Smith and Ronnie Gray combined a pass for the extra point to make it 47-0.

AT THE MOMENT it looked like the score would stay at 47-0. Poughkeepsie started a downfield drive on passes. Suddenly Bob Nash bobbed up in front of a Monty Stickles pass on the Kingston 22. He gathered it, collected blockers and moved up the sideline past the Kingston bench and rooting section. En route Aiello and Fred Jackson delivered bone crunching blocks. Mr. Nash was untouched as he scampered for the TD and new KHS scoring record against Poughkeepsie.

And nobody can say Bill Burke didn't open the gates of mercy.

The victory squared the Kingston record at 3 wins, 3 losses and a tie. The next and final stop is Newburgh for the Thanksgiving Day game.

Greenberg Urges Quick Expansion To Coast Cities

Cleveland, Nov. 15 (AP)—A quick expansion into two more cities will be urged on the American League at its next meeting by Hank Greenberg, general manager of the Cleveland Indians.

Greenberg, who said yesterday he already had notified league President Will Harridge he will submit the plan at the Dec. 8 meeting, said he wanted a 10-team league at the "earliest opportunity." He added that he would ask formation of a committee "to investigate sites for the new franchises."

Although Greenberg refused to name specific cities into which he believed the league should move, San Francisco and Los Angeles have been mentioned.

Frank Lane, Chicago White Sox general manager, predicts those two West coast cities will be in major league baseball within three years. He pointed out that San Francisco has approved a 5 million dollar bond issue for a stadium and that the Los Angeles Park District has earmarked 10 million for the same purpose.

Ray Myers Sparks 21-13 Victory With Long Passes

	W	L
Middletown	3	0
Kingston	2	1
Newburgh	2	1
Poughkeepsie	1	3
Port Jervis	0	3

Middletown High leads the DUSO League all by itself today. And Kingston High's hope for a tie hinges on a Port Jervis victory over the Middies Thanksgiving Day at Port Jervis.

The Middies got another sparkling show from quarterback Ray Myers to topple Newburgh Academy from the ranks of the undefeated in the DUSO, 21-13, Saturday at Newburgh.

Middletown leads with a 3-0 record. Kingston and Newburgh are tied at 2-1.

A FUMBLE RECOVERY by Bob DePew on the Newburgh 14 set up the first Middletown score early in the first period. Myers went five, passed 8 to Kim Smith and then bucked over from the 1. Myers rushed for the extra point for a 7-0 lead.

NFA's top runner, Paul Benosky sparked a march of 58 yards, with Bill Decker going over from the 1 in the third quarter. Middies led 7-6 when the kick for extra point was blocked.

TWO LONG PASSES by Ray Myers, a 30-yarder to Kim Smith and a 45-yarder to Bob DePew, with Myers getting both extra points sent Middletown ahead 21-6 in the fourth period.

Newburgh marched 61 yards late in the game, with Benosky slamming over from the 3 and place kicking the extra point.

The 15-rounder will be telecast (CBS, 10 p. m., EST), out of San Francisco's Cow Palace.

UNDEFEATED GENE (Cyclone) Fullmer, a 23-year-old, undefeated middleweight from West Jordan, Utah, headlines the card at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway Arena tonight (ABC-TV, 10 p. m., EST), for the second week in a row.

The hard-hitting Rocky Mountain copper miner drubbed Jackie La Bua at the Parkway last Monday night to make his record 25-0. His opponent tonight is Peter Mueller, former German middleweight champion who is making his U. S. debut.

Mueller once was barred for "life" in Germany for flattening a referee "who was bothering me," according to Mueller. He says "I've reformed now. I only knock out my opponents."

WELTERWEIGHTS Luther Rawlings of Chicago and Italo Scortichina of Italy meet in another TV bout tonight (Dumont-TV, 10 p. m., EST). Their contrasting styles should make this a lively affair at New York's St. Nicks.

Once-beaten, 19-year-old Floyd Patterson of Brooklyn takes on Jimmy Slade, fifth-ranking heavyweight contender from New York, in a fine eight-round pairing at Madison Square Garden Friday night (NBC radio and TV, 10 p. m., EST). The winner may get a crack at light heavyweight champion Archie Moore next year.

High School Routs Poughkeepsie by Record Margin of 54-0

Score Third Highest in KHS History; Nash Scores 4 TDs, Ashdown Three

Kingston High's football team has followed a hot and cold pattern during the current campaign. But Saturday afternoon on the sun-drenched Dietz Stadium turf they fairly sizzled against Poughkeepsie High.

Not only did they reduce the ancient foe from the Bridge City to a shambles. But they set an all-time scoring record for the series by crushing Sam Kalloch's badly mangled Blues, 54-0.

A thrilling 78-yard TD gallop with an intercepted pass by quarterback Bob Nash late in the fourth quarter set the new record. By that time Coach Bill Burke had cleared the bench and the gates of mercy were wide open.

KINGSTON'S BEST PREVIOUS score against Poughkeepsie was the 48-0 crusher back in 1915. Saturday's total was the third highest in KHS history, surpassed only by the 59-0 win over Mechanicville in 1915 and the 56-0 triumph over Newburgh Academy in 1919.

Quarterback Bob Nash, with Ronnie Ashdown running in the finest form of his career, perpetrated the worst defeat in Sam Kalloch's coaching history. Nash scored four touchdowns and Ashdown got three. The eighth TD went to Gene Massa, who kicked five extra points.

KINGSTON STRUCK quickly in the first quarter when Monty Stickles, the Poughkeepsie booter was rushed and got only six yards on a punt. Southern Cal Only Team Now Sure of Bowl Game

By ED CORRIGAN
(The Associated Press)

The list of candidates for the four major New Year's Day bowl games was down to manageable proportions today but there still was only one team with its spot definitely nailed down.

No matter what happens in its final two games against UCLA and Notre Dame, Southern California will be the host in the Rose Bowl. If the Trojans stop UCLA, the No. 1 team in the country, Saturday, they'll win the Pacific Coast Conference title.

If they lose, UCLA will take the crown, but the Trojans, as runners-up, get the bid anyhow. UCLA played in the Bowl last Jan. 1 and the league prohibits a team from appearing two straight years.

Otherwise everything was up in the air with the guesses and predictions flying in all directions.

Here's how they shape up:

ROSE BOWL—Southern California's Big 10 opponent will be determined Saturday when Ohio State and Michigan meet. If the undefeated Buckeyes, second in the weekly Associated Press poll of sports writers and sportscasters, win, they will get the trip to the coast.

However, if Michigan comes out on top, the two teams would finish with identical 6-1 league records and a vote would have to be taken.

COTTON BOWL—The Southwest Conference winner, which usually is decided on the last day of the season, is the host team. Arkansas seemed to have it all sewed up, but the Razorbacks got themselves beaten by Southern Methodist, 21-14.

Now if SMU whips Baylor and Texas Christian, its last two foes, the Mustangs are in.

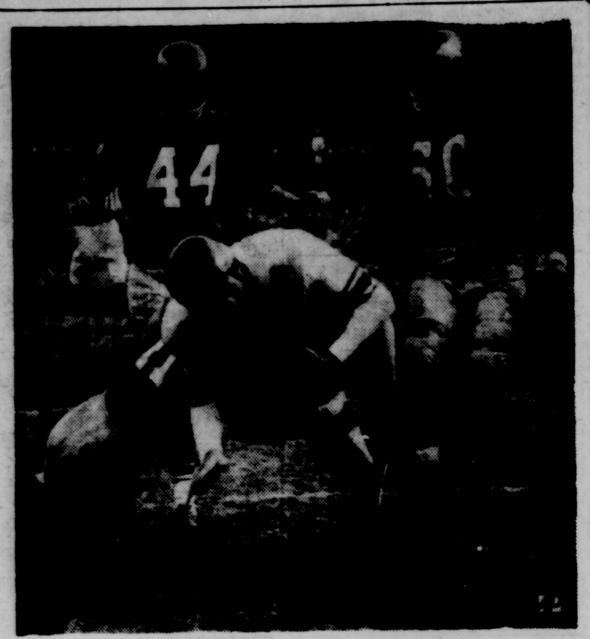
The visiting team probably will be the club that finishes second in the Southeastern Conference race.

SUGAR BOWL—The Southeastern Conference champion generally makes the jaunt to New Orleans. Right now Mississippi is in front with a 4-1 record and the best overall record in the league by far 8-1. If Ole Miss beats Mississippi State two weeks hence, the Rebs have their first title since 1947 in the bag.

The second team in the Sugar Bowl probably will be Arkansas or SMU, whichever fails to make the Cotton Bowl.

ORANGE BOWL—The host in this one is the Atlantic Coast Conference champion. Maryland, last year's national champion, striving to make another Bowl appearance, has finished its conference schedule with a 4-0-1 mark. Duke, currently sporting a 2-0 record, still must play South Carolina and North Carolina.

The opposition is bound to be easier than last year, since Oklahoma, the perennial Big Seven champion, is ineligible for having played last year. Nebraska and Kansas State still are in contention. Nebraska plays Oklahoma Saturday and State goes against Colorado. Should K-State beat Colorado and Nebraska lose to Oklahoma, a distinct possibility, the Wildcats get the bid—although the two teams would show identical 4-2 records—because State beat the Cornhuskers earlier in the year.



BOBBY TOPP IS TOPS—New York football Giant end Bobby Topp (white jersey) clutches ball after taking third period touchdown pass from Kyle Rote in National Football League's eastern conference game with Philadelphia Eagles at the Polo Grounds, New York city Sunday. Topp is tackled by Eagles' back Jerry Norton as teammates Harry Dowda (44) and Chuck Bednarik move in too late. Giants won, 27-14, to take undisputed possession of first place in the eastern conference. (AP Wirephoto)

Walter Francis O'Malley says the Dodgers won't deal off a surplus hand for money alone.

This causes you to wonder since when did The O'Malley take such a violent dislike to cabbage.

It was just two short years ago that the Brooks kindly considered to take $50,000 from the Braves for Andy Pafko.

People considerably richer than the proprietors of the Brooklyn baseball club still have no violent objection to collecting dinero. Tom Yawkey of the Red Sox, who required mazuma like Custer needed another Indian, last summer took a six-figure check from the White Sox for George Kell.

The Brooks dealing Jackie Robinson to the Giants for nothing more than filthy lucre makes sense. Perhaps O'Malley could talk Horace Stoneham into throwing in Monte Irvin. The Superbas are loaded with infielders and the departure of Robinson would relieve the marginal Flatbush operation of a $40,000 contract, which the Polo Grounders could now well afford to pick up.

Leo Durocher

ROBINSON WASN'T EXACTLY a whirlwind for the Dodgers last season. There were times, even when the UCLA alumnus was perfectly sound, that Walter Alston didn't know precisely where to put him.

Leo Durocher would see to that in Harlem. While Durocher hardly would win a popularity contest with Robinson, the man who made history across the river is one of the dandy little leader's favorite ball players.

"If you let him play long enough," Durocher keeps repeating, "Robinson will beat you. I'll take him any time."

Robinson would represent terrific bucks office on the upper west side—and still could be of considerable value to the Brooklyn side. The New York club plays 11 dates at Ebbets Field, and Robby in the livery of the hated Giants would pack the old joint every time.

ROBINSON'S SKY HIGH salary would pay half a dozen recruits on the Brooklyn roster.

Stonehan had a phenomenal season on the field with the Giants, but lost out on the World Series swag and the gate wasn't what you would expect with a pennant winner in the running all the way along the route. Stoneham, we suspect, would be more than willing to pick up the versatile Robinson's tab for a solid box office needle to help Willie Mays.

Brooklyn now has 11 men to cover second base, shortstop and third. This twin figure is reached by the current infield talent, along with five minor league prospects who made All-Star teams in the higher classification circuits.

The logical thing is to get rid of one or two or three of them, especially when the crying need will be for a catcher if Roy Campanella's hand doesn't come around.

And if Jackie Robinson bounced back to hurt the Dodgers, the pain would be greatly relieved by the gate receipts.

Detroit Lions Heading For Third League Title

By ORLO ROBERTSON
(The Associated Press)

The Detroit Lions, leading the Western Conference by two games, are well on the way to their third straight National Football League playoff and a chance to win their third successive league title.

But the road is far from easy for the New York Giants, who are atop the Eastern Conference today by the margin of a half-game.

The Lions avenged their only defeat of the season yesterday when they whipped the San Francisco 49ers 48-7 for their sixth victory in seven games. They have five games remaining—two with the Green Bay Packers and one each against the Philadelphia Eagles, Chicago Bears and the Cleveland Browns. Only the Browns, pressing the Giants for the Eastern Conference lead, figure to cause the champions any serious trouble.

MEANTIME, the Giants, who took sole possession of their division with a 6-2 record yesterday by downing the Eagles 27-14, must face the always dangerous Los Angeles Rams Sunday and then take on the Browns—in the game that could well decide the title. After the Browns they play Pittsburgh and Philadelphia. The Browns now hold a 5-2 record compared to New York's 6-2 after walloping the Bears 39-10.

The 49ers' defeat yesterday, coupled with Los Angeles' 28-17 conquest of the Chicago Cardinals, tied the Rams with San Francisco for second place back of the Lions. Pittsburgh's title hopes faded still more with a 17-14 defeat by Washington. On Saturday night, Green Bay defeated Baltimore 24-13.

THE LIONS' attack against the crippled 49ers was devastating. The first four times the champions were in possession of the ball they went for touchdowns, much to the delight of a partisan crowd of 58,431—the largest crowd ever to see a football game in Detroit's Briggs Stadium.

The Giants beat the Eagles by applying pressure all afternoon on quarterback Bobby Thomason. The New York defensive unit repeatedly tossed the Philadelphia passer for big losses and intercepted four of his aerials, three by Tom Landry.

Chuck Conerly tossed three touchdown passes to as many receivers—Frank Gifford, Bobby Topp and Ken Meafee—and Ben Agajanian kicked two field goals in five attempts.

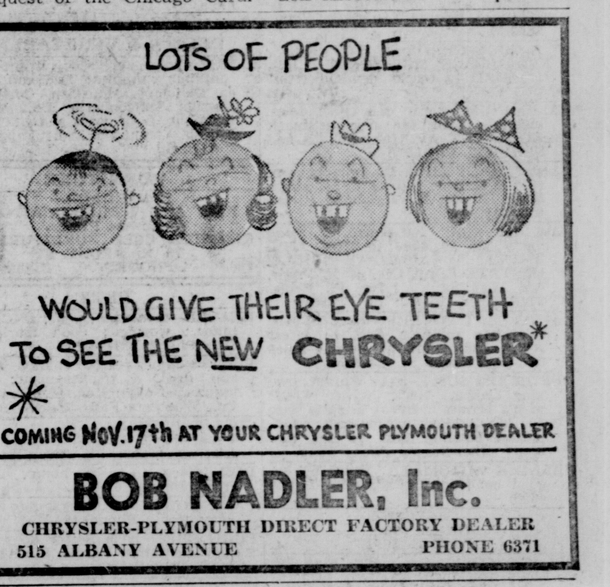
Golf Exec Dies

Augusta, Ga., Nov. 15 (AP)—Fielding H. Wallace, 74, president of the United States Golf Association from 1948 to 1950 and widely known in golfing circles, died suddenly last night. He was president of the Southern Press Cloth Co. in Augusta, secretary of the Augusta National Golf Club, and a former president of the Georgia State Golf Association.



Jim DeCicco's 633 High Series

Jim DeCicco got hotter as he went along to pace the Ferraro Mixer and city keglers with a thumping 633 triple last night at the Bowlodrome.

He knocked off games of 170, 205 and 258. The 258 and 633 were career hights for the up and coming young kegler.

John Becktold, Central Rec Mixer veteran, led that league with a 604 slam on lines of 215, 188 and 201.

Ferrell McElrath and Ed Auclair tied with 581s in the Tavern Association. Len Ward (545) and Bob Fatum (521) led the Y Mercantile.

LEN WARD fired his top series in the Y American with 197, 221 and 127 for 545. Adam Thiel posted 520, John Rockefeller 515, Ernie Magnusson 507, Harold McKenzie 504, Paul Jordan 499, Ferd Short 498, Edgar Tymeson 478, Larry Jordan 478, Sam Hayes 471.

Warriors Trip Knicks to Take Second Straight

(By The Associated Press)

The Fort Wayne Pistons and the Philadelphia Warriors over the weekend solified their claims as the two most improved clubs in the National Basketball Association this season.

The Pistons, western division leaders, scored two victories in weekend encounters to boost their record to 5-1. Fort Wayne tripped Rochester 103-98 Saturday night and edged Milwaukee 93-91 Sunday night.

The Warriors, who top the eastern section with a 2-0 slate, played only once this weekend and shaded the New York Knicks 87-86 Saturday night.

MEL HUTCHINS' basket with 13 seconds left snapped a 91-all tie and enabled the Pistons to eke out the decision over the Hawks last night. Fort Wayne, which overcame a 10-point halftime deficit, was paced by Andy Phillip's 23 points. Chuck Cooper topped Milwaukee with 27.

The Warriors handed the Knicks their second setback Saturday, but the New Yorkers came back last night to win their fifth victory at the expense of hapless Baltimore 95-93.

The Knicks led the Bullets by 12 points going into the final period, but had to stave off a last-ditch Baltimore surge. Harry Gallatin of the New Yorkers led the scoring parade with 19 points as the Bullets dropped their eighth game as against but one triumph.

Power Pays Off

Forst Packers Sweep Three From Jones Dairy

Jones Dairy waited for the big hooks to "come up" on the rugged 5 and 6 alleys at the Bowlodrome Saturday night.

Forst Packers just slammed them up tight into the 1-3 pocket, or anywhere near the headpin.

Power paid off over science and the Packers walked off with a 3-0 decision that might easily have interred the Dairy's Hudson Valley League chances for the season.

GEORGE ROBINSON sparked the Packers to a 2872 series with 608. George Shufeldt slammed 585 in the leadoff spot and Larry Petersen matched it in the anchor slot. Petersen's 233 was high single in the match.

Larry Weishaupt, the only Jones kegler who looked like himself, powered 224-219-173 for high series of 617.

RAPP'S EXPRESS dropped the last two games to Walden Shopping Center as Ken Joseph overcame a poor start to slam 224 and 210 and 578.

Frank Bandiero shot 231-578, Joe Martini 246-575 and Nick Leoce 224-582 for Walden. The visitors hit 1006 in the third set.

Jim DeCicco's 633 High Series

Jim DeCicco got hotter as he went along to pace the Ferraro Mixer and city keglers with a thumping 633 triple last night at the Bowlodrome.

He knocked off games of 170, 205 and 258. The 258 and 633 were career hights for the up and coming young kegler.

John Becktold, Central Rec Mixer veteran, led that league with a 604 slam on lines of 215, 188 and 201.

Ferrell McElrath and Ed Auclair tied with 581s in the Tavern Association. Len Ward (545) and Bob Fatum (521) led the Y Mercantile.

LEN WARD fired his top series in the Y American with 197, 221 and 127 for 545. Adam Thiel posted 520, John Rockefeller 515, Ernie Magnusson 507, Harold McKenzie 504, Paul Jordan 499, Ferd Short 498, Edgar Tymeson 478, Larry Jordan 478, Sam Hayes 471.

Warriors Trip Knicks to Take Second Straight

(By The Associated Press)

The Fort Wayne Pistons and the Philadelphia Warriors over the weekend solified their claims as the two most improved clubs in the National Basketball Association this season.

The Pistons, western division leaders, scored two victories in weekend encounters to boost their record to 5-1. Fort Wayne tripped Rochester 103-98 Saturday night and edged Milwaukee 93-91 Sunday night.

The Warriors, who top the eastern section with a 2-0 slate, played only once this weekend and shaded the New York Knicks 87-86 Saturday night.

MEL HUTCHINS' basket with 13 seconds left snapped a 91-all tie and enabled the Pistons to eke out the decision over the Hawks last night. Fort Wayne, which overcame a 10-point halftime deficit, was paced by Andy Phillip's 23 points. Chuck Cooper topped Milwaukee with 27.

The Warriors handed the Knicks their second setback Saturday, but the New Yorkers came back last night to win their fifth victory at the expense of hapless Baltimore 95-93.

The Knicks led the Bullets by 12 points going into the final period, but had to stave off a last-ditch Baltimore surge. Harry Gallatin of the New Yorkers led the scoring parade with 19 points as the Bullets dropped their eighth game as against but one triumph.

Power Pays Off

Forst Packers Sweep Three From Jones Dairy

Jones Dairy waited for the big hooks to "come up" on the rugged 5 and 6 alleys at the Bowlodrome Saturday night.

Forst Packers just slammed them up tight into the 1-3 pocket, or anywhere near the headpin.

Power paid off over science and the Packers walked off with a 3-0 decision that might easily have interred the Dairy's Hudson Valley League chances for the season.

GEORGE ROBINSON sparked the Packers to a 2872 series with 608. George Shufeldt slammed 585 in the leadoff spot and Larry Petersen matched it in the anchor slot. Petersen's 233 was high single in the match.

Larry Weishaupt, the only Jones kegler who looked like himself, powered 224-219-173 for high series of 617.

their states. Topics discussed included parks, juvenile delinquency, Port of New York and air pollution. The two governors plan to meet again, possibly with their department heads sitting in, in New Jersey.

Harriman said one of the subjects on which he and Meyner will work is the Waterfront Commission of New York harbor, set up by New York state and New Jersey to combat crime and racketeering on the two-state waterfront. Harriman also said he and Meyner, a fellow Democrat, will cooperate in efforts to develop better facilities and bring more business to the port. Water pollution and water supply are other problems listed for cooperative effort.

The two governors, Harriman said, agreed to work together on national problems. Harriman has urged that the federal minimum wage be raised from 75 cents to $1.25 an hour, partly to eliminate "unfair competition" from low-wage areas. Meyner said yesterday that both New York and New Jersey are suffering from low-wage area competition.

Harriman said he and Meyner discussed "how to combat the Republican 'big lie' technique," but details were "left for the future." Meyner commented that "if we keep getting out the facts of state government to the people, there will be less chance for the use of such tactics in the future."

Yesterday's two-hour conference was the first of a series that Harriman plans to hold with northern Democratic governors and governors-elect to discuss mutual problems.

Appleby, who has been at Syracuse University eight years, told newsmen here yesterday that he will take a leave of absence from his post there for the duration of his appointment as state budget director.

He is a former newspaperman and was named executive assistant to Secty. of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace in 1933. He was under secretary of agriculture from 1940 to 1944, and assistant director of the budget at Washington for the next three years, leaving that post to go to Syracuse University.

Will Meet Tuesday

Kingston Child Study Club No. 3, will meet Tuesday at 8 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Robert O'Reilly, Sunset Park.

ballots should be recanvassed in the returns for the city and county of Albany."

Bush said the 1,412 ballots included 942 cast by civilians and 470 cast by servicemen. The ballots of at least 17 civilians and three soldiers were found altered, he declared.

Morris charged that a 21st such case had been found after the protest was drawn up.

"The person or persons who altered these ballots must have had access to all 1,412 ballots cast in Albany county," Morris continued.

"It must be presumed that he or they tampered with more than the few which we have been able to identify in the limited time and with the limited facilities available," Morris said.

THE COURT ORDER, signed this morning by Justice Isadore Bookstein of state Supreme Court, permits the election board to inspect the absentee ballots.

Morris explained it was solely up to the Albany county Board of Elections to determine whether it would allow Bush's protest.

Morris said it was possible that a complete investigation of all 1,412 abstentee ballots might be made before the State Canvassing Board meets to certify the winners of the Nov. 2 election.

He said the absentee voters were sent in from all over the world and the statements received in many cases have been sent from great distances.

One, he explained, "is from a soldier now serving his country in Germany."

All statements were made voluntarily, Morris declared, and most were made under oath.

and Bluie West 8, an air field on the island of Greenland. What military significance this transpolar route has no one has yet said, but undoubtedly it has some.

SCANDINAVIAN Airlines, a consortium since 1946 of Swedish, Norwegian and Danish air lines, thus will establish Southern Calif. first direct link with Europe. The Arctic route, only about 30 per cent of it over water, is 600 miles shorter than the usual flying path via New York. Plane changes in New York, SAS estimates, require a minimum of seven hours; so there is additional time saved for those in a hurry to conduct business or to just see the sights of Europe—or America.

Each DC6B used on the trip, which will be twice weekly each way, will carry 32 passengers and crews of 10. There are eight berths on each with a sleeping charge of $50 each way. The round trip fare is $1,034.50. Each plane also will carry up to 2,000 pounds of cargo.

GOP Strengthens

cuss inaugural plans with Harriman's staff.

HECK AND MAHONEY said they would cooperate fully with the next governor—"whoever he may be"—in matters they considered in the best interests of the state and the people, but warned they would resist any trend toward deficit financing.

Dewey told a press conference that his budget hearing invitation and action to advance inaugural plans did not mean he was conceding victory to Harriman.

Harriman's margin of victory over Ives rose to a new high of 12,137 yesterday, based on official returns from the other 27.

Should Harriman be certified the winner, he will have to deal with an Assembly ruled 90 votes to 60 by the Republicans and a Senate controlled 34 to 24 by the GOP.

Heck and Mahoney pledged themselves to carry out the promises contained in the Republican platform adopted at the party's convention in Syracuse last September. The platform called for a constitutional amendment to legalize bingo on a local option basis, "an effective program to eliminate the financially irresponsible motorist from the highway," continuation of rent controls where needed, and 31 other proposals.

THE TWO LEADERS, declaring they would "exercise fully our powers with respect to both appropriations and taxation," said the Legislature would support any economies in the executive budget that might be suggested.

Harriman told a news conference in Syracuse Saturday that he considered the state "rundown" and "behind the rest of the nation in the matters of schools, employment, business and industry."

He said he planned programs on rents, highways, juvenile delinquency, traffic congestion and mental health. He made no specific proposals.

Dewey, queried about reports that he planned to call a special legislative session, said he had received a "number of requests" for one but had made no decision.

Last week, an informed source said there was a "60-40" chance of a special session, possibly to consider action regarding bingo, the Long Island Rail Road and the St. Lawrence power project.

A special session also would give Dewey an opportunity to make appointments and gain Senate confirmation before Harriman moved into the governor's chair.

Budget Work Is

budget as much as 100 million dollars over the record $1,143,000,000 for the current fiscal year.

THE BUDGET, by law, must be balanced.

Because the state is operating currently on a small margin of surplus income over outlay, any substantial increase in the new budget could force the incoming Democratic administration to raise taxes.

As an alternative, the new administration could propose borrowing funds from the tax stabilization reserves, designed as a safeguard against substantial decreases in revenues.

Last night, however, Assembly Speaker Oswald D. Heck and Walter J. Mahoney, Senate majority leader, declared they would "guard vigorously" the stabilization reserves.

In a joint policy statement, they said:

"WE WILL RESIST any attempt to embark on a program of deficit financing for current operations such as characterized the New Deal-Fair Deal administrations in Washington or the Roosevelt-Lehman administrations in the state prior to 1943."

Heck and Mahoney said they would "exercise fully our powers with respect to both appropriations and taxation."

Appleby is sitting in by invitation of Gov. Dewey, who revealed at a press conference Saturday that he had asked Harriman to send a representative to the hearings.

The new governor must present his budget to the Legislature by Feb. 1, a month after taking office.

Dewey said that in practice that means the budget must be sent to the printers "shortly after Jan. 1."

Chinese Press

crew, including the captain.

One of the rescued died, and many others were wounded, the Nationalists said.

There was considerable thought here that the U. S. 7th Fleet, guarding Formosa against any invasion move by the Communists, has been on patrol near the Tachens. One question being asked is: What if the Taiping had been flying the American flag?

The Nationalist view of the incident, which is Red China's first such naval victory, was summed up by Shen Chang-Huan, acting foreign minister.

HE SAID the sinking served as a warning to those who persist in believing that the Chinese Reds want peace and do not intend to invade Formosa. Most non-Chinese quarters in Taipeh, however, still doubt whether the Reds would presently violate the defense zone which the 7th Fleet is committed to defend.

Whatever happens, there is no doubt the Taiping episode has created a more explosive situation than has existed at any time since the Nationalists were driven off the mainland in 1949.

Peiping radio claimed the Taiping was sunk while on a "nuisance raid."

Peiping said that in addition to sinking the Taiping the Reds in the past two months had damaged three other destroyers and a gunboat, shot down 21 Nationalist planes and damaged 67.

Treaty Okays

Kremlin's bid was widely regarded as a move to knock out the Paris treaties.

Washington officials, while not commenting formally, branded the Communist proposal as insincere. They said it looked like a propaganda appeal, especially towards the French whose Premier Mendes-France arrives here Wednesday for consultations.

The poorwill, southwestern cousin of the whippoorwill, is the only bird which is known to hibernate.

Naguib Is Under

two policemen seriously wounded in a clash early yesterday, before Naguib's ouster, in suburban Heliopolis. A government spokesman said the fighting occurred when police closed in on Youssef Talaat, fugitive leader of the Moslem Brotherhood's secret order, and his guards tried to clear the way for his escape, using machine guns and hand grenades.

The government said Talaat, taken into custody, confessed that Naguib had approved a Brotherhood plot to kill Nasser and take over the government.

Events moved swiftly after Talaat's confession. The 10 army officers who make up the revolutionary council met in an emergency session and assigned Army Chief Gen. Hakim Amer and Wing Cmdr. Hassan Ibrahim to notify Naguib of his ouster. At the same time the army threw a heavy guard around his official residence, Abdin Palace.

A special cabinet meeting approved the council's action.

Egyptians reacted to the government's drastic moves with no outward show of emotion yesterday. Nasser's position as a public idol has mushroomed since an assassin tried to shoot him down while he was speaking Oct. 26 in Alexandria. Eight shots missed.

Accusing the Moslem Brotherhood of instigating the plot, the government has arrested 700 members.

Last week one of the prisoners testified that Naguib has promised to make a broadcast to "calm the population" if Nasser were killed. No action was taken against the president on the basis of the testimony, but he was considered under suspension.

Nasser generally is credited with masterminding the bloodless coup against Farouk two years ago. When the new government took over, however, he remained in the background as Naguib's deputy.

Under pressure, Naguib quit as president and premier last February, but the revolutionary council was forced to restore him as president because of his popularity with the masses. Nasser got the premiership.

Trouble erupted between the two again in March, when Naguib took back the premiership and chairmanship of the council. On April 15 Naguib once more stepped down, becoming a figurehead chief of state. His position grew progressively weaker after that and his popular following also gradually shifted to Nasser.

Heavy Blasts Are Reported

Local police received a series of complaints of heavy blasting, apparently on the outskirts of the city Sunday morning.

The calls were received between 8:35 and 10:46 a. m., Sunday, and reports from other sources indicated that effects of blasts in the uptown area had been noticed earlier.

A check with state police disclosed that no blasting was done along the thruway, and the best information available to local police indicated that the blasting was being done in the area of Lucas avenue extension.

The complaints to police headquarters were from residents of Lucas and Clifton avenues, Crown, Fair, Henry, Pearl, Green, Liberty and Pine streets, and Johnston avenue.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By WARREN PAGE
(Shooting Editor)

Any cracker-barrel philosopher can make out a pretty good case that there are four kinds of hunters in the world.

There are the meat hunters, whose sole aim is to bring home some kind of wild bacon. There are the fun hunters, who don't much care a hoot whether they shoot anything or not, just so they get out into the woods or fields.

Then we can't miss the brag hunters, who slay or claim to have slain large critters so they can see their names in the papers. And finally the trophy hunters, who have no interest in shooting any animal unless it is a truly remarkable example of its species, and that preferably a hard species to hunt.

THE CHAP ON THE other side of the cracker-barrel may agree or disagree with such a four-way pigeon-holing according to whether he is more or less cynical. But he'll very likely agree that the brag and trophy type are the most interesting in the genius Nimrod.

Real dyed-in-the-wool trophy hunters are a breed all to themselves. I'm thinking of the rather small cluster of men who will research and plan for years toward the taking of one specific head, lay out every last ounce of cash and effort and then not pull trigger until and unless the ultimately perfect specimen is square in the sights.

BY AND LARGE, the non-hunting public tends to think of the big game hunter as a large red-faced character, six feet two and 225 pounds, capable of bulldogging Babe the Blue Ox and either outwrestling or outdrinking Paul Bunyan as necessary. There are such. Most of them in either the first or third categories. But not so the trophy hunter.

He may very possibly be a smallish chap, perhaps under 5 feet 10, quiet-spoken and more like Greta Garbo than Marlene Dietrich as far as his attitude toward publicity is concerned. Not at all the kind of guy who stands out in a crowd or plays the life of the party. One thing he has in common with all other trophy hunters is a steady purposefulness that can be satisfied only by honest success.

I KNOW A HALF dozen such. All look more like Joe Green than they do like Buffalo Bill. Their deeds remain unsung by the newspapers, though they're common knowledge at Rowland Ward's in London, or the Boone & Crockett Club, by the major natural history museums, or whatever true trophy hunters gather.

One, I remember, planned two years for a really big grizzly bear, shot a whopper, missed the world record by a sliver of skull length, and in the smile of a good sportsman voted with the committee that judged another head a hair better than his.

Real men, these, and an interesting tribe few of us know much about.

Appleby Is Boss

their states. Topics discussed included parks, juvenile delinquency, Port of New York and air pollution. The two governors plan to meet again, possibly with their department heads sitting in, in New Jersey.

Harriman said one of the subjects on which he and Meyner will work is the Waterfront Commission of New York harbor, set up by New York state and New Jersey to combat crime and racketeering on the two-state waterfront. Harriman also said he and Meyner, a fellow Democrat, will cooperate in efforts to develop better facilities and bring more business to the port. Water pollution and water supply are other problems listed for cooperative effort.

The two governors, Harriman said, agreed to work together on national problems. Harriman has urged that the federal minimum wage be raised from 75 cents to $1.25 an hour, partly to eliminate "unfair competition" from low-wage areas. Meyner said yesterday that both New York and New Jersey are suffering from low-wage area competition.

Harriman said he and Meyner discussed "how to combat the Republican 'big lie' technique," but details were "left for the future." Meyner commented that "if we keep getting out the facts of state government to the people, there will be less chance for the use of such tactics in the future."

Yesterday's two-hour conference was the first of a series that Harriman plans to hold with northern Democratic governors and governors-elect to discuss mutual problems.

Appleby, who has been at Syracuse University eight years, told newsmen here yesterday that he will take a leave of absence from his post there for the duration of his appointment as state budget director.

He is a former newspaperman and was named executive assistant to Secty. of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace in 1933. He was under secretary of agriculture from 1940 to 1944, and assistant director of the budget at Washington for the next three years, leaving that post to go to Syracuse University.

Will Meet Tuesday

Kingston Child Study Club No. 3, will meet Tuesday at 8 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Robert O'Reilly, Sunset Park.

ballots should be recanvassed in the returns for the city and county of Albany."

Bush said the 1,412 ballots included 942 cast by civilians and 470 cast by servicemen. The ballots of at least 17 civilians and three soldiers were found altered, he declared.

Morris charged that a 21st such case had been found after the protest was drawn up.

"The person or persons who altered these ballots must have had access to all 1,412 ballots cast in Albany county," Morris continued.

"It must be presumed that he or they tampered with more than the few which we have been able to identify in the limited time and with the limited facilities available," Morris said.

THE COURT ORDER, signed this morning by Justice Isadore Bookstein of state Supreme Court, permits the election board to inspect the absentee ballots.

Morris explained it was solely up to the Albany county Board of Elections to determine whether it would allow Bush's protest.

Morris said it was possible that a complete investigation of all 1,412 abstentee ballots might be made before the State Canvassing Board meets to certify the winners of the Nov. 2 election.

He said the absentee voters were sent in from all over the world and the statements received in many cases have been sent from great distances.

One, he explained, "is from a soldier now serving his country in Germany."

All statements were made voluntarily, Morris declared, and most were made under oath.

and Bluie West 8, an air field on the island of Greenland. What military significance this transpolar route has no one has yet said, but undoubtedly it has some.

SCANDINAVIAN Airlines, a consortium since 1946 of Swedish, Norwegian and Danish air lines, thus will establish Southern Calif. first direct link with Europe. The Arctic route, only about 30 per cent of it over water, is 600 miles shorter than the usual flying path via New York. Plane changes in New York, SAS estimates, require a minimum of seven hours; so there is additional time saved for those in a hurry to conduct business or to just see the sights of Europe—or America.

Each DC6B used on the trip, which will be twice weekly each way, will carry 32 passengers and crews of 10. There are eight berths on each with a sleeping charge of $50 each way. The round trip fare is $1,034.50. Each plane also will carry up to 2,000 pounds of cargo.

GOP Strengthens

cuss inaugural plans with Harriman's staff.

HECK AND MAHONEY said they would cooperate fully with the next governor—"whoever he may be"—in matters they considered in the best interests of the state and the people, but warned they would resist any trend toward deficit financing.

Dewey told a press conference that his budget hearing invitation and action to advance inaugural plans did not mean he was conceding victory to Harriman.

Harriman's margin of victory over Ives rose to a new high of 12,137 yesterday, based on official returns from the other 27.

Should Harriman be certified the winner, he will have to deal with an Assembly ruled 90 votes to 60 by the Republicans and a Senate controlled 34 to 24 by the GOP.

Heck and Mahoney pledged themselves to carry out the promises contained in the Republican platform adopted at the party's convention in Syracuse last September. The platform called for a constitutional amendment to legalize bingo on a local option basis, "an effective program to eliminate the financially irresponsible motorist from the highway," continuation of rent controls where needed, and 31 other proposals.

THE TWO LEADERS, declaring they would "exercise fully our powers with respect to both appropriations and taxation," said the Legislature would support any economies in the executive budget that might be suggested.

Harriman told a news conference in Syracuse Saturday that he considered the state "rundown" and "behind the rest of the nation in the matters of schools, employment, business and industry."

He said he planned programs on rents, highways, juvenile delinquency, traffic congestion and mental health. He made no specific proposals.

Dewey, queried about reports that he planned to call a special legislative session, said he had received a "number of requests" for one but had made no decision.

Last week, an informed source said there was a "60-40" chance of a special session, possibly to consider action regarding bingo, the Long Island Rail Road and the St. Lawrence power project.

A special session also would give Dewey an opportunity to make appointments and gain Senate confirmation before Harriman moved into the governor's chair.

budget as much as 100 million dollars over the record $1,143,000,000 for the current fiscal year.

THE BUDGET, by law, must be balanced.

Because the state is operating currently on a small margin of surplus income over outlay, any substantial increase in the new budget could force the incoming Democratic administration to raise taxes.

As an alternative, the new administration could propose borrowing funds from the tax stabilization reserves, designed as a safeguard against substantial decreases in revenues.

Last night, however, Assembly Speaker Oswald D. Heck and Walter J. Mahoney, Senate majority leader, declared they would "guard vigorously" the stabilization reserves.

In a joint policy statement, they said:

"WE WILL RESIST any attempt to embark on a program of deficit financing for current operations such as characterized the New Deal-Fair Deal administrations in Washington or the Roosevelt-Lehman administrations in the state prior to 1943."

Heck and Mahoney said they would "exercise fully our powers with respect to both appropriations and taxation."

Appleby is sitting in by invitation of Gov. Dewey, who revealed at a press conference Saturday that he had asked Harriman to send a representative to the hearings.

The new governor must present his budget to the Legislature by Feb. 1, a month after taking office.

Dewey said that in practice that means the budget must be sent to the printers "shortly after Jan. 1."

crew, including the captain.

One of the rescued died, and many others were wounded, the Nationalists said.

There was considerable thought here that the U. S. 7th Fleet, guarding Formosa against any invasion move by the Communists, has been on patrol near the Tachens. One question being asked is: What if the Taiping had been flying the American flag?

The Nationalist view of the incident, which is Red China's first such naval victory, was summed up by Shen Chang-Huan, acting foreign minister.

HE SAID the sinking served as a warning to those who persist in believing that the Chinese Reds want peace and do not intend to invade Formosa. Most non-Chinese quarters in Taipeh, however, still doubt whether the Reds would presently violate the defense zone which the 7th Fleet is committed to defend.

Whatever happens, there is no doubt the Taiping episode has created a more explosive situation than has existed at any time since the Nationalists were driven off the mainland in 1949.

Peiping radio claimed the Taiping was sunk while on a "nuisance raid."

Peiping said that in addition to sinking the Taiping the Reds in the past two months had damaged three other destroyers and a gunboat, shot down 21 Nationalist planes and damaged 67.

Treaty Okays

Kremlin's bid was widely regarded as a move to knock out the Paris treaties.

Washington officials, while not commenting formally, branded the Communist proposal as insincere. They said it looked like a propaganda appeal, especially towards the French whose Premier Mendes-France arrives here Wednesday for consultations.

The poorwill, southwestern cousin of the whippoorwill, is the only bird which is known to hibernate.

Naguib Is Under

two policemen seriously wounded in a clash early yesterday, before Naguib's ouster, in suburban Heliopolis. A government spokesman said the fighting occurred when police closed in on Youssef Talaat, fugitive leader of the Moslem Brotherhood's secret order, and his guards tried to clear the way for his escape, using machine guns and hand grenades.

The government said Talaat, taken into custody, confessed that Naguib had approved a Brotherhood plot to kill Nasser and take over the government.

Events moved swiftly after Talaat's confession. The 10 army officers who make up the revolutionary council met in an emergency session and assigned Army Chief Gen. Hakim Amer and Wing Cmdr. Hassan Ibrahim to notify Naguib of his ouster. At the same time the army threw a heavy guard around his official residence, Abdin Palace.

Amer and Hassan escorted Naguib to a home in Merg, eight miles from the capital.

A special cabinet meeting approved the council's action.

Egyptians reacted to the government's drastic moves with no outward show of emotion yesterday. Nasser's position as a public idol has mushroomed since an assassin tried to shoot him down while he was speaking Oct. 26 in Alexandria. Eight shots missed.

Accusing the Moslem Brotherhood of instigating the plot, the government has arrested 700 members.

Last week one of the prisoners testified that Naguib has promised to make a broadcast to "calm the population" if Nasser were killed. No action was taken against the president on the basis of the testimony, but he was considered under suspension.

Nasser generally is credited with masterminding the bloodless coup against Farouk two years ago. When the new government took over, however, he remained in the background as Naguib's deputy.

Under pressure, Naguib quit as president and premier last February, but the revolutionary council was forced to restore him as president because of his popularity with the masses. Nasser got the premiership.

Trouble erupted between the two again in March, when Naguib took back the premiership and chairmanship of the council. On April 15 Naguib once more stepped down, becoming a figurehead chief of state. His position grew progressively weaker after that and his popular following also gradually shifted to Nasser.

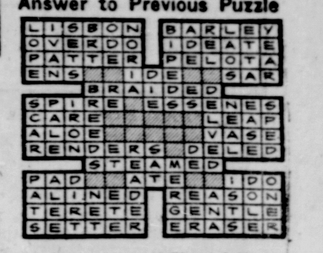
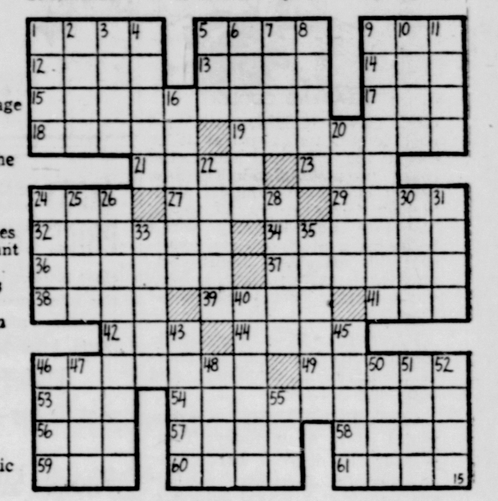
Answer to Previous Puzzle





Heavy Blasts Are Reported

Local police received a series of complaints of heavy blasting, apparently on the outskirts of the city Sunday morning.

The calls were received between 8:35 and 10:46 a. m., Sunday, and reports from other sources indicated that effects of blasts in the uptown area had been noticed earlier.

A check with state police disclosed that no blasting was done along the thruway, and the best information available to local police indicated that the blasting was being done in the area of Lucas avenue extension.

The complaints to police headquarters were from residents of Lucas and Clifton avenues, Crown, Fair, Henry, Pearl, Green, Liberty and Pine streets, and Johnston avenue.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By WARREN PAGE
(Shooting Editor)

Any cracker-barrel philosopher can make out a pretty good case that there are four kinds of hunters in the world.

There are the meat hunters, whose sole aim is to bring home some kind of wild bacon. There are the fun hunters, who don't much care a hoot whether they shoot anything or not, just so they get out into the woods or fields.

Then we can't miss the brag hunters, who slay or claim to have slain large critters so they can see their names in the papers. And finally the trophy hunters, who have no interest in shooting any animal unless it is a truly remarkable example of its species, and that preferably a hard species to hunt.

THE CHAP ON THE other side of the cracker-barrel may agree or disagree with such a four-way pigeon-holing according to whether he is more or less cynical. But he'll very likely agree that the brag and trophy type are the most interesting in the genius Nimrod.

Real dyed-in-the-wool trophy hunters are a breed all to themselves. I'm thinking of the rather small cluster of men who will research and plan for years toward the taking of one specific head, lay out every last ounce of cash and effort and then not pull trigger until and unless the ultimately perfect specimen is square in the sights.

BY AND LARGE, the non-hunting public tends to think of the big game hunter as a large red-faced character, six feet two and 225 pounds, capable of bulldogging Babe the Blue Ox and either outwrestling or outdrinking Paul Bunyan as necessary. There are such. Most of them in either the first or third categories. But not so the trophy hunter.

He may very possibly be a smallish chap, perhaps under 5 feet 10, quiet-spoken and more like Greta Garbo than Marlene Dietrich as far as his attitude toward publicity is concerned. Not at all the kind of guy who stands out in a crowd or plays the life of the party. One thing he has in common with all other trophy hunters is a steady purposefulness that can be satisfied only by honest success.

I KNOW A HALF dozen such. All look more like Joe Green than they do like Buffalo Bill. Their deeds remain unsung by the newspapers, though they're common knowledge at Rowland Ward's in London, or the Boone & Crockett Club, by the major natural history museums, or whatever true trophy hunters gather.

One, I remember, planned two years for a really big grizzly bear, shot a whopper, missed the world record by a sliver of skull length, and in the smile of a good sportsman voted with the committee that judged another head a hair better than his.

Real men, these, and an interesting tribe few of us know much about.

flooded with water, suffered "considerable damage." He said that it "cannot yet be estimated what the extent of damage was."

Streets which, in places, were under three feet of water halted traffic Saturday when the hardest rains fell.

Some business establishments reported seven or eight inches of water over the floors.

The town of 27,000, which also is the site of a navy base with 20,000 persons, received nearly eight and a half inches of rain during a three-hour period Saturday afternon. Its previous 24-hour rainfall record was 13.54 inches during a hurricane in October, 1933.

Wakefield Art Shown at Huston's

Oil paintings, line drawings and wash drawings by Manville B. Wakefield, one of the country's leading railroad illustrators, are on exhibit at Huston's Art Store on Broadway.

Wakefield, who is director of art at the Tri Valley Union Free School in Grahamsville, has done illustrations for Railroad Magazine, Model Railroader, Trains, Railroad Model Craftsmen, bulletins of the Railroad and Locomotive Historical Society, Railway Progress, and in books by Lucius Beebe.

A number of Wakefield's original oils recently hung at an exhibit at the Palmer House in Chicago.

His book jacket designs have appeared on the histories of the Illinois Central Railroad, the Milwaukee Road and the New York Central.

Wakefield's design and creative work in the three dimensional diorama field has also received wide acclaim. A model of the Delaware Water Gap at the New York Society of Model Engineers in Hoboken, N. J., has been the subject of articles in many widely read publications.

2-Way Radio Report Due for Vols Tuesday

A committee compiling information on two-way radio communication for the county's volunteer fire companies is expected to give a report Tuesday at a meeting of the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association in West Hurley.

The firemen, who will be guests of the West Hurley Fire Company, are also scheduled to hear a talk on fires of electrical origin. The meeting is due to start at 8 p. m.

The first practical steel writing pen was produced in England in the 18th Century.

Auctions on Saturdays

a ONE COAT outside paint that does the work of TWO coats!

DEVOE is proud to be the first paint manufacturer to introduce a one-coat House Paint. Devoe Wonder-1-Coat is truly remarkable. FOR NOW — just one coat does the work of two ordinary coats — gives the same long-lasting protection, the same long-lasting beauty as two ordinary coats. Wonder-1-Coat's tremendous hiding power — twice the hiding power of ordinary paint — and it's double film-thickness, make this possible.

Still Saving for a Rainy Day?
Some people use "a rainy day" as a reason for saving. "Rainy day" usually means a dire need for finances due to misfortune. However, this is only one small reason to save regularly. Savings gets what you want when you want it. Save regularly with us and be one of the wiser folks who "just happen" to have the things they want — because they saved for it!

FREE FOOT TEST
WEDNESDAY NOVEMBER 17
By special arrangements with Dr. Wm. M. Scholl, world-noted Foot Authority, one of his Special Representatives from Chicago Headquarters will be here to assist our regular staff in rendering this Free Pedo-graphic Foot Test Service.
It shows conditions of your arches and if they may be the cause of your foot and leg pains; shows with scientific accuracy, not only your exact shoe size and width, but the proper shape shoes you should wear for all day foot ease.
If you have corns, callouses, bunions, weak or fallen arches or any common foot trouble you will be shown how millions of foot sufferers have found quick, inexpensive relief through the use of Dr. Scholl's Comfort Remedies and Arch Supports.

The Weather

MONDAY, NOV. 15, 1954

Sun rises at 6:34 a. m.; sun sets at 4:23 p. m., E.S.T.
Weather, clear.

The Temperature

The lowest temperature recorded on The Freeman thermometer during the night was 34 degrees. The highest figure recorded up to noon today was 38 degrees.

Weather Forecast

NEW YORK CITY and vicinity—Sunny and cool this afternoon with temperatures in the 40's. Clear tonight, continued cool, lowest temperatures 35 to 40 in the city and along the coast, near 30 inland. Tuesday, partly cloudy and milder with highest temperatures 50 to 55. Moderate northwesterly winds becoming gentle north to northeast this afternoon. Light variable winds early tonight, becoming moderate east to southeast Tuesday.

EASTERN New York—Fair tonight with low 20 to 26. Tuesday, increasing cloudiness and becoming milder.

CITY ENGINEER'S weather report at 10 a. m. today: Temperature 36 degrees, barometric pressure 30.13 inches, relative humidity 52 per cent, wind NE at 10 MPH. High temperature yesterday 60 degrees at 1:45 p. m., 33 at 3 a. m. Mean 46.5, normal 43. Relative humidity 86 per cent at 9 a. m., 50 at 8 p. m. Barometric pressure 30.10 at 1 a. m., 29.67 at 2 p. m.

Freak Storm

flooded with water, suffered "considerable damage." He said that it "cannot yet be estimated what the extent of damage was."

Streets which, in places, were under three feet of water halted traffic Saturday when the hardest rains fell.

Some business establishments reported seven or eight inches of water over the floors.

The town of 27,000, which also is the site of a navy base with 20,000 persons, received nearly eight and a half inches of rain during a three-hour period Saturday afternon. Its previous 24-hour rainfall record was 13.54 inches during a hurricane in October, 1933.

Wakefield Art Shown at Huston's

Oil paintings, line drawings and wash drawings by Manville B. Wakefield, one of the country's leading railroad illustrators, are on exhibit at Huston's Art Store on Broadway.

Wakefield, who is director of art at the Tri Valley Union Free School in Grahamsville, has done illustrations for Railroad Magazine, Model Railroader, Trains, Railroad Model Craftsmen, bulletins of the Railroad and Locomotive Historical Society, Railway Progress, and in books by Lucius Beebe.

A number of Wakefield's original oils recently hung at an exhibit at the Palmer House in Chicago.

His book jacket designs have appeared on the histories of the Illinois Central Railroad, the Milwaukee Road and the New York Central.

Wakefield's design and creative work in the three dimensional diorama field has also received wide acclaim. A model of the Delaware Water Gap at the New York Society of Model Engineers in Hoboken, N. J., has been the subject of articles in many widely read publications.

2-Way Radio Report Due for Vols Tuesday

A committee compiling information on two-way radio communication for the county's volunteer fire companies is expected to give a report Tuesday at a meeting of the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association in West Hurley.

The firemen, who will be guests of the West Hurley Fire Company, are also scheduled to hear a talk on fires of electrical origin. The meeting is due to start at 8 p. m.

The first practical steel writing pen was produced in England in the 18th Century.

Auctions on Saturdays

Bob Steele's afternoon auctions are held every Saturday beginning at 12 p. m., not during the week as suggested in error in Friday's issue of The Freeman.
